EUROPEAN LABOR COMING IN AGAIN.

Immigration Halt Caused by Fear of 1907 Panic Is Gone and America Looks Good Once More.

SHOULD HEAD TO SOUTH.

Archaic Dixie Laws, However, Keep Foreigners Away from Place Where They Are Most Needed.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—[Special.]—Apparently the word has been passed around among the poorer classes in Europe that the United States is once more a good place to go to. When the panic came in 1907, the stream of European immigration into this country, particularly from Italy and the Danubian provinces, suddenly was stopped.

It was almost comical to see how quickly the poorer classes in southern and southeastern Europe took fright over the financial situation in the United States. In November, 1907, there were 132,647 aliens brought into this country. The following month, December, saw this number cut down to 77,107, and by February, 1908, only about 30,000 were reported at all of the receiving points.

The stories of the panic in New York and the suspension of payments by banks throughout the country instantly were reflected in Europe. Steerage passage in the Atlantic steamers went begging, so that for January of last year 27,175 more aliens left this country than came into it. There was a shrinkage in the foreign population continuously from December, 1907, immediately following the panic until the end of August last year.

America Once More on Up Grade.

About the end of the summer it became apparent from reports made by foreign settlers here to their friends at home that the financial panic had wasted away, and that America once more was on the up grade. As a result of this the tide of immigration began to flow slowly and then more rapidly into the United States, until during April, 1909, 116,754 immigrants were admitted into this country.

The indications are for a large addition to our foreign population during the next few months, and the temporary cessation following upon the panic is likely to be succeeded by abnormal figures during the present calendar year, bringing the total up well beyond the million mark. More than this, the departures are dropping off rapidly and the net increase in foreign population from this time on will be great.

During the time of our greatest prosperity the Europeans who came here for day labor were so prosperous that they did not find it profitable to return home again. For the fiscal year of 1907 there were nearly a million and a half aliens brought into the country, including many thousands who did not go to the immigration offices. The departures as far as they could be ascertained were less than half a million, so that in one year a net increase of our foreign born population was over a million people.

Increase Drops to 200,000.

For the fiscal year 1908 the total arrivals of aliens amounted to a fraction over 900,000. The total departures, as shown by actual figures, were approximately 700,000. The net increase in our foreign population for the year including and following the panic was therefore only about 200,000 people.

Now foreigners from Italy and southeastern Europe are coming with a rush, and they apparently are coming to stay. The figures prepared show a grand total of 157,047 arrivals for April, 1909, or nearly three times as many as during the corresponding month of last year. This grand total includes 1,283 aliens who were debarred, 17,382 who were naturalized citizens of the United States, and 21,628 who, although aliens, were not classed as immigrants. This leaves the figure first given of 116,754 as the total admission of actual immigrants into the United States in a single month.

Apparently southern Italians have been the first to make up their minds that the United States has recovered from its panic. The April figures show 35,856 from southern Italy and 4,504 from northern Italy, making a total of more than one-third of the entire immigration in April from the single nationality. Next to the Italians are the Poles, 10,798 in number. The Hebrews do not seem to have recovered from their financial distrust, because during the month there were only 2,801 of them admitted, whereas in 1906 they mounted up to the extraordinary total of 153,748, or an average of considerably over 12,000 a month.

Enormous Hebrew Gain Looked For.

At that time they ranked next to Italians in the way of additions to our alien population. Whether it is that the Hebrew is more cautious and takes alarm more quickly at financial depression remains to be seen, but the chances are that within a month or two there will be an enormous increase in this class of immigration, which generally is particularly undesirable, not at all because they are Hebrews, but merely because they seek merchandising pursuits and do not add to the agricultural or mechanical labor of the country to any large extent.

Under the new law the immigration bureau has been enabled to keep better track of the points of destination of the foreigners who come into this country. During the period from July 1, 1908, to March 1, 1909, there were 228,685 immigrant aliens admitted. As they furnish a constant source for the building up of the labor supply in this country, it is intensely interesting to notice how closely they follow the regular lines of travel. Half a dozen states get almost all the benefit of this increased labor supply, as follows:

New York	94,709	New Jersey	17,686
Pennsylvania	52,222	Ohio	13,478
Illinois	25,341
Massachusetts	22,069	Total	225,405

Six States Get Two-Thirds.

In other words, six states of the union received two-thirds of all the immigration for a period of eight months, and this, too, in spite of the fact that during that period 57,068 of the immigrants were classed as farm laborers, 58,064 as common laborers, and 32,584 as servants. Manifestly the great mass of foreigners coming to this country continue to be of a class which would be better off and have better prospects for the future if they went into villages and on farms instead of flocking to the cities, to railroad camps, to the mines, and to similar places of

SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

The science of health—i. e., sanitary science—as it stands today is a product of slow, painful, and costly evolution. For many centuries its one dominating thought was the cure of disease. During all these years of needless sickness and suffering there were no attempts made for the protection of communities by preventive methods.

Now all this is changed. We have reached a point where it is recognized that it is the duty of the state to teach, preach, and enforce measures for the prevention of all the diseases known to be amenable to sanitary administration. And with all this is coming the spread of sanitary knowledge among the people to the end that every citizen may aid in establishing and maintaining conditions that make for community health and happiness.

MADDEN WITNESS TELLS OF BRIBERY

Agent of Joseph Klicka & Co. Swears He Put $1,000 on Table Where "Skinny" Could Get It.

AND CASH DISAPPEARED.

First Witness Testifies He Was Forced to Double First Labor Peace Offer of Five Hundred Dollars.

The climax of the first day's testimony in the case against Martin B. ("Skinny") Madden, Fred A. Pouchot, and M. J. Boyle, charged with conspiracy in calling and settling strikes and extorting $1,000 from the Joseph Klicka company, came yesterday afternoon when George S. Andres, a constructing engineer who was employed at the Klicka factory, was placed on the witness stand.

Andres testified he paid Madden $1,000 in cash for calling off the strike at the Klicka building. He said that after a conference with Mr. Cooper, a member of the Klicka company, who told him he had a bad strike on at the picture frame plant, he hunted up Madden, Pouchot, and Boyle and asked them to give him the reasons for the strike.

Tells of Approaching Madden.

"Pouchot told me that certain things were being done about the building by nonunion men," said Andres. "A day later I met Madden and Pouchot and they told me they would see what could be done about the matter. Soon after that I saw Madden in a Clark street saloon. He took me into a little side office and I asked him what it would take to settle the strike. He told me he could not possibly discuss the matter with me, that Boyle was taking care of it. He told me to see Boyle. I didn't see Boyle, but a day or two later saw Madden again in the saloon. He accused me of trying to get the steamfitters' union to fine him."

"Just what did he say to you? Give the conversation," the witness was instructed.

"He said to me: 'You thought you were going to have me fined, but I tell you now that I'm running that strike and if you get it settled you'll have to see Madden.'

"Told to Bring the Dough."

"I said I wanted to settle the strike and asked him if he would accept $500.

"He said, 'Go to h—ll!'

"I said, 'Will $100 do?'

"He said, 'Nix.'

"Then I asked him if $1,000 would do, and he replied, 'Bring up the dough.' I went back to Klicka and got the check for $1,000 from him."

"What did you do then?"

"I had the check cashed and got ten $100 bills."

"What then?"

"I returned to the saloon, but did not find Madden. I did not find him again until the next night. Then I took him over to this little office and said, 'Madden, if I pay you this money, will you assure me the strike will be called off?' He told me not to worry, and then I said to him, 'Here's your money.'

Tells of Precautions.

"Then he said: 'I never took no money from you.'

"'What shall I do with it?' I asked.

"He told me to throw it on the floor or anywhere. I threw it over on a small desk that stood in the corner. We talked for a few minutes and then got up to go out. He reached for a blotter and threw it over the pile of money and the ink stand."

The witness testified that just prior to the beginning of the trial Madden called him up over the telephone and that the following conversation ensued:

"That you, Andres?"

"Yes."

"Well, this is Madden. You were summoned in that case against me. Now look here: remember you don't know nothing—you don't know nothing."

Denies He Discussed Graft.

On the cross examination of Andres Attorney Brady questioned him as to his business relations in California, where he lived prior to coming to Chicago. The witness denied in reply to questions that he ever had discussed with Brady how labor graft was conducted in San Francisco.

"Don't you remember that I visited you in your offices after the grand jury indictments were drawn in this case and that you told me men never could have been caught grafting in San Francisco if some of their own crowd had not squealed and that the way they passed money there was for the man who received it to be in a dark room and the man who gave it in a light room, so one could see and the other couldn't?" asked Brady.

"No, I never had any such conversation with you," was the reply.

Madden Says "Gee! A Cinch."

The court ordered a short recess after Andres had been dismissed from the stand. Madden went out into the corridor, where thirty or forty men waited for him. He was in a jocular mood and laughed uproariously when one of his friends poked him in the side and remarked: "I guess Wayman ain't getting after you, hey?"

Madden pulled a box of straw tipped cigarets from his pocket and passed them around in the crowd until but one was left. He didn't stop to light it, but twisted it to pieces and turned to the crowd following.

"There ain't nothing to it, is there?" he remarked. "Why, the judge won't never let it go much farther. The judge'll never let the jury out. It's a cinch if there ever was one.

Asks "What's $300?"

"Why, that fellow [referring to Andres and his testimony] they run out of California. They tied a can to him and he hiked for Chicago as fast as he could. He says he had $300 in the bank and an automobile. Well, that's a funny way to do business, ain't it?"

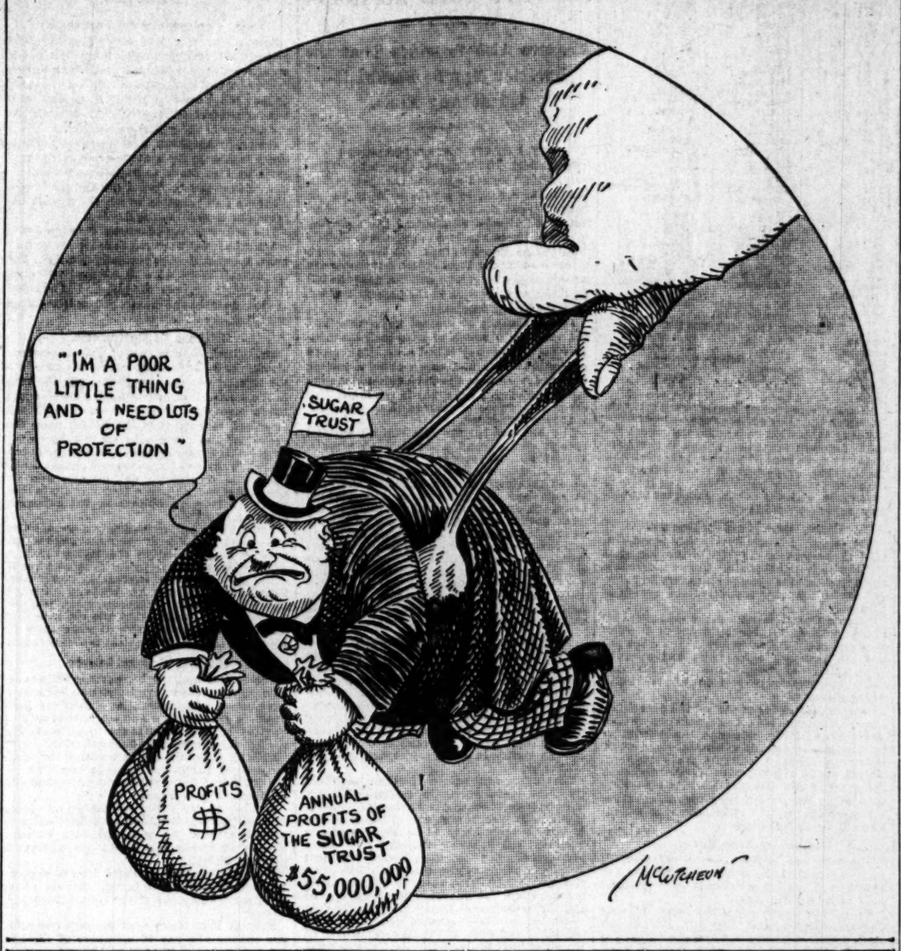

And the crowd about the labor czar loudly agreed. "They ain't got nuthin' on you, Skinny," a voice piped on the outskirts of the circle of admirers.

"Why, you all know that even a labor agent carries around three or four hundred in his pocket," Madden went on. "That ain't much to scrape up. That fellow says he threw the money on the floor. I suppose he thought the cat would get it.

"Why, they ain't got any proof what he did with the money. For all anybody knows

WHAT WILL THE SENATE DO? HOLD UP OR UPHOLD SUGAR TRUST?

'ADVICE' STIRS DEMOCRAT IRE

McGillen in Hot Water Because He Said "Stick to Stringer."

ANSWERS FULL OF STING.

Legislators Tell County Secretary His Nerve Is Appalling.

BY C. S. R.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—The Hon. John McGillen, who is conspicuous in Cook county political circles as secretary of the Democratic county central committee, was the cause of a big "mad" on the majority side of the house this afternoon. Mr. McGillen has the honorable members of the honorable Democracy all upset, and it is possible that, if it had not been for the intervening 186 miles of territory between Springfield and Chicago, the Cook county minority members would have made haste to fall on Mr. McGillen and kick him in the shins.

The cause of all these harsh feelings was the following telegram sent by Mr. McGillen to every Democratic member of the house from Cook county and signed by him and by William O'Connell, county chairman:

"We believe the best interests of the Democracy of Cook county require that you vote for Lawrence Stringer for United States senator. Let the Republicans settle their factional differences without Democratic interference. Defeats we have had and can withstand. Dishonorable surrender would bring disgrace and disintegration."

When this literary effort came over the wires to all the Cook county Democrats the big "mad" started. The Democratic legislators were moved by Mr. McGillen's effort as they would by a cry of "stop thief."

Some of Answers Sent.

Some time later in the day messenger boys must have begun to arrive in large numbers at 91 Clark street, where the county central committee lives and has its official being, carrying the replies of the Democratic statesmen to the secretary.

Thomas J. O'Brien of the Twenty-first district felt himself so aggrieved that he used many words in telling the Hon. Mr. McGillen what he thought of him. His thoughts were expressed as follows:

Mr. John McGillen, 91 Clark street, Chicago: Your telegram at hand and contents carefully noted. I represent the Twenty-first district in the state legislature. I have consistently voted for Stringer eighty-six times, never voting for any one else. I want to say to you, Mr. McGillen, as secretary of the county central committee, that this telegram comes from you to me in poor grace. Last fall, when I was a candidate for reelection, I had to go before the people of my district, and I was elected by the voters of that district and not by the county central committee. If I am to take orders from any one I will consult the people of that district and not John McGillen in this matter. You speak of the United States senatorship. I will vote as I please without consulting you.

THOMAS J. O'BRIEN.

John P. Walsh was satisfied with only five words in which to give his opinion. They were:

John McGillen, 91 Clark Street, Chicago: Who the h—l are you?

JOHN P. WALSH.

Cermak Is Rather Curt.

Anton J. Cermak also was curt in letting the secretary know that his favor had been received. He said:

"John McGillen, 91 Clark Street, Chicago: I have your wire. I need no advice.

ANTON J. CERMAK."

Mr. Abrahams was so peeved with the advice which was handed to him in the message from Mr. McGillen that he was prone to consider that the honorable secretary was unfit to be a fellow Democrat. He stated his doubts as to the right of the advisor to instruct Democrats thusly:

"John McGillen, 91 Clark Street, Chicago: I represent the Seventeenth senatorial district as a Democrat. I am 31 years old. I know how to vote without your advice. I hope you will mind your own business, as I am a Democrat, and that is more than you are.

"M. ABRAHAMS."

George C. Hilton also had his doubts as to the propriety of Mr. McGillen's taking it upon himself to give advice. He recalls that the secretary did not do all that he might have done to aid his last campaign, and thinks the people of the district his best advisors. His message was:

"John McGillen, 91 Clark Street, Chicago: I received your telegram and was greatly surprised to understand that I had to take orders from a man of your ability. I do not know really whether you are a Democrat or not, but I know that I am one and that I always shall be. I will vote to suit my district and myself on all matters. When I was a candidate for state representative I got no assistance from you or your kind. I do not think you are entitled to any from me. I have represented the Fourth senatorial district for two successive terms and will abide by the wishes of the people of that district, and not yours.

"GEORGE C. HILTON."

Claim McGillen Aids Hopkins.

There were many other similar expressions of patriotism which the legislators hope reached Mr. McGillen and hit him on the shin. Mr. McGillen is in extremely "bad" with the statesmen of his party. They are unkind enough to say that he is working for Albert J. Hopkins indirectly. He has caused it to happen that there are a number of Democratic members of the legislature tonight who are more willing to lend aid and comfort to Mr. Lorimer than they have been in the past.

The congressman still is counting votes. His friends say that he can count nearly enough. It is certain that his candidacy will not be started until the winning votes are within reach and ready for use.

He himself is extremely confident that he will be able to muster a sufficient number and is working constantly to secure the necessary majority of a joint session. The Hopkins following is just as confident that enough Hopkins votes will remain true to prevent the election of any other candidate by Republican votes.

The eighty-ninth ballot gave the following result: Hopkins, 78; Foss, 18; Mason, 2; Shurtleff, 19; Lorimer, 1; Yates, 1; Sherman, 2; McKinley, 2; Calhoun, 1; Lowden, 1; Stringer (Dem.), 36; Edward F. Dunne (Dem.), 18.

DICKINSON, ILL. CUTS TRIP; IS ON WAY TO WASHINGTON.

Secretary of War, Suffering from Serious Trouble, Defers Interview with Gomez at Havana.

HAVANA, May 19.—The visit of the American secretary of war, Jacob M. Dickinson, to Havana has been cut short, owing to his illness, and the United States converted yacht Mayflower, on which he arrived here yesterday, sailed at 10 o'clock tonight with the secretary and party aboard. Secretary Dickinson will be taken direct to Washington.

He has been confined to his stateroom for three days, suffering from bladder trouble. His condition is not alarming, but there was a slight fever during the day, indicating some inflammation, and the attending physician decided that it would not be advisable for him to remain longer in a warm climate.

It was the original intention of the secretary to remain in Havana until Friday to await the arrival of Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Maj. Gen. Franklin Bell and the other members of the party came ashore and called upon President Gomez. They visited Camp Columbia and other points of interest.

Secretary Dickinson sailed from Charleston, S. C., for the isthmus of Panama on the Mayflower on April 21, arriving at Colon on April 28 after a brief stop at Kingston, Jamaica.

During his stay on the isthmus the secretary was busily occupied in inspecting the canal and studying canal affairs.

On the arrival of the Mayflower at Havana on Tuesday the secretary was unable to go ashore. It was his intention to confer with President Gomez, but the meeting of necessity will be postponed.

SHIP IN ICE; 500 ON BOARD

Steamer Mongolian at Standstill Near St. John's, Newfoundland.

VESSEL STILL HOLDS OWN.

Fishermen Report That Damage to Hull Has Not Been Found.

St. Johns, N. F., May 19.—[Special.]—The Allan line steamer Mongolian is tightly wedged in a thick ice pack a mile off this port tonight, and there is danger of the craft being forced ashore by the tides. There are about 500 passengers on board.

Bodies of men, in preparation for any untoward contingency, are being stationed at convenient points tonight, so as to afford help if occasion demands. If the worst does not happen the ship may remain where it is for several days before the wind changes and drives the ice off the coast.

Just returned from the ice packed waters of Belle Isle straight, where she had been abandoned by its crew and later rescued, the costal steamer Prospero also lies wedged in the ice, between the Mongolian and the shore.

The Prospero was sent out to take off the passengers and mails of the Mongolian, but had past passed the harbor mouth when the ice barrier became impregnable, and further headway was impossible. There it kept company during the night with the Mongolian, which was equally helpless in the unrelenting grip of the ice.

First Fight with Floes Steady.

The Mongolian, which left Glasgow on May 5, and Liverpool a few days later for this port, Halifax, and Philadelphia, had met the first of the great fields of ice yesterday, but up to this morning the steamer's progress was fairly steady.

With the approach to land, where the harbors had been packed by the drifting floes so that the irregular formations extended far out to sea, the Mongolian met more strenuous resistance. Even before Cape Race had been sighted the combat between the steamer and ice had become a reality and the best seamanship of Capt. Williams and his officers had to be exercised.

Literally inch by inch the Mongolian forced its way through the drifting mass until a position about a mile off the narrow harbor opening had been gained. There it stopped, the power of the engines and the stout hull unable to successfully cope with the great, irregular stretches of ice.

Damage to Plates Not Discovered.

The steamer's efforts to run the blockade are believed to have injured some of the bow plates, but a number of fishermen who managed to reach its side over the closely packed floes could discern no appreciable damage. During the evening the combined action of wind and tide strengthened the grip of the floes, and the Mongolian was completely surrounded, unable to advance or recede.

Although assured that they were in no immediate danger, the passengers on board the Mongolian crowded the decks to witness the combat which resulted in the enthrallment of the steamer. When it was seen that it could neither advance nor retrace its path to a position of more safety there was little demonstration other than of anxious interest.

The proximity of the Mongolian to the shore made its position a dangerous one, but even should it be driven on the rocks there would be hope for those on board.

ARREST PROMINENT YOUNG MAN.

Supposed Nephew of Ex-Gov. Van Sant of Minnesota Charged with Passing Bad Checks.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19.—[Special.]—Paine Taylor, a young attorney, said to be a nephew of former Gov. Van Sant of Minnesota, was arrested today charged with passing worthless checks. He is said to have confessed. Friends of the family say Taylor and his brother Ralph have gone through $10,000 life insurance left by their father, T. B. Taylor, who died last August.

HOPE OF CHARTER GONE FOR PRESENT

Both Houses of Legislature Slaughter Bill No. 1, Basis of Fight for Better City Government.

CLOSE VOTE IN SENATE.

Two Cook County Members, Under United Societies' Influence, Aid Anti-Chicago Efforts.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—The Chicago charter has been gathered to its fathers. The third attempt to secure remedial legislation under the constitutional amendment adopted by the people of the whole state in 1904 has been a failure.

One attempt, in the legislature of 1905, proved ineffectual and brought forth nothing of consequence other than an act lengthening the mayor's term to four years. Another in the legislature of 1907, brought out a complete charter which the people of the city rejected. The third has brought nothing but complete failure.

What the people of the state, in adopting the constitutional amendment, said they were willing that Chicago should have has been denied by the representatives of these people.

By a vote of 34 to 97 the consolidation bill was defeated this afternoon in the house of representatives. By a vote of 21 to 26 the senate refused to reconsider the vote by which the consolidation bill was defeated in the upper branch last week.

Last Hope Now Is Gone.

There was nothing more to be done. The last efforts to secure charter legislation had proved ineffectual, and the charter was dead. If the consolidation bill could not be passed there was no hope for the others in the series, and without the consolidation bill they would fail to give the measure of relief needed.

There remains for Chicago only the bond and revenue bills, which are in committee in the senate, and the possibility that some of the special powers sought in the charter series can be obtained by amendments to the cities and villages act.

If the bond bills can be obtained a substantial relief from revenue problems will be secured, but they face the governor's veto unless a referendum bill, requiring that all bond issues be submitted to the citizens for adoption, be passed along with them.

Other than this what can be obtained from the legislature now will be only crumbs. They are crumbs badly wanted by a city which had some reason to believe that it might be given a satisfying meal by the assembly, but they will be accepted as far better than nothing.

Saloon Offer Is Refused.

The consolidation bill was doomed in advance in both houses. An attempt had been made in the morning, when the fate of the bill to amend the local option law was not fully decided, to make a trade between the charter supporters and the forces backing the attempt to eliminate the township feature from the anti-saloon act.

A proposal to trade on this basis was put up to Representative Kittleman, who immediately rejected it.

"If the charter bill cannot go through on its merits it can be defeated," he said.

As it proved, the liquor men did not need Chicago charter votes, and later in the day the charter certainly did not receive their votes.

The charter in the house action was given the votes of just five down state members, including that of Speaker Shurtleff. The other four were Representatives Chiperfield of Fulton, Cliffe of De Kalb, Durfee of Pope, Zinger of Tazewell.

Cook County Men with Enemy.

Twenty-three Cook county representatives voted against the bill. They were:

Abrahams,	William Murphy,
Beck,	Murray,
Cermak,	Naylor,

When Gov. Deneen calls an extra session of the legislature, as he is expected to do, he will be asked to include in his call the Chicago charter legislation. It is a forlorn hope to expect that he will do so, but the proposition will be put up to him.

Plans for New Fight Laid.

The immediate steps which the men who have stood in the front of the charter fight propose to take are being planned by the city administration chiefly, which feels the first force of the blow of the charter setback.

Amendments were drawn this afternoon to senate bill 213, which has passed the senate and which was reported this morning to the house, providing for amendments to the cities and villages act. Assistant Corporation Counsel Day and Walter L. Fisher worked out the first draft of the amendments, which have not yet been perfected. They will be aimed at saving what may be out of the charter wreckage.

Three main points will be sought in the proposed amendments which will be offered in the house committee on municipal corporations tomorrow, provided the senate bill is referred to that committee, embracing these items:

Subway construction.

Harbor development and municipal control over submerged lands necessary for the harbor system.

Electrification of railroad terminals.

Possibly other points may be ultimately embraced within the board provisions under which the amendments must be drawn in order to be constitutional and in accord with the theory of the cities and villages act which applies to all of the municipalities in the state. They are the main items which could have been secured to Chicago, had the public utilities bill been brought up for passage in the event that the consolidation bill received favorable consideration by the legislature.

Mr. Fisher and Mr. Day went over the rough ground of the proposed amendments and tonight Ald. Foreman, B. J. Mullaney, representing Mayor Busse, and the legislative leaders are closeted with Mr. Day in getting the amendments into shape for submission to the legislature tomorrow.

The other alternative is proposed by Senator Curtis. He believes that the charter is still a live issue. He advises Chicago to get busy at once with a campaign of education, chiefly within its own borders and directed at the Cook county members of the legislature, preparing them for an extra session of the legislature which he expects to be called for September or October, provided, of course, that Gov. Deneen will include the charter in a call for an extra session.

Last Appeal in House.

Representative Kittleman, chairman of the house charter committee, in calling the consolidation bill up for passage in the lower branch, made one last and, even in advance, apparently hopeless appeal to the down state Republicans and the Democrats to be reasonable.

He knew as he spoke that he was whistling in vain against a high wind and that the votes to snow under the last chance Chicago had to get charter legislation were only waiting the call of the roll. He endeavored to tell the legislators that the bill which was offered to them for action was drafted by men especially fitted and in a position to work wisely for the best interests of the city.

"I realize the importance of the vote to be taken here this afternoon," he said. "I know the destinies of Chicago for a generation are bound up in it. I know, also, that there is no valid reason why any member of this house should vote against this bill or why he should not vote to allow the city to consolidate its taxing bodies and to give it the increase in its bonding powers which are sought.

"It is the duty of the state to give the city a chance to meet its obligations. The opposition tells us that Chicago shall have nothing until it is willing to consent to a restriction of its representation in the general assembly. To that we answer that in this bill there is no attempt to give Chicago powers of local self-government. Bill No. 1 in the charter series which you have before you attempts only to allow the city to concentrate in one unity its present diversified administrative functions.

Chicago Asks Only Justice.

"That has nothing to do with Chicago's representation in the general assembly. It may be that the city ought to send down here legislative delegations of a higher grade. We hear the statement that the people of the downstate districts cannot trust themselves to the legislators who come here from Chicago.

"It seems to me that the test of that statement is in the kind of laws which are passed by this assembly and by the aid of votes from Cook county the proof of good legislation is to be found in statute books, and it is there to speak for the Chicago legislators.

"You must show where Chicago's representation in the general assembly does harm to the rest of the state. Our representation is based on the same ratio of population as yours. We represent the people of the state of Illinois, as you do. You must show us wherein we do harm to the state by being here before an argument for restriction can be made good.

"Such an issue is not rightly raised in connection with this bill. I feel that if the house will pass it this afternoon Chicago will be convinced that the state meant what it said when it passed the constitutional amendment under which this bill is presented to you. Chicago asks you for this legislation, and the Chicago members hope and trust that you will give the city the relief for which it is asking."

Browne Takes Up the Attack.

A few scattered efforts at applause followed the speech by Mr. Kittleman, but it was apparent that he had been talking to a house already convinced—and, as results showed, overwhelmingly opposed to the measure.

Representative Lee O'Neil Browne took the floor against the bill, referring to the fact that Mr. Kittleman is not a resident of Chicago, but of Berwyn.

Browne then took up an editorial published in a Chicago newspaper and used it to illustrate his theory that the Cook county Democrats were being clubbed into voting against their better judgment and for a bill to which they and their party were opposed.

He declared that his own position had been misrepresented, and that, although he was in favor of restriction as a remedy to protect downstate districts, he did not regard that as a completely effective remedy.

"My position is just this," he said. "If Chicago comes to me and says: 'Browne, we want our city so fixed that your vote in the legislature will not affect us,' then I say to Chicago: 'All right, but then fix it so that the vote of no Chicago member can affect my district.' That's fair. If Chicago wants local self-government, if Chicago wants to be made independent of the votes of downstate legislators, then make the rest of the state independent of the votes of the Chicago legislators.

Says It Is Rejected Plan.

"The position I took the other day in this house I still maintain. I say that this bill is not wanted either downstate or in Chicago. This bill is a part of the act which was rejected by the people of Chicago two years ago. It is a chunk out of that rejected act. It would be beaten again if it were submitted to the voters of Chicago. To demonstrate that fact it would cost at least $70,000—just to demonstrate to the satisfaction of Fisher, Foreman, et al., that the city does not want their charter. This legislature is not interested in equipping a culture station for the germination of the political theories of Fisher, Foreman, et al.

"They tell us that the bonding power under this bill would be increased to $28,000,000. I am informed that it would be more nearly $90,000,000, and we are asked to fasten this load of obligations on the city.

"They tell us there is a referendum which protects the people. I tell you that it is a craftily drawn provision and means no referendum. I am opposed to this bill and I trust that enough members of this house are opposed to it to insure its defeat."

Church Gives Browne Answer.

Representative Church endeavored to answer Browne's statement that the voters of the city had rejected the charter passed two years ago.

"The people of Chicago are asking for this bill," he said. "You see their representatives here before you asking for it. The fact that the charter of two years ago was defeated is no argument. That act was lost because it was cumbered by things which never ought to have been placed in it. It contained a city primary law. It contained a city civil service law. Worse than either of these, it attempted a redistricting of the city wards. That was a mistake—a serious mistake.

"These and other provisions which were put in the old charter act by mistakes in judgment are not found in this bill, and the people do want it. No matter what you are told by the opposition, the people of Chicago want the relief which this bill will give them."

With that the roll call was started and the landslide discended on the charter. It was interrupted once or twice as a representative explained his vote, but the house was reluctant to hear much oratory. It wanted the vote taken and the agony ended.

Representative Carter endeavored to discuss the educational features of the measure and was listened to impatiently until he and Representative Sollitt fell out by the ears over a discussion of the ages of the house pages and why they were permitted to work if they were under legal age.

How Mr. Carter maneuvered the discussion into this channel is not yet understood by the rest of the house, but he and Mr. Sollitt went at it hot and heavy over the question of whether the legislature was employing boys who ought to be in school. The house, being amused, woke up briefly by Mr. Sollitt and Mr. Carter, ended their discussion and the house memorandum roll call went on.

Result Never in Doubt.

The result was not in doubt from the first moment. The charter was beaten by a vote of 84 to 97. The roll call was as follows:

Browne immediately moved that the vote by which the bill had been defeated be reconsidered. A motion to lay this motion on the table followed immediately and it was carried. The last hope of charter legislation had faded. The supporters of the bill made no effort to preserve any rights. The tail was thrown in with the hide and charter legislation became a dead issue.

Calm, Cold Cuts in Senate.

The senate was absolutely cold blooded in its transactions leading up to the last rites for the consolidation bill. It was not visible to the naked eye that the senators from the downstate territory permitted the benefit of clergy.

Senator Curtis called up the consolidation bill as soon as the special order of the day was reached. He spoke briefly upon the bill and no response came from any senator. Each mind had been made up finally and definitely apparently, and nobody wished to argue the case.

Senator Curtis declared that the consolidation bill applied only and singularly to Chicago, that in his judgment the restriction proposition or any other general proposition involving Chicago and the state at large should not be allowed to become enmeshed in the pending bill. He pleaded with his fellow downstate senators to join him in granting Chicago the relief which the city asked. Then the roll call began.

Lost by Five Votes.

The vote was 21 for the consolidation bill and 26 against. To have won out the bill would have had to have twenty-six votes, and so it failed by five votes.

Two Cook county senators—Broderick and Jandus—voted against the bill. Four downstate senators—Curtis of Kankakee, Hearn of Adams, Olson of Lake, and Stewart of Kane—voted with the seventeen loyal Cook county men.

There were no spectacular features attending the function of jamming the life out of the present charter movement. There was a call of the absentees, four of the senators sitting silently in their seats. None of them responded. They were Andrus of Winnebago, Downing of Lee, Dunlap of Champaign, and Hay of Sangamon. The roll was verified and it became the duty of Lieut. Gov. Oglesby to make the formal announcement that the spark had fluttered its last and that life was extinct.

Jandus and Broderick have stood pat against the charter bills all through their senate career. The influence of the United Societies is held to be largely responsible for their action. The downstate contingent did the rest.

Quincy Man for "Fair Deal."

Senator Hearn, Democrat, of Quincy, voted for the reconsideration motion "so as to give Chicago a fair deal," he said later. Upon the question of passage he would have voted against the bill, he said.

Curtis, Olson, and Stewart doubtless would have voted for the bill on its final passage. Of the quartet not voting Senator Hay said he would have voted with Chicago if his vote would have been effective. Senator Dunlap of Champaign stood for the restriction proposition before giving Chicago anything, he said. Andrus and Downing were against the bill and did not care to go upon the official record. The following is the roll call:

Fisher Still Is Hopeful.

"Chicago has not surrendered. A battle has been lost. We have been beaten back, but we have not surrendered by any means." This was the comment of Walter L. Fisher at the close of hostilities.

"Eventually Chicago will win out and in a greater measure than the city has asked for at this time," said Mr. Fisher. "The situation which we have found in Springfield is of the sort to arouse Chicago. I am certain that this seeming defeat will react. It is the business of Chicago to inquire into the cause of it. Chicago commercial enterprises and Chicago business interests are not going to leave Chicago without having made a thorough investigation of the reason for the defeat of wholesome Chicago measures by the Illinois legislature.

"No, I do not feel that Chicago is whipped. The fact that wholly groundless and childish arguments were proposed at the last moment settles the fact that Chicago has been right at every stage of the proceedings."

Milton J. Foreman, chairman of the charter convention, did not hang the headquarters flag at half mast. "It may be considered a temporary setback," he said. "The effect, in my opinion, will be to arouse Chicago sentiment to the point where Chicago will get exactly what it needs under the constitutional amendment."

Curtis Sees Chance Ahead.

Senator Edward C. Curtis, chairman of the senate charter committee, said: "I made the best fight possible. I was sincerely for the charter bills and I was and am opposed to the objections which were raised as such against the charter bills. There will be an opportunity to get charter legislation for Chicago if the city will start at once and prepare for a special session of the legislature. There should be a campaign of education and all preparations made for a hard battle next fall and the submission of the charter bills, which I believe will then be passed to the voters next April."

"Of course, I am disappointed," said Chairman Kittleman of the house charter committee. "I had expected a more sane and sober judgment upon the part of the house. The roll call demonstrated beyond doubt just where the charter bills have stood at every stage. I doubt greatly that any successful effort to pass the charter bills could have been made against the opposition, which was forced to show its colors today."

A Booklet for Investors.

The Harris Trust and Savings Bank, 204 Dearborn street, Chicago, has just issued a booklet, entitled "Bonds for Safe Investment," intended for the use of persons planning to invest in bonds for the first time. Its aim is to explain in simple terms the purposes and uses of the various classes of bonds, and to indicate the value of bonds as safe investments for individuals as well as institutions. Copies may be had free upon request to the bank.—Adv.

LIQUOR FORCES SCORE VICTORY.

House Passes Bill Killing the Township Provision of Local Option Law.

COUNTRY VOTE NO GOOD.

Measure Also Provides That the Question May Be Resubmitted at Any Time.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—"Demon Rum" kicked a hole in the local option law today when, by a vote of 78 to 70, the house passed the bill presented by the committee on license eliminating the township provision from the local option law. While the damage is done so far as the lower branch is concerned, the local option advocates are certain that the senate will not pass the bill and that no alteration in the present law will be made by the assembly.

The opponents of the act knew they had the votes with which to pass their amendatory bill before they called it up. The record shows that they had barely enough, having only one more than the constitutional majority required to pass a bill in the house, but other votes were in reserve to be called out if they were needed.

The bill was thrown into rollcall without speech making and went through rapidly. It provides that the word "township," as defined in the act, which contains definitions of all the terms used in the law, shall not include any city, village, or incorporated town. It also provides that nothing in the local option law shall be a bar to the resubmitting of the anti-saloon question in any political division which lies wholly or in part within another political division to which the question already has been submitted and decided against the saloons. Further, it provides that liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent of ethyl alcohol may be sold in anti-saloon territory.

Long Fight Over Feature.

This township feature was one of the main issues two years ago when the legislature was persuaded to pass the law. Originally the local option forces asked that the law provide for a submission of the question by counties, but to get their bill through they consented to the elimination of the county feature and the act was restricted to permit the submission to cities, towns, villages, and townships.

Succeeding anti-saloon elections have justified the fears which the saloon and liquor interests had of the township provisions. The small cities, towns, and villages, which, if left to themselves to decide the saloon question, might have remained "wet," have been voted "dry" by the voters in the rural districts outside of the limits of municipalities but joined with them in the township organization. It has been the argument of the liquor representatives that the law, in operating to these results, worked a manifest injustice, and some of the representatives of the cities have protested, both elements holding that it was unfair to give the deciding vote to the communities which had no financial interest in the question, which did not benefit from the payment of the saloon licenses and which had no concern in the financial affairs of the community which they voted dry.

The effect of this house bill, if it were passed by the senate and became effective, would be not only to take the cities and villages out of the control of rural parts of the township but it would permit such cities and villages as have been voted dry to resubmit the question at any time.

The present law prohibits the resubmission of the saloon question to a political division which has voted against the saloons within eighteen months after the election at which such result was obtained.

Senate Action in Doubt.

The senate, to which the bill now goes, passed a bill by Senator Potter which would have accomplished some such results as are sought to be obtained by this house bill, but it was defeated in the house. The character of the Potter bill was not thoroughly understood when the senate passed it, and for that reason its action in that case is not indicative of an intention to pass the house bill.

FIRE ESCAPE BILL FOR CHICAGO READY FOR GOVERNOR'S ACTION

Measure Urged by Board of Education and Building Department Passed by Senate—Home Rule Granted.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—The fire escape bill, strongly urged for passage by the Chicago city administration, the board of education and the building department, was passed by the senate this afternoon and will be laid before the governor for his signature tomorrow. It is the understanding that Gov. Deneen will attach his signature and that the bill will become a law.

It grants to Chicago practically home rule over its building ordinances, especially the provisions regarding fire escapes, and the full force of the city hall and of the board of education was thrown to securing the passage of the bill.

It navigated the house successfully and in the senate met with no serious opposition. In calling up the bill Senator Gorman referred to a communication from Dwight F. Perkins, architect of the Chicago board of education, which declared that if the Chicago schoolhouses had to be equipped with fire escapes in conformity with the state law the outside walls would be one mass of fire escapes and light into the schoolrooms would be obscured.

Perkins' letter continued that the policy of the school board is to build absolutely fireproof school buildings and that proper observance of reasonable building regulations, changed from time to time by the Chicago city council to suit changing conditions, would be much more sensible than to attempt to follow a general state law.

The senate agreed with this view and with the argument from Chicago's building department and passed the house bill by a vote of 30 to 3.

GILBERT PRACTICE ACT WINS

Senate Indorses Measure Fought by the Lawyers.

BUSIEST DAY OF THE SESSION

Upper Branch of the Legislature Passes Many Bills.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—The practice act, revolutionizing practice in every state court of Illinois, civil and criminal, was passed by the senate this afternoon. It is the Gilbert bill, drawn by Hiram T. Gilbert, and has furnished food for much comment during the session of the general assembly.

Generally speaking, it is opposed by nearly every lawyer in the state because it is necessary, as they see it, to begin again the practice of law and to forget the ancient line of pleading and practice which the Gilbert bill attempts to send to the discard.

The bill was called up by Senator Jones when all hands, including Senator Jones, perhaps, thought it to be perfectly decrepit. Yet on rollcall there were 26 affirmative votes, just enough to pass the bill, and 12 against. It now goes to the house before it becomes anything like a statute.

Gilbert Is Optimistic.

Mr. Gilbert, who has been present conscientiously and continually since it came into the legislature, declared, following the vote in the senate, that he had assurance from the house side that enough votes have been promised to pass it in the house, upon the provision that the senate would send it over with its O. K. The senate furnishes the necessary O. K. by today's action and former Judge Gilbert is accordingly enthusiastic over its chances of reaching Gov. Deneen. Up to that stage he is quite optimistic, but deponent sayeth no further.

The Gilbert bill, in its original form, holds the record as the most voluminous bill which ever was presented to the legislature. It had to be carried in by two clerks when it came back from the engrossing committee. Tremendous changes are made in all court procedure, and if it becomes a law it is admitted on all hands that the old school of Illinois lawyers will have to start anew in legal lore as it is practiced at the Illinois bar.

Busiest Day in Senate.

The senate had the busiest day of the session. There was intermission only for lunch, even after joint ballot, and then the high pressure was applied and a school of bills of greater or less importance went traveling toward the overloaded house calendar.

Dellenback's bill, 136, concerning the adulteration of turpentine, was passed, 36 to 0, much against the wishes of certain industrial interests, it is declared.

Senator Bailey called up his bill providing that all railroad engines used habitually as switch engines be equipped with running boards, front and rear lights, etc., and got it through 28 to 3.

Senator Pemberton passed his bill regarding unpaid deposits in banks after ten years of idleness recurring to the county treasury, 30 to 0.

Senator Humphrey sent through two bills, one raising the pay of members of the live stock board from $5 to $10 a day and regulating the inspection of diseases of cattle. The other was the forest preserve bill, which was passed four years ago, but failed of ratification in the referendum election.

Manny's burial insurance bill caused a big stir at the afternoon session and after a bitter wrangle between downstate senators the Cook county men holding aloof, the bill was killed, receiving but ten votes. The bill referred to the forcing of mutual burial associations down state to incorporate with at least $10,000 capital stock. It was a contest between nonincorporated mutual burial companies and the organized undertakers of the state.

Bills Passed in Senate.

Other bills passed by the senate during the day were:

Gardner, 265, providing that foreign wills may be admitted to probate in any county in which the testator had property, 32-1.

Jones, 312, taking the privilege of dieting prisoners from the sheriff of Cook county and providing that the county commissioners shall buy all supplies necessary for the county jail, 42-8.

Lundberg, 120, providing that fire insurance companies may invest their capital in approved stock and bonds and mortgages.

Juul, 414, providing that the municipal art commission shall consist of six members and shall act upon all city work in cases involving over $200, an amendment to the city beautiful law.

Manny, 502, changing the time of holding Circuit court in Brown and Schuyler counties.

Curtis, 504, changing the time of holding Circuit court in Grundy county.

Henson, 507, concerning the detention of idiots at the feeble minded institution at Lincoln.

Lish, 326, providing for the expenses of the Pontiac reformatory.

McElvain, 355, for the expenses of the Chester penitentiary.

Hurburgh, 517, for the expenses of normal schools.

Hamilton, 488, amending the local improvement law to provide for longer advertising of bids.

Landee, 172, extending the powers of the railroad and warehouse commission over intersecting railroads.

Gardner, 457, authorizing the furnishing of certain stationery to county officers by counties.

Tables Dunning Bill.

The senate appropriations committee tonight tabled the house bill appropriating $335,000 for taking over Dunning insane asylum by the state, which probably means that the bill is defeated and that Cook county will still continue to be responsible for Dunning in the future.

Senator Juul succeeded in passing senate bill 482 this morning upon a motion to reconsider, which applies particularly to the Oak Park schools. Under the terms of the bill, which was passed by a vote of 32 to 1, Oak Park is enabled to increase its tax levy from 2½ per cent to 5½ per cent, provided that the total levy is not in excess of 5 per cent. In effect the bill permits Oak Park to levy an additional 1 per cent for high school purposes, provided that the voters of the district authorize the levy.

REFUSE TO PASS PAROLE BILL OVER GOV. DENEEN'S VETO.

Senators Vote 22 to 18 on Question of Overriding Will of Executive on the Breidt Measure.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—By a margin of twelve votes the senate today refused to pass the Breidt parole bill over the veto of Gov. Deneen, notwithstanding a bitter fight in which administration and anti-administration lines were badly shattered.

The vote was 22 for passing the bill over the veto of Gov. Deneen and 18 against. Under the rules, a two-thirds vote was necessary, or 34, and so the governor's veto stands and the bill, which would seriously have changed the existing indeterminate sentence law, is dead beyond resurrection.

There was considerable comment aroused in the senate over the statement published in the morning papers and ascribed to State's Attorney Wayman of Cook county, and the feeling was carried into the hot debate which followed the presentation of the Deneen veto message.

Senator Isley, a southern Illinois Democrat, was the aggressor. He talked about all sorts of spooky things, which he said Gov. Deneen attempted in vetoing the bill. Senator Ettelson said he considered himself a thorough going administration senator.

"If I thought this were an administration affair, I should vote with the side of Gov. Deneen," he said, "but I do not think this can be construed as such. I think that the attorney general is clearly wrong in pronouncing this bill unconstitutional, and, therefore, I shall vote to pass the bill over the governor's veto."

ATTACK ON DOCK GAINS.

Many Other Measures Receive Favorable Action in the Lower Branch.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—By a vote of 99 to 8 the house this afternoon passed Representative O'Toole's bill abolishing the doctrine of fellow servant and establishing employer's liability for injuries received by his employés in hazardous and dangerous occupations. The labor unions which are back of the bill do not count strongly on its ability to pass the senate. The corporation interests seemingly are relying on one house to kill what the other house passes or the governor to veto what both unite in passing, but unless the senate stops this particular bill it is likely to become a law, Mr. Deneen's veto being extremely doubtful.

The only effort the employers have made to stop the O'Toole measure was to suggest that a commission be appointed to study the European methods of dealing with liability questions. The labor men said they would talk compromise when the O'Toole bill had been passed and nothing further has been heard of the commission scheme, although it may be brought forward in the senate when this liability measure reaches that branch.

Other Bills House Passes.

Among the other bills passed by the house were the following:

Beck, house bill 411—Prohibiting the placing of billboards and structures for advertising purposes within 500 feet of a park or boulevard in cities of over 100,000 population.

By the committee on municipal corporations—Giving to the cities and villages the power to license billboard advertising and to regulate the character and control the location of billboards, sign boards, and signs on vacant property and on buildings.

Bush—Increasing the salary of the secretary of the railroad and warehouse commissioner to $3,000.

Murray—Repealing the act defining who may be delegates or have any voice in the management or legislation of fraternal organizations, the present act making it unlawful for any but the beneficiary members to exercise any powers with regard to the insurance features of such organization.

Committee on fish and game—Revising the game laws, making the closed season for quail extend from Dec. 10 to Nov. 10; limiting the number lawful to kill in one day in the open season to twelve; prohibiting the baiting of water fowl by feeding; making new restrictions as to the number which may be killed in one day, and adding bluejays to the list of "outlawed" birds.

Lyon—Requiring vouchers for expenses of messengers for return of fugitives from justice and stipulating conditions under which the state will bear the expense.

Church—Giving the superintendent of insurance supervision over all classes of fidelity or surety bonds and requiring companies to file schedules of rates with the insurance department. The bill permits the superintendent to fix a reasonable rate under certain conditions.

Attack on Docks Advanced.

Representative Chiperfield's bill declaring void the charter of the Chicago Dock and Canal company was called up on second reading by him and was amended to operate as to the assigns and grantees of the company. With these amendments it was sent to third reading without objection and probably will be called up for passage tomorrow.

Representative Lantz called back to second reading his bill to prohibit the storing of explosives in large quantities within certain described distances of dwellings and had it amended to prohibit the use as well as the manufacture and storage of explosives. In its present shape it will hit the quarrying industry.

The appropriation bills passed by the senate yesterday came over to the house today and were referred to the committee on appropriations, which more than likely will report them out without change.

OSTEOPATHS' BILL IS NEAR DEFEAT IN THE SENATE.

Measure Is Withdrawn from Roll Call When Friends See It Cannot Secure Enough Votes.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—Just as the osteopaths' bill was being defeated on roll call in the house today its friends rallied strongly enough to secure postponement and by dragging the measure away in the middle of the call managed to save it for the time being. The interrupted vote showed 44 to 73.

The bill has been passed by the senate and, although amended in the house, probably could have secured the concurrence of the senate in these amendments and probably would have been acted on favorably by the governor if it could have mustered enough votes in the house on third reading.

It is proposed to create an examining board for osteopathic practitioners, who would be required to secure a license after examination. It would have removed these practitioners from control of the state board of health and have given them certain professional independence for which they have been striving for a number of sessions.

The bill had plenty of friends in the house. Some of them might have been "personal" friends who had been under osteopathic care at one time or another and who were "converts." Representative Carter, in championing the measure, said he was not able to walk when he came to the legislature and that it was by chance he was advised to try osteopathic treatment.

The bill as it came from the senate would have permitted osteopaths to practice "minor surgery," but when the house had the bill on second reading it struck out that provision, friends of the measure hoping that this concession would win for it votes which otherwise might have been cast against it. The opposition remained too strong, however, and before the call of the roll had reached its and supporters of the measure saw that their only chance to save it even temporarily from wreck was to stop the voting.

At the afternoon meeting of the house committee on sanitary affairs Senator Jandus' senate bill providing for licensing of graduates of osteopathic schools who have passed examinations in subjects regularly taught in schools of medicine and surgery, and who have taken a four year course of not less than nine months or a year, was recommended.

HAIL'S PAPA'S BROUGHAM AS THIEVES SPEED IT AWAY.

"Ungallant" of Dr. Murphy Not to Speak, Daughter Thought, When Loss Is Discovered.

Automobile thieves, in making their escape last evening in an electric brougham stolen from Dr. J. B. Murphy in front of Mercy hospital, were hailed five blocks away by the physician's daughter, Miss Cecile Murphy, and her cousin, Miss Ethel Amberg.

"O, papa," cried Miss Murphy, waving her handkerchief at the occupant of the car as it sped past her at Twenty-ninth street and Michigan avenue, "give us a ride, won't you?"

On arriving at the hospital a few minutes later, whither she and Miss Amberg were bound, Miss Murphy learned of her mistake and the theft of the machine also became known.

"I thought it was awful mean of you not to stop and take us in," said little Miss Murphy, "and I said to Ethel that it wasn't like you at all to whiz by without tipping your hat."

By Walking Up One Flight of Stairs

Here is an illustration of our first floor piano warerooms, including a stairway which leads to the second floor. Having no elevators in our temporary quarters, which we will occupy just one year, until our 19-story fire-proof Steger Building is completed, and rather than spend $15,000 for the construction of elevators in these temporary quarters, we propose to give that money to the purchasers of pianos. Therefore we decided to give piano buyers an opportunity to earn real money by walking up one flight of stairs, and for every step they take we will allow them $1.00 a step.

There are 31 steps in the stairs, making a total of $31.00, which will be allowed as the first payment on the piano you purchase from us at this time.

The moment the $15,000 have been exhausted we shall withdraw this offer.

Do not hesitate, but come immediately and take advantage of this money-earning opportunity. And kindly remember that the prices are positively the lowest. The quality the very best.

We have been in the piano business since 1879, controlling the largest exclusive piano factory in the world.

It is quality that has put us in the leading position. Quality has always been the first thought in the construction of the Steger Piano.

During the moving, which had to be done in a hurry, many of the pianos have been slightly damaged by the carpenters, wreckers and plasterers. Some have been damaged on the top, some on the sides, and others on the front fall, but the interior of the pianos has not been injured.

It is no small undertaking to move a large piano stock in one night. Night work is what did it. We therefore have decided to make heavy reductions on all instruments that have been scratched or damaged by the workmen. On some of the damaged pianos we make a discount of as much as $75 to $100. We must dispose of them. They must go and prices will move them. Our loss will be your gain.

SENATE INCREASES COUNTY SALARIES.

Every One of Officers Gets Boost to $10,000 Yearly Except Sheriff Strassheim.

FAVORS CIVIL SERVICE.

Upper Assembly Body Puts County Employes Under Provisions of Restrictive Act.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—Crêpe and bunting for the county building tomorrow, crêpe because the council civil service bill passed the senate today, bunting for the reason that all the "big fellows" had their salaries boosted to the $10,000 mark, that is, all except Sheriff Chris Strassheim. The senate cut off at one swoop the dieting account of the sheriff and neglected to raise his annual pay.

The senate bills which were passed during the day, to the surprise of nearly everybody concerned, provide these facts of prime importance to the county building pay roll habitues:

All of the officers in chief, clerks of the courts, etc., have their salaries boosted from $6,000 to $10,000.

The county civil service bill is passed by the senate, placing every county employé under civil service, except assistant state's attorneys, and putting up to the house what is declared to be the most perfect civil service law ever proposed.

The county commissioners are empowered and directed to contract for all supplies for the county jail and the sheriff is separated from the fat dieting account which was responsible for the late unpleasantness in Sheriff Strassheim's office.

Sullivan Brings Democrats Into Line.

Incidentally, Roger C. Sullivan and his fifty-eight variety of uplift cashes part of his stack, having brought every Democratic senatorial vote into the line for the civil service bill, and thereby securing the right to be fit for an ever wear halo.

The vote in the senate on the passage of the Ettelson salary bill, for the superior officers, was 39 to 2; on the county civil service bill it was 27 to 6, and on the pruning of the sheriff's grub account it was 42 to 8.

The salary bills had no trouble whatever. Senator Ettelson explained that they made a slight raise in the salaries of the court clerks and other offices in the county service, the roll was called, and it was all over.

The county civil service bill had the closest scratch of the trio of bills which are of the deepest interest to the inhabitants of the big new building at Clark and Washington, extending to all of the branches of the county's service. Senator Lundberg called up just at the session's close.

What Civil Service Bill Provides.

Briefly this is what the civil service bill provides: Includes all of the county employés in the classified service except the following exemptions:

All elective officers, one assistant sheriff, one assistant treasurer, one chief deputy for coroner, county clerk, recorder of deeds, each of clerks of record, one chief clerk for board of assessors, one chief clerk for board of review, one private secretary for president of county board, the county attorney, superintendent of public service, warden of county hospital, superintendents of insane asylum, superintendent of poorhouse, county agent, county physician, county architect, or employés who shall be appointed by president of county board with consent of county board and at discretion of county civil service commission. Three civil service commissioners provided at salaries of $3,000 per year.

This was the roll call upon the Lundberg bill, by which county civil service is put up flatly to the house:

CHARITIES BILL IS PASSED; SENATE HAY REPUDIATES IT.

Measure Eliminates Penal and Reformatory Institutions, and for This Reason Finds Much Opposition.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—Fought by its authors and original sponsors, the so-called "administration" state institutions bill was passed by the senate this afternoon. The vote was 28 for the bill and 9 against.

Senator Logan Hay, chairman of the committee on penal and reformatory institutions, openly repudiated the bill when he called it up for passage. He voted against it on the roll call and with him lined up the senators who had fought for the original bill before the slaughtering amendments were cut into it.

The bill as it passes the senate, applies only to the charitable institutions of the state. The penal and reformatory establishments were slashed away when the bill was on second reading. All of the senators who went along with the bill upon its merits in the early stages of its legislative career, jumped the job after the knife had been applied by the would-be assassins.

It was a surprise to the senate itself that the bill received the necessary constitutional majority, after the remarks which Senator Hay made when he brought the bill before the senate in his capacity as chairman of the committee.

The bill in its unslaughtered form is in the house committee on penal and reformatory institutions. What will be the fate of the bill is a serious question, the possibility being many representatives may favor the acceptance of the senate bill rather than to make no change whatever in the management of the charitable institutions. The attitude of Gov. Deneen is a matter of conjecture.

BREWERS HEAR SUGGESTIONS TO FIGHT PROHIBITION WAVE.

Charles J. Vopicka Would Prove by Experts That Man Who Drinks Moderately Is Healthier.

The strength of the temperance movement was conceded at the annual banquet of the Society of Brewing Technology in the Grand Pacific hotel last night, and numerous suggestions were offered on how to combat the opposition.

"We must be on our guard or be put out of business; the time to strike is now," declared Charles J. Vopicka. "For years the child at school has been taught that alcohol is a poison, and that it is sinful to partake of beer. That is a terrible mistake. None of our predecessors has raised a finger in protest. We must prove by experts that the man who drinks moderately is the healthier man. Then we must teach the young men to think for themselves, and not listen to hypocrites.

"We don't want special privileges—just justice. We must see to it that the men elected to public office are honest, honorable, and liberal. Clean out the indecent from the business and install the respectable element, like in Germany and England."

At the business meeting, the old set of officers, including Carl M. Gottfried, president, and H. E. O. Heinemann, secretary, were reelected. A resolution was passed appointing a committee to take up with the joint standards commission at Washington the question of a standard of purity for beer.

The annual initiation into the girls' life class of the Art institute will take place at 5 p. m. today in Blackstone hall. Miss Jane Heap is chairman of initiation and Bonney Royal is president. After special and original exercises the eighty candidates will become full fledged "lifers." About 150 members of the life class will be present. After the initiation a spread will be given in the student lunchroom. An effigy of Alice Goss decorates the lobby of the school, and it is whispered that Alice, who was averse to the idiosyncrasies of the merry students, may be considerably astonished when she realizes that the demure flaxen haired figure is intended for her.

CLASH OVER TEACHERS' BILL

Legislation Sought Attacked by Education Board Trustees.

FIGURES GIVEN BY AUDITOR.

Proposed Change, He Says, Would Cause a Big Annual Deficit.

The fight which has attended the progress in the legislative committees at Springfield of the house bill—which is backed by the Chicago Teachers' federation and which provides that seven-eighths of the total educational fund levied annually for the Chicago school system shall be set aside for the exclusive payment of salaries—was transferred last night to the regular meeting of the board of education.

The issuance of a pamphlet by the teachers' federation which purported to show that the operation of the bill in 1910 would leave the board of education with a net surplus of nearly $200,000 in the incidental fund led to the local fight.

In reply to the pamphlet and at the request of President Otto C. Schneider, Auditor Custer of the board of education issued a sworn statement showing that the operation of the law during the last fiscal year would have resulted in a deficit of more than $442,000 in the incidental fund.

Attack on Auditor's Report.

The report of the auditor was embodied in a report of the finance committee of the board which was presented by Modie J. Spiegel, who moved to print the report in the official proceedings of the board. The motion precipitated an attack by the Dunne members of the board. John J. Sonsteby, author of the pamphlet issued in support of the bill, questioned the auditor's statement that $2,168,994 was expended for the maintenance of the schools during the last fiscal year.

"I would like to know if this sum actually was expended in 1908?" he asked.

"It certainly was," returned Mr. Spiegel.

"But there was not that amount actually spent for incidentals if we take into account that $600,000 of this amount went to pay off a deficit incurred during the previous year," declared Mr. Sonsteby. "This report is misleading, and is intended to convey the impression that a large deficit would have resulted from the operation of house bill No. 881. In reality, if this item which simply went to pay off a loan incurred during the previous year is excluded, there would be a considerable surplus. There is nothing in this statement to show that $600,000 was expended for this purpose."

Sonsteby and Spiegel Clash.

"This statement of the auditor simply was issued to set right a wrong impression that has been given to the public by a pamphlet I have right here," returned Mr. Spiegel, producing Mr. Sonsteby's circular and carrying it across the room to Mr. Sonsteby's desk.

"Have you seen it? I guess you have."

"Well, I have seen one similar to it," admitted Mr. Sonsteby. "And every statement made in it is taken from the printed statements of the board. I had an expert accountant go over it and the figures are correct."

"They are not correct; they are wrong and misleading," returned Mr. Spiegel. "The item of $600,000 was paid to wipe out a debt incurred during the last two or three years, a debt in which the payment of teachers' salaries figured. It was paid up by cutting out of the budget many necessary things which are urgently needed in the Chicago schools and which we must have if our system is to grow as it should."

Robinson Resents a Query.

"Well, I should like to have Mr. Robinson explain several things in this report," said Mr. Sonsteby, pointing at the former.

"Why do you direct your remark at me?—I haven't seen this report, and I haven't seen your pamphlet," demanded Mr. Robinson.

"Because you were in Springfield representing the business men of the board which is trying to defeat this measure," replied Mr. Sonsteby.

"Well, I cannot enlighten you in the matter," returned Mr. Robinson shortly.

A motion to embody the report of the financial committee in the proceedings led to the demand on the part of Sonsteby and Mills that the incidental expenditures for 1908 be itemized to show that the disputed item of $600,000 went to repay a debt incurred in previous years. Mr. Spiegel agreed to the proposition and the amended motion was carried by a roll call. Immediately thereafter President Schneider adjourned the meeting.

Grand Lodge to Elect Officers.

The grand lodge of the Knights of Honor of Illinois will meet in special session Tuesday evening in the Grand Pacific hotel to elect a new set of officers, owing to the death of H. M. Gilmore, grand dictator.

TAFT'S EYES ON BENCH TICKET

Republican Jurists Have Executive's Approval, Upham Says.

WORTHY OF FEDERAL COURT.

President, Once a Judge, Unmoved by Influence in Judicial Choices.

President Taft was brought into the local judicial campaign last night as one who has set the seal of his approval upon the entire ticket of Republican candidates for the bench. According to Fred W. Upham, the president earnestly desires the election of the Cook county Republican ticket.

The president's name and his reported sentiments were brought into the campaign at a large meeting of Twenty-fourth ward Republicans at 347 Fullerton avenue, where the Republican candidates appeared. Corporation Counsel Brundage presided and Municipal Judge Going and Mr. Upham made the principal speeches.

"We have a president who was a judge," said Mr. Upham, "and I think you will agree with me that he is about the best president we have ever had. One of his ambitions is along the line of reforms in the judiciary, and the selection of federal judges is a matter that claims his gravest attention.

Chooses Judges to His Liking.

"He has made it plain that he is willing to rely on the advice of the party leaders in making appointments, such as marshals, collectors, and so on, but when it comes to judges he and he alone will do the choosing.

"Now, gentlemen, it may surprise you, but I want to tell you that President Taft is deeply interested in this judicial election right here in Chicago. I know it because he has told me so. He wants to see this entire ticket of Republican candidates elected on June 7 next. It is a good ticket, and he knows it—knows it personally from first hand information, for he is acquainted with many of the candidates and knows the remainder by reputation.

Worthy of Federal Bench.

"There is not a man on the Republican ticket that President Taft would not appoint to the federal bench. I know that, also, authoritatively, and this fact sufficiently attests the sincerity of the president in desiring the success of the ticket."

The candidates appeared also at a meeting in the Twenty-third ward, at which Municipal Judge Beitler presided. Judge Brentano spoke at length, taking issue with the dictum that judges ought not to mix in politics.

He referred to criticisms directed at himself for taking active part in politics, and asserted that judges had an inalienable right to have their say in the conduct of public affairs.

Mack Indorsed by Students.

Students of the University of Chicago law school indorsed Judge Julian W. Mack's candidacy for reelection at a meeting held yesterday in the law building. Prof. Ernst Freund characterised him as one of the best judges Chicago ever had.

"When the unions oppose Judge Mack," he said, "they oppose a man who has done more for the workingman than almost any other man in public life today. He it was who was foremost in the movement that resulted in the enaction of the child labor law, the safety appliance law, and other measures for the improvement of the conditions of the toilers."

POLICEMAN FOR 24 YEARS, BUT RESIGNS VOLUNTARILY.

Chief Shippy "Almost Has Heart Disease" When Patrolman Nick Martin Asks for a Pension.

It is such a rare thing for a Chicago policeman to retire voluntarily that Chief Shippy nearly had an attack of heart disease yesterday when Patrolman Nick Martin handed in his resignation.

"I've been on the force twenty-four years, chief," said Martin, as he unpinned his star from his coat, "and I've had all the police business I want. Not that I've got any kick coming, but I'm ready to quit. I see by the papers that several sergeants and patrolmen marked for retirement are fighting against letting go. Put me on the pension list and here's my star."

Chief Shippy was so astounded at the unprecedented act that he removed his glasses, rubbed his eyes, and gazed at the uniformed man in amazement. He next examined the papers of resignation forwarded by Inspector Wheeler, and after reading them remarked:

"All right; if your mind is made up on resigning, but goodness, you gave me an awful shock."

Martin was stationed at the Rock Island and Lake Shore depot for twenty years.

BILL AIMS BLOW AT GRAFT

Speaker Shurtleff Asked to Aid Cook County Measure.

BECK URGED TO HELP, TOO.

Sought to Extend Merit System When Irregularities Were Shown.

Long distance efforts to get some kind of action out of the legislature on the Cook county civil service bill were undertaken yesterday at the City club.

Nine constituents of Representative Christopher Beck of the Twenty-third district, wired him an urgent request to report the bill out of the civil service committee of the house of which he is chairman, and the civil service committee of the City club telegraphed a similar appeal to Speaker Shurtleff.

The message sent Chairman Beck was:

"Your undersigned constituents, residents of the Twenty-third district, joining with previous requests of various organizations, request you, through your committee, to report out the Cook county civil service bill at once and let it stand or fall on its merits."

The telegram was signed by Ed Ahlswede, Ernest Woltersdorf, Bruce Barton, L. O. Stanton, C. S. Pellet, C. C. Bartlett, H. W. Austin, Jens Jensen, and J. P. Lenox.

Speaker Urged to Help.

To the speaker the club telegraphed:

"The City club civil service committee requests you to use your influence to bring speedily to a roll call the Cook county civil service bill, reference being hereby made to our former letter asking you to appoint a committee which would not pigeonhole the bill."

In a statement explaining the action George E. Hooker, civic secretary of the club, said:

"The civil service committee addressed a telegram to Speaker Shurtleff on the theory that inasmuch as he had appointed the committee he is in a measure responsible for its conduct.

Bill Aimed to Stop Graft.

"Mr. Beck is chairman of the committee on civil service of the lower house at Springfield and he has been accused of attempting to kill the bill by nonaction.

"The bill, which has for its object the extension of the merit system to all Cook county offices, was prepared a couple of years ago, following revelations of criminal irregularities in certain of the Cook county offices, but at the last session of the legislature it was buried in committee.

"Efforts have been made without success by the City club, the Hamilton club, the Citizens' association, the Chicago Civil Service Reform association, and other civic bodies, to bring it to a roll call in the house."

ENDS LIFE WITH PISTOL WHILE HUSBAND IS AWAY.

Young Bride from Milton, Ill., Evidently Demented When Bullet's Work Is Done.

With a pistol pressed to her left temple, Mrs. Ada Haldy, 30 years old, committed suicide yesterday afternoon in a room at 54 Ann street, where she and her husband, Louis Haldy, had been living four weeks.

According to Haldy, who was absent at the time, and Prosper Bagnald, keeper of the rooming house, Mrs. Haldy was temporarily insane when the shot was fired.

Mr. and Mrs. Haldy recently came to Chicago from San Antonio, Tex., stopping a week with the girl's parents at Milton, Ill. Since the middle of April Haldy has been in the claim department of the Chicago Telephone company.

Desplaines street police are investigating the death of a well dressed man of about 50 years, registered as S. T. Thomas, Newark, S. D., who was found unconscious in a gas filled room at the Oxford hotel, 131 Canal street, on May 16 and died at the county hospital yesterday.

Frank Fenno, 59, for many years proprietor of a saloon at 1040 Wrightwood avenue, committed suicide yesterday by inhaling illuminating gas through a rubber hose in his home above the saloon.

Frederick Philips, 54, 3519 Seeley avenue, a butcher, swallowed carbolic acid yesterday in the yard at the rear of his home and died before physicians arrived.

Phillip Amsterdam, 50, a teaming contractor, 451 Wood street, left home on Tuesday after quarreling with his wife. Later he called a neighbor by telephone and said he was going to commit suicide. When Amsterdam failed to return all police stations were notified. The missing man is the father of nine children, the youngest 4 years old.

Julius Baeslan Also Dangerously Wounds His Brother-in-Law.

DRINK CAUSE OF TROUBLE.

Barber, Out of Work, Resolves to Be Robber, but Ends Own Life.

Angered at being upbraided by his wife on his return home from a weary search for employment, Julius Baeslau early last night fired a bullet through her head, shot and painfully wounded William Springer, her brother, and then committed suicide by sending a bullet through his brain.

Mrs. Baeslau and her brother were hurried to St. Mary of Nazareth hospital. It was said the woman had small chance of recovery. The bullet penetrated her left eye and came out below the right cheek. One bullet struck Springer in the left thigh and another made a dangerous wound in the neck.

The trouble started when Baeslau staggered into his home at 244 Cortland street and was met in the doorway by his wife. It is said he was intoxicated and had purchased the revolver only a day before with the intention of entering a life of crime and robbery. He was a barber and he married last November.

Trouble Caused by Drink.

"There's no work for honest men any more," he exclaimed as the door was opened for him. "I've tramped the streets all day and have nothing in sight. I can't stand this much longer."

"If you'd sober up, Julius, perhaps you might get work somewhere," retorted Mrs. Braeslau. "You know it was drink that wrecked your business, and no one wants drunken men nowadays."

With an oath Baeslau drew a revolver and Springer attempted to wrest it from him. In the scuffle that followed Springer was thrown to the floor and Baeslau leaned over him, firing two shots. Mrs. Baeslau tried to escape, but as she was fleeing through the doorway she was shot despite her cries for mercy. A minute later Baeslau killed himself.

Ready for Career of Crime.

Edward Nelson and Charles Korth, neighbors, heard the shooting and notified the West Chicago avenue police station. When the policemen arrived Mrs. Baeslau was lying in the yard, having dragged herself from the house in fear that she would be shot again.

"Julius had been out of work for some time," she said on regaining consciousness at the hospital, "and it was only yesterday that he told me he intended becoming a robber. He said he could not find employment and told of another man who was going to assist him in crime.

"My father started him in business when we got married, but Julius neglected it and spent most of his time and earnings in drink. He would have killed me but for the interference of my brother, for he was insane from liquor."

Dr. Charles F. Stotz of 1570 Milwaukee avenue cared for Mrs. Baeslau and her brother until the arrival of the police ambulances, and then ordered them taken to the hospital. Baeslau was 24 years old.

URGE REFORM IN LOOP GRANT

"Curtail Privileges, Remove Unused Exits," Cry of "Antis."

OUST IT, RESOLUTIONS SAY.

Measures Passed in University Club Go to Busse Today.

Action which is expected to cause the promoters of the elevated railroad merger to "sit up and take notice" was taken yesterday at an executive meeting of the Loop Protective association, held in one of the private dining rooms of the University club.

After a session lasting more than three hours the association passed resolutions denouncing the Union Loop company and demanding of the city authorities that no further privileges be granted until the "enemy" agreed to make certain improvements and abolish the nuisance features of the system.

More than forty members of the "anti-loop" association were present and caustic speeches were made declaring emphatically that the loop should be eliminated. Others, however, favored the retention of the loop until adequate subway facilities could be provided.

Would Oust Loop from Streets.

The resolutions finally passed warned the company if it did not provide necessary improvements, action would be taken immediately to have the loop ousted from the streets. The resolutions were as follows:

"Whereas, The elevated loop structure in its present condition is a detriment to the property abutting thereon, and

"Whereas, Said structure is now maintained in the street without legal right, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Loop Protective and Improvement association demand of the city authorities that no further privileges of any kind be given the elevated companies, and Outline Reforms Needed.

"That said loop company eliminate as far as possible the nuisance features, and in particular:

"1. Eliminate the noise caused by the operation of trains.

"2. Replace the present stations with stations of the subtrack type.

"3. Remove the unused exit stairways, and

"4. Carry out the other suggestions with reference to the painting and otherwise lessening the unsightly appearance of the structure.

"And that said company agree to operate its cars in subways exclusively, on terms now to be agreed upon, wherever such subways are provided by the city or otherwise.

"Resolved further, That this association do everything within its power, First: To have these objects accomplished, and second: If they are not agreed to, to take such action as is deemed advisable toward ousting the elevated loop from the streets upon which it now stands."

Ouster Is Up to Wayman.

According to Attorney Clarence N. Goodwin, representing the association, State's Attorney Wayman or the city officials may start proceedings to oust the loop at any time.

"The courts have decided that the loop company invalidated its franchise on Lake street," said Attorney Goodwin, "because it paid $100 a foot frontage to those property owners who gave their consent to have the structure built. According to the law the company had to get a majority of the property owners on each street to give their consent before the franchise was valid."

"Will the Loop Protective association ask Mr. Wayman to investigate the matter?" Attorney Goodwin was asked.

"I can't answer that question just now," was the reply. "I want it understood, however, that I think we've got a good state's attorney."

Resolutions Go to Busse.

The resolutions passed at the meeting will be forwarded to Mayor Busse and members of the council today.

It was said that the association has no objection to a consolidation of the elevated interests, but that certain improvements must be promised before peace and harmony are permitted to reign.

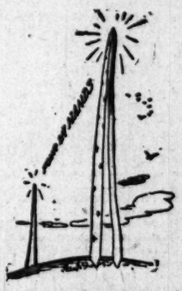

CHURCH CHOOSES NEW PASTOR.

First Baptist Congregation of Evanston Approves Name of the Rev. James Madison Spifler.

At a meeting of the congregation of the First Baptist church, Evanston, last night the name of the Rev. James Madison Spifler of the American Baptist Missionary union, Boston, was approved as the successor of Dr. B. A. Greene, who recently handed in his resignation as pastor, to take effect June 1. The Rev. Mr. Spifler will take up his new duties the first part of next month.

He is yet young in the ministry, having just completed his eighth year, but was selected because of efficient work done during the few month he has been connected with the missionary bureau in Boston.

At the quarterly conference of members of the Sheridan Park Methodist Episcopal church in the evening the work of the Rev. J. O. Randell was approved and it was decided unanimously to retain him next year.

TRACY & CO. MAY PAY 50 PER CENT.

Lawyer Thinks the Creditors Probably Will Get Only Half Their Claims.

SAYS CLIENT IS HONEST.

American Trust and Savings Bank Appointed Receiver of Chicago Assets.

Creditors of William W. Tracy, head of the brokerage firm for which receivers have been appointed in Chicago and New York, will be extremely fortunate if they receive 50 cents on the dollar, according to Adams A. Goodrich, the broker's attorney, who returned yesterday from New York, where he has been attempting to disentangle the company's affairs.

Although Mr. Goodrich declared he would not attempt at present to give an estimate of the liabilities of the company, it is declared by persons closely connected with Mr. Tracy that they will exceed $1,000,000. The assets, however, may be found to be nearly $400,000.

The attorney characterized the failure of Tracy & Co. as the result of a run of the sort which would "put any bank in the country out of business." It was intimated that this "run" was started several months ago in New York by some enemy of the broker's whom no one has been able to identify.

On a Shaky Foundation.

"Of course, the company was on a shaky foundation for some time," said Mr. Goodrich, "but if it had not been pushed to the wall I believe it could have weathered the storm and nobody would have lost a cent. The run seemed to have been a systematic affair. The customers withdrew their money from day to day and none of them could give a reason for quitting.

"Mr. Tracy did everything possible to ward off the impending crash. He borrowed money on stocks and other good collateral, which now is in possession of the banks and which may be sold out at a ruinous price. But the run continued. My client is an honest man. He is now without funds. I know when he quit he had less than $20 in his pockets."

Receiver Is Appointed Here.

Prior to Mr. Goodrich's arrival in Chicago Judge Landis in the federal court appointed the American Trust and Savings bank as receiver to take charge of the Chicago assets of Tracy & Co. The creditors' petition set forth no grounds for the proceeding other than alleging insolvency of the firm and the fact that a receiver had been appointed in New York. Representatives of the receiver took immediate charge of the Chicago offices and accountants will be put to work on the books today.

So far no intimation has been made that the failure of the brokerage company was due to any irregularities. The real cause of the failure, it is declared, was the "unwise" speculations of Mr. Tracy and the inopportune "run" on the firm. Receiver Benedict in New York stated yesterday that the present indications are the firm would not be able to resume business.

Woman Seizes Tracy Furniture.

One satisfied creditor of Tracy & Co.—a woman—collected her due by a process which may be all right when women get to vote, but which under the existing statutes is going to land her in jail if the New York receiver can put her there. As soon as she heard the firm had gone into the hands of a receiver she drove up to the Thirty-third street office of the firm in New York with a dray and lugged off all the office furniture.

Upon the arrival of the receiver's agent at the office he found it empty as a drum. The receiver's counsel at once tried to find out where the missing things were, and Ralph Wolf of Hays, Hirshfield & Wolf, the counsel, thinks he has struck the right trail.

An injunction had been obtained, he said, preventing the International Storage warehouse, in which the furniture is stored, from allowing its removal and proceedings will be begun today to punish the woman for contempt of court.

SEES PLOT TO HIDE G.O.P. TARIFF WOE

Bailey Declares Republicans Exaggerate Democratic Dissensions; Obscure Own.

GOES FOR GOV. JOHNSON.

Clay Denounces Sugar Trust and Says Mormon Head Fixes Price of Beets.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—The senate dropped into a party discussion late today, and Democrats and Republicans, using at times strong language in a good natured way, taunted each other with the degree of dissensions each party has suffered during the consideration of the tariff.

The debate was precipitated by Mr. Bailey, who charged the Republicans with entering into a conspiracy by exaggerating Democratic dissensions in order to hide their own difficulties. He said that by careful observation recently he had become convinced "that a deliberate and systematic plan had been inaugurated to obscure the differences on the Republican side by exaggerating and even misrepresenting the differences on this side."

Hale Denies Conspiracy.

This statement called Mr. Hale to his feet, Mr. Bailey readily giving way to the senator from Maine. Mr. Hale assured the senator from Texas that there was no reason for such suspicion, and he added that the fact was that the newspapers, seizing upon dissensions in either party, display them prominently as features. Hale assured the Texan that nothing beyond that, in his opinion, existed in respect to Bailey's suspicion of conspiracy. Mr. Hale declared that there would be no failure to enact a protective tariff bill and he declared that when it was all over all the Republicans would support it and all the Democrats would oppose it.

Mr. Bailey resuming referred to a published interview with Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, criticising the minority in the senate in its attitude toward the tariff bill.

Bailey in Fling at Johnson.

"If this represents the views of Mr. Johnson," Mr. Bailey said, "then he might better be at home studying the tariff question than seeking Democratic favor in other states. If this interview was authorized or sanctioned by Gov. Johnson he was utterly reckless of the truth and is disqualified for any station. His explanation is that the railroads of the south have interested themselves in this legislation and have overcome the consciences of some senators. He ought, if he knows that, in the cause of truth, to specify who are the men to whom he refers."

Defining the Democratic attitude toward the tariff question, Mr. Bailey declared that the day when Democrats should favor free raw material had passed, and said that doctrine was expressed by Democrats in the past who had hoped by such favor to attract northern manufacturers.

Defends Tax on Iron Ore.

He defended the vote of Democrats who favored a revenue tax on iron ore. He ridiculed "5 per cent reductions" in articles of the pending bill, which he said were for the benefit of manufacturers using the articles receiving the reduction.

"I was asked to vote for a duty on iron ore by men who represented the United States Steel corporation or subsidiary companies," said Senator Smith of Maryland, when pressed by Mr. Tillman to say how he knew the steel corporation wanted a duty on iron ore. Mr. Smith defended his vote for free iron ore as one to encourage competing steel corporations.

Senator Rayner also defended his vote in favor of free iron ore, which he said he had cast to help in breaking up the United States Steel corporation.

"Whenever I can vote for a free raw material that will destroy one of these monopolies," he said, "I will vote for it. I will never vote for a protective duty, but always for a duty for the purpose of revenue."

Tells Why He Wants Free Oil.

Mr. Bailey, again rising, said he proposed to vote to place oil and its products on the free list because, he said, a duty on it would produce no revenue and would only increase the price of oil to the people who use it.

"And yet," he said, "two excellent gentlemen recently called on me and spent an hour trying to convince me that the Standard Oil company wants oil on the free list."

Referring again to the anti-trust law, Mr. Bailey said that if he were attorney general, with competent assistants, he could break up all unlawful combinations. It would only be necessary, he said, to put a few of the violators of the law in jail.

"In the southern states recently," he said, "two men were put in jail for violating the anti-trust law, and those sentences will dissolve the turpentine trust."

Clay Flays Sugar Trust.

A denunciation of the sugar trust and an appeal for a smaller differential duty on refined sugar in the interest of consumers were the features of an extended address before the senate by Senator Clay of Georgia.

Senator Clay declared that Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon church, every year fixes the price of beets in the interest of the beet sugar factories in Utah rather than in favor of the producers of beets. The statement was characterized as "absolutely untrue" by Senator Smoot, himself an official of the Mormon church. Clay declared that Smith, as president of the beet sugar factories of Utah, received $20,000 annual salary.

"He is always in favor of the factories and against the growers," said Clay.

An amendment by Newlands to reduce the duty on sewing machines from 30 to 20 per cent ad valorem was rejected by a vote of 29 to 48, Senators Beveridge, Bristow, Brown, Clapp, Cummins, Dolliver, and La Follette joining the Democrats in voting for the reduction.

An amendment by McLaurin to put sewing machines, typewriters, and printing presses on the free list was rejected, 23 to 53. Mr. McLaurin had explained that not a single penny of revenue is raised from these articles. He advocated the free list to "protect" the consumer. Mr. Aldrich interjected that "it is refreshing to hear a man who has courage enough to advocate free trade without giving an excuse."

Mr. McLaurin declared that the pending tariff measure should be labeled "A bill to elect a Democratic house of representatives at the next election."

On the McLaurin amendment only one Republican, La Follette, cast his vote with the Democrats.

Metal Schedule Is Adopted.

Mr. Dolliver offered an amendment to make the duty of 45 per cent ad valorem apply to articles or wares not specially provided for whose "chief value" was metal instead of those composed "in part" of metal and declared that the committee provision placed under this schedule many articles containing but a trifling quantity of metal.

Mr. Aldrich said the provision was one that had been in all tariff laws since 1883 and he defended it as being necessary to prevent evasions of the law. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 30 to 40. The paragraphs relating to typewriters, sewing machines, etc., were adopted, as were all sections of the metal schedule.

Mr. Paynter sought to reduce the duty on linotype and other typesetting machines from 30 per cent ad valorem as provided in the tariff bill to 10 per cent ad valorem, but by a vote of 35 to 43 his amendment was rejected.

$10,000,000 Revenue Raise Planned.

The tariff bill now under consideration in the senate is designed to raise revenues netting $10,321,515 in excess of those derived from the operation of the present law. The total increase of revenue is estimated at $14,573,052, and of this amount $11,540,241 will come from advances in the rates on luxuries and only $3,032,810 from increases on necessaries.

hard and comparatively unprofitable employment.

The chances are that in the states enumerated far too great a number was poured into the already congested tenement districts of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Jersey City, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Chicago. Manifestly the immigration problem never will be settled in anything like a satisfactory manner until some means is devised for directing the stream of European immigration, composed so largely of southern Italians, who are purely agricultural in their training, into the farming districts instead of into tenement houses.

It is a pity that out of a third of a million immigrants who arrived in the United States during the first eight months of the fiscal year there were fewer billeted to Oklahoma or Oregon or either of the Dakotas, for instance, than to the little manufacturing state of Rhode Island, and yet so it is.

For some time there was an agitation over peonage conditions in the southern states. The facts were first laid before the public extensively in these dispatches to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. I endeavored at that time to explain the great folly of southern legislatures in keeping on their statute books archaic laws which made a man who broke a civil contract liable to be sent to the chain gang and sold into slavery, possibly to the employer with whom he had the dispute.

South Needs More Labor.

The southern people want labor more than anything else in the world. They need a large addition to the labor supply furnished by negroes, and unless they secure it from alien immigrants they cannot possibly hope to develop their great natural resources as they are capable of being developed.

Few if any of the southern legislatures took the warning in good faith. They continued to present seductive claims for foreign settlement, but they let their wicked laws remain on the statute books. Prosecutions in the federal courts failed of their purpose because of local prejudice.

It is a most significant thing that the foreigners are once more abandoning the south almost entirely, and they are doing that, of course, because of reports of officials of Italy, Austria-Hungary, Russia, and other European countries, who found it necessary to advise their home governments that any of their citizens who went into the south under any conditions were liable to imprisonment for a mere money debt or owing to a broken contract with a planter.

Southern Policy Shortsighted.

It is worth while showing how shortsighted the southern policy has been by calling attention to the fact that for the eight months under consideration, when there was a total immigration into the United States of 828,685, those billeted for Dixie are reported as follows:

Alabama	530	North Carolina	174
Arkansas	190	South Carolina	144
Florida	3,019	Tennessee	311
Georgia	294	Texas	9,928
Louisiana	1,331	Virginia	761
Mississippi	213

There were peculiar conditions in Florida, Louisiana, and Texas, but it is easy to see that in the rest of the south the immigrants had been warned off by their authorities at home, and the chances are they will stay warned off until the southern states are wise enough to repeal their contract labor and peonage provisions.

Should Repeal Archaic Laws.

There could not be a better object lesson, and if the planters, and miners, and lumbermen, and ironmen, and millowners of the south want to see the bars let down the first thing they will have to do will be to persuade their legislatures to wipe from the statute books all the medieval laws intended to keep the negro in a condition of industrial bondage, but which have resulted in putting an absolute stop to the alien immigration indispensable to further progress in the southern states.

About as many foreigners went to North Dakota in the eight months mentioned as were destined for Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia put together, and it is a notable fact that in all these latter states there were serious charges of peonage followed by acquittals in almost every case, so that the representatives of foreign nations two years ago began to display the red flag against those states with the result shown.

DRIVERS ACCUSE LIVERYMEN OF EMPLOYING CHILD LABOR.

Strikers Complain to State Factory Inspector, Who Immediately Starts Investigation.

Walter J. Gibbons, business agent of the Carriage and Cab Drivers' union, yesterday complained to Edgar T. Davies, chief of the state department of factory inspection, that strike bound liverymen were employing boys under legal age as drivers of funeral carriages.

Jacob Nelles & Sons, liverymen, 506 Milwaukee avenue, are accused of employing as a driver George Kozlowski, 14 years old, 204 Cornell street. The complaint was made to Gibbons by the boy's mother, who feared he would be injured.

James P. Marzano, undertaker and liveryman at 160 West Polk street, is alleged to have a driver called "Scotti" who is said to be 15 years old.

Deputy Inspector Barney Cohen assigned deputies to investigate and report today.

Hope of immediate settlement of the strike was abandoned by both sides. Robert K. Sloan, president of the liverymen's association declared the drivers must return to work before any negotiations would be opened.

"The drivers will not return unless the liverymen sign the agreement," said Business Agent Gibbons.

The first strike benefits probably will be paid tomorrow or on Saturday.

An arbitration board decided that Clarence McGagan, a conductor of the Chicago Southern Traction company, was "unjustly discharged," and that he should be reinstated in his former position and paid for all lost time since Feb. 24.

Thomas Payne, a printer, 2314 Indiana avenue, was fined $100 and costs for illegal use of the Allied Printing Trades council label.

Seventeen newspaper delivery drivers employed by the Western News company went on strike for a raise from $15 to $16 a week.

At last night's session of the arbitration conference in Detroit a written statement from William Livingstone, president of the Lake Carriers' association, was read, setting forth that the open shop was the sole issue so far as the carriers were concerned, and could not be arbitrated, and that the carriers had no strike, their employés being at work and satisfied.

KNOTT HEADS PRINTERS' UNION.

Returns Early Today Also Indicate Election of W. R. Miller as Secretary-Treasurer.

Returns early today from 126 chapels out of a total of 150 in the annual election of the Chicago Typographical union No. 16, held yesterday gave George J. Knott 1,135 votes for the presidency, John Canty 717, and Ray Wilson 280, indicating a certain victory for Knott.

W. R. Miller received 970 votes in ninety-two chapels for secretary-treasurer, while Charles T. Gould received 267. It seemed virtually certain that John C. Harding would be reelected recording secretary and organizer against John C. Loftus and Mark M. J. Mitchell.

A total vote of 2,500 was cast and counted at the headquarters of the union at 275 La Salle street. The union has 3,500 members.

The new president of the union has been a leader in the union's affairs for many years, having been an active member since 1879. He was chairman of the eight hour day committee at the international convention at Colorado Springs in 1906 when the movement for an eight hour day in job offices was inaugurated.

NORTH AND SOUTH LISTEN TO TAFT.

President Says Reunited Nation Has Forgotten Bitterness of Past.

HONOR TO WAR VICTIMS.

Veterans of Both Sides See Monument to Fort Mahone Heroes Unveiled.

Petersburg, Va., May 19.—President Taft today attended the unveiling of a monument placed on the battleground of Fort Mahone to commemorate the valor and heroism of Gen. John F. Hartranft and the Pennsylvania soldiers of the union army. He addressed a notable gathering of veterans in the blue of the north and the gray of the south.

Later he was guest at a luncheon at one of the most beautiful old homes in the south, and finally, facing a multitude, he made an earnest plea for self-sacrificing and nonpartisan support for the reunited country.

"It has been a great day," he declared, "not alone for Petersburg, for Pennsylvania, or Virginia, but in the history of the whole country; a day which will conduce to a greater union—a day to make stronger our common love for our common country, which all of us when necessary are ready to die for."

The president's speech at the Pennsylvania memorial, at the base of which were gathered many of the veterans of the Keystone state and of Virginia, was a studied tribute to the north and to the south. Mr. Taft was unstinted in his recognition of the heroic deeds of both sides. The "common heritage of heroism" was his theme. Enduring good, he believed, had come from the strife which had been inevitable.

Tells Ideas of Citizenship.

In his later speech, when he had been taken in charge by the people of Virginia, Mr. Taft, beginning in a humorous vein by twitting the governor of Virginia, Mr. Swanson, on the rare gift of being able to make four speeches in one day, suddenly became serious and for fifteen minutes held his audience in silent attention as he outlined in a general way his ideas of a citizenship which in the north and south alike should carry the country forward to permanence of prosperity and ever glorious future.

There was a touch of politics in this later speech, for which the president first made apology. It was a day, he declared, to forget politics. When he did lapse into the subject of partisan government, the president spoke broadly. He urged the southern people to direct themselves toward an intelligent and healthy opposition. He believed in two opposing parties, he said, with a fighting nucleus in every state of the union, "to make the party in power do business properly."

Turning to the subject of the tariff, Mr. Taft laughingly declared:

"I'm not going to say that the tariff for revenue only and tariff for the purpose of protection are one and the same thing when they both reach the same amount. But when a congressman from Alabama favors a $2 tariff on lumber for revenue, and a congressman from Washington or Oregon favors a $2 tariff on lumber for protection, they haven't any great amount of dispute between them. Personally, I am not in favor of a $2 tariff on lumber for any purpose. But it all means, my friends, that we are working closer and closer together."

"Dixie" and "America" Sung.

Before Mr. Taft rose to speak several hundred school children sang "The Star Spangled Banner," "Dixie," and "America," with equal fervor. The other speakers of the day, including Mayor Isaac B. Brown, M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, and Gov. Swanson, all carried out this theme of a reunited country. When Mr. Taft began his last speech he said:

"I could not but feel as I listened to the truthful statements of Virginia heroism, of Virginia sentiment, and of Virginia ability that Virginia had a right to the feeling of pride in her past, and had a right to the strength of sentiment that unites Virginians wherever they are, and I could not but feel rejoiced, because I believe that I speak the truth when I say that as we look forward we can count on that Virginia sentiment, that Virginia heroism, that Virginia patriotism as being directed in the common flow of patriotism in support of the grand old government and the grand old starry flag that we all so much love.

"There is not the slightest doubt that the danger to the country that arose in the Spanish war united the south to the north in a way that nothing else could. But, my friends, a national war is a bit expensive in point of money and blood, and I think we have got to the point where we can go on getting closer and closer without that supreme test that a national war brings about.

Seeks Heroism in Peace.

"We must look forward to a time when war shall cease to come as frequently as in the past, and we must look forward to training up those virtues, less heroic, less spectacular, but as essential to the building up of a great people, and a people of great character as the test of courage and warlike and martial ardor. We must have the economic spirit of self-restraint; we must cultivate the unselfish desire to promote the public weal every day and every week and not every three or four years. Now it is in that direction that we must turn our national spirit and must consume our national energy.

"I believe it is possible if we all strive in the same spirit to make this one common country for all of us, to make it so in every respect. I know that a sensible and patriotic northerner can sit and listen to the tales of heroism of the southerner in the war between the states and feel proud of the deeds that were done by the men of the south in that contest. And I know that the sensible men of the south can do the same thing with respect to the recounting of the glorious deeds of the northern army in the same contest.

"You will always find some fool at one end of the crowd saying something that a fool at the other end of the crowd takes as a challenge, and then they try to stir up the middle by some altogether thoughtless statement that we know sensible men would not pay any attention to, and therefore what we have got to do among us all is to restrain the fools. We must eliminate as far as possible those people on both sides, with whom none of us sympathizes."

WORLD PEACE PLANS MADE

Conference Opened at Mohonk Lake Deploring War.

DR. BUTLER LEADS CRUSADE.

New York Educator Comments on Increase of German Navy.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 19.—The limitation of armament and the permanent establishment of peace throughout the world by arbitration of international disputes is the purpose of the Mohonk Lake conference on international arbitration which opened here today.

More than 300 men prominent in educational, diplomatic, and business circles attended the conference, which will be in session for three days.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the American branch of the Association for International Conciliation, presided and made the opening address.

President Butler referred to the progress toward universal peace made by the second Hague conference, but deplored what he described as present day emotional insanity which resulted in war talk. The speaker cited the attitude of England towards Germany as an instance of unwarranted jealousy. He continued:

"The intensive application of the discoveries of theoretical science to industrial processes has made Germany, in a sense, the world's chief teacher in its great international school of industry and commerce. With this overseas trade expansion has gone the building of a German navy. It appears to be the building of this navy which has so roused the passions of the English people. The inference is drawn that the navy must be intended for an attack upon England.

Thinks English Fears Are Groundless.

"Speaking for myself, and making full use of such opportunities for accurate information as I have enjoyed, I say, with the utmost emphasis and with entire sincerity, that I do not believe there is any ground whatever for this suspicion.

"It is the plain duty of the friends of both England and Germany to exert every possible influence to promote a better understanding of each of these peoples by the other, a fuller appreciation of the services of each to modern civilization, and to point out the folly, not to speak of the wickedness, of permitting the seeds of discord to be sown between them by any element in the population of either.

"The aim of all rational and practicable activity for the permanent establishment of the world's peace and for the promotion of justice is and must always be the education of the world's public opinion. Governments, however popular and however powerful, have ceased to dominate; everywhere public opinion dominates governments."

Deplores Voyage of Warships.

Prof. Samuel T. Dutton, secretary of the Peace Society of New York, made an address on the "Need of a More Effective Organization in the Peace Movement."

"The situation we are facing looks more critical than it did two years ago," he said. "The long voyage of the battleships, glorious as it was in some ways, placed us in a false position before the world.

"Our enormous appropriations for armament are raising serious questions in the chancelleries of Europe. Our competency to help other nations is diminished. We cannot administer the Emmanuel treatment to them unless we believe in the God of nations and are ourselves psychologically and ethically sound."

Limitation of Armaments Favored.

Joshua L. Bailey of Philadelphia said the limitation of armaments and an increased revenue go hand in hand.

Dr. W. P. Rodgers of Cincinnati favored adopting a resolution that the United States government should take the lead in limiting armaments.

Other addresses on kindred topics were delivered by Dr. George W. Kirchwey of Columbia university, Albert K. Smiley, William I. Buchanan of Buffalo, former United States minister to Panama; Prof. Samuel T. Dutton, secretary of the Peace society of the city of New York.

Dupe of Others, Shufeldt Says When Taken as Head of Alleged Swindle Bureau.

Charged with being the head of an alleged swindle bureau, Herbert J. Shufeldt, who says that he is a graduate of Notre Dame university, son of the late W. T. Shufeldt, once a wealthy distiller, is a prisoner in the county jail.

Shufeldt was arraigned yesterday afternoon before United States Commissioner Foote to answer to the charge of using the mails to defraud through answering advertisements of persons seeking to recover lost property. His bond was fixed at $1,000, after he had waived preliminary examination.

Shufeldt's mother, Mrs. Ida M. Shufeldt, 81 years old, and a brother, F. A. Shufeldt, live at 5912 West Randolph street. Shufeldt was arrested in Milwaukee Tuesday night by Postoffice Inspector C. E. Llewellyn.

"Children born with gold spoons in their mouths too often do things that common sense tells them is wrong," Shufeldt said. "I never got a cent out of the swindle. Instead I was used as a dupe by others and my family is disgraced. A stronger will prevailed upon me to write letters to persons who advertised for lost articles as a joke. My family believes in my innocence."

"I don't know a thing about the trouble my brother is in," F. A. Shufeldt said last night. "He is 38 years old—old enough to take care of himself. I do not care to talk about his affairs in any way, and our mother is too old to be worried with them."

TILT AT BANQUET ON FOREIGN TRADE

German Ambassador and Congressman Fowler Argue Before Manufacturers.

MUTUALITY IS PRAISED.

Count von Bernsdorff Also Upholds Quality of Labor in the Fatherland.

New York, May 19.—[Special.]—There was a slight clash tonight at the banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers at the Waldorf, between the German ambassador, count von Bernsdorff, and Congressman Fowler.

Count von Bernsdorff spoke of the benefits of mutuality in foreign trade, apparently remembering that the present modus vivendi on commercial subjects between the United States and the German empire expires with the change in the tariff, and took pains to explain that the cry of pauper labor in Europe could not now be applied to Germany with fairness.

The congressman, leaving his prepared speech, replied to the diplomat that it was more important for Americans to look after the $25,000,000,000 of home trade which enjoys protection than the $10,000,000,000 of foreign commerce for which the whole world is scrambling.

Ludwig Nisson was the toastmaster, and before the regular speeches began was presented with a gavel from the association. He first called on John Kirby Jr., the newly elected president of the association, but he excused himself on the ground that if he made a speech he was sure to touch upon "shop."

Count von Bernsdorff Makes Comment

This forced Count von Bernsdorff to apologize for talking shop, as he felt obliged to defend the doctrine of mutuality in foreign trade. He expressed the hope that Germany might negotiate a new commercial treaty with the United States, and went on to explain what he meant by mutuality in foreign trade.

"All industrial nations," he said, "however well they are protected, reach a point when their factories outrun the demands of their own customers. Then commerce steps in and commerce is reciprocal and based on fair exchange and mutuality. I take the liberty of assuming that when you invited me you intended to show your wish to trade more and more with Germany on the basis of fair exchange."

Tells Standing of German Labor.

Then taking up the question of the pauper labor in Europe, the ambassador said:

"I very much doubt whether the standard of life of German labor is lower than it is here. Living is cheaper in Germany because there are not such high import duties. In most of our large factories wages have risen from 20 to 30 per cent in the last ten years."

Congressman Charles N. Fowler, who is chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, began:

"Let us be careful lest in establishing mutuality we give away our own market of $25,000,000,000. You should be careful before you make a move that it is really to your advantage. Remember that the home market is our own, and that it is better to have a home market of $25,000,000,000 than to be sharing in a foreign market of $10,000,000,000, for which every nation is a competitor."

He suggested that foreign trade might cost as much as it is worth, and pointed out that Germany, which has the most perfect development of its foreign trade, under Bismarck had followed the example of America in adopting protection.

Will Follow Van Cleave's Policies.

Mr. Kirby, who was unanimously elected to the presidency of the association of manufacturers at the annual meeting during the day, says he will follow the policies of Mr. Van Cleave, retiring president.

"I do not believe in compromise with criminals," he said. "It is better to bring the whole labor question to a pointed issue instead of temporizing and fooling with it. The only way to deal with this animal is to take it by the horns till it is made obedient.

"If we had to deal with the 95 per cent of labor men who are for justice and fairness we could settle this whole labor problem in an instant."

"CONJUGAL LOVE" IN LAWSUIT

"Do Swedenborg Doctrines Oppose Public Opinion?"

FIGHT MADE OVER A WILL.

Trustees Want Legacy for Founding a Philadelphia University.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—[Special.]—Whether certain doctrines of Emmanuel Swedenborg as set forth in his book on "Conjugal Love," one of the 149 volumes of that prolific religious writer, are so in conflict with public policy as to invalidate a will or trust made for the benefit of the new church was a matter of argument before the Supreme court in this city today.

The matter came before the court in the form of an appeal by the Academy of the New Church from the Orphan's court of Lancaster county, dismissing the exceptions filed to the adjudication of the estate of Frederick John Krampp, deceased.

The testator was a merchant tailor in the city of Lancaster, who at the time of his death was largely interested in real estate development. He was a man of education, culture, and wide business experience. He became an earnest student of the writings of Emmanuel Swedenborg, and for more than twenty years was the leader of the Lancaster Society of the Church of the New Jerusalem.

Will Provided for University.

When Mr. Krampp died in 1858 it was found that his will, written four years previously, after making certain bequests to his widow and children, provided that the net remainder of his estate should be paid over to seven trustees for the purpose of endowing a university of the New Jerusalem to be founded in the city of Philadelphia, for universal, New church education, for the education of New church ministers, "who are to teach the doctrines of the New Jerusalem as laid down in the writings of the Hon. Emmanuel Swedenborg."

A codicil to the will provided that the trustees should consist of the following persons: L. C. Jungerich of Philadelphia, Henry A. Carpenter of Lancaster county, Simon S. Rathbone of Lancaster city, Alexander Officer of Chicago, the Rev. William H. Benade of Philadelphia, the Rev. N. C. Burnham of Seville, O., and Prof. Rudolph Tafel of Annapolis, Md.

The widow and children were subsequently paid the income due them under the terms of the will. Subsequently by the sale of real estate the sum of $10,000 was paid to other heirs, and the residuary part of the testator's real estate was sold and the money for distribution is the balance of the proceeds. It is said to amount to about $35,000.

Trustees Lay Claim to Fund.

Claims for the remainder of this fund were made by the Academy of the New church by the trustees under the will, and their successors, and also by the heirs of the testator. The Academy of the New church is situated at Bryn Athyn, Montgomery county, about fifteen miles from Philadelphia. The contest over the distribution of the funds hinged upon the legality of the religious doctrine founded on the writings of Swedenborg, which have been the subject of much condemnation and criticism.

It is a matter of church history that almost from the time of publication of Swedenborg's work on "Conjugal Love," which is only one of 149 volumes compiled by this prolific writer, he was subject to attack from many quarters and reported as defending immoral practices.

The doctrines alleged to be based on this book were first questioned at the audit, and from that point up to the present stage the question of the interpretations of the work "Conjugal Love" and the alleged immorality of its teaching has been the sole issue in the case.

"AVENGER" JONES' TRIAL TODAY

Man Who Attempted to Shoot Garfield's Assassin Will Be Arraigned for Killing Another.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—[Special.]—William Jones, known here as "Avenger" Jones, was placed on trial here today for the killing of James A. McPherson in October last. Jones claimed the shooting was in self defense. Jones earned the title of "Avanger" by his attempt to avenge the assassination of President Garfield in 1881. He shot at Assassin Guiteau as the latter was being conducted from the courthouse to the jail.

H. H. ROGERS DEAD; END OF NOTED LIFE

Oil Magnate Succumbs to Apoplexy Suddenly in Home in New York.

MARK TWAIN IN TEARS.

Financier, Philanthropist, Railroad Builder, Market King Began Career Humbly.

New York, May 19.—[Special.]—Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company, moving spirit in the organization of the Amalgamated Copper company, builder of railroads and philanthropist, died at his home here at 7:20 o'clock this morning from a stroke of apoplexy.

Death came about an hour after Mr. Rogers had risen, mentioning to his wife that he was feeling ill. At 7 o'clock he lapsed into unconsciousness and before the family physician arrived he was dead.

Mr. Rogers was 69 years old. Mrs. Rogers, three married daughters, a son, H. H. Rogers Jr., and Dr. W. J. Pulley, a physician who was hastily summoned, were at the bedside when the end came.

While Mr. Rogers' death was sudden and unexpected, he had been in indifferent health since he suffered an apoplectic stroke in 1907 and was almost constantly under a physician's care. His end at this time, however, was a great shock to his family and business associates, as yesterday he was cheerful and went down to business. In the evening he visited the homes of two of his sons-in-law, Urban H. Broughton and William R. Coe, where he played with his grandchildren and later returned to his home for what proved the last mortal sleep of his great career.

Will Be Buried in Native Town.

Final arrangements for the funeral had not been completed late tonight, but it has been decided to hold services at the Church of the Messiah, a Unitarian institution, of which the Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer, a life long friend of Mr. Rogers, is pastor, Friday morning. Dr. Collyer will conduct the services, after which the body will be taken to Fairhaven, Mass., Mr. Rogers' native town, for interment.

News of the financier's death did not become generally known till about two hours after it occurred. The stock exchange had not opened when the report reached Wall street, but with the opening there was hardly an appreciable effect on the market.

After a decline at first all the stocks in which he was popularly supposed to be interested, conditions rapidly adjusted themselves, confirming in a way that Mr. Rogers had in the last few months anticipated death and withdrawn from the market. It is known that he had taken steps to safeguard his interests by placing his direct holdings in various corporations in other hands.

Son or Son-in-Law to Succeed?

Upon whose shoulders his burdens will rest hereafter is problematical, although close friends of the family are inclined to think that this duty will fall to his son-in-law, Urban H. Broughton.

Mr. Rogers is survived by his widow and four children—Henry H. Rogers Jr., Anne, who became Mrs. W. E. Benjamin; Clara whose first husband, Bradford Duff, died four or five years ago, and who afterward married Urban H. Broughton; and Mae, who became Mrs. William R. Coe, after her divorce from Joseph C. Mott.

Henry H. Rogers Jr., now in his thirtieth year, has been active for several years in national guard affairs. He entered the guard as lieutenant in the Twelfth regiment, and afterwards became captain. He resigned from the Twelfth and went into the Twenty-second as lieutenant. He was anxious to become lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-second, and there were two elections held to select the officers for that place, but, because of no choice, the matter finally was thrown into the hands of Gov. Hughes, who appointed Lieut. Daniel Conley.

It was not at first supposed that young Rogers had become prominently identified with business, but, after the panic of 1907, H. H. Rogers Jr. was often at his father's elbow. He became a director in most of the corporations where his father held directorships. There is considerable speculation as to whether the son will take charge of his father's interests, or be guided by the mature experience of Urban H. Broughton, the son-in-law.

Mark Twain in Tears.

The Rogers home tonight is silent save for the muffled tread of prominent callers, who began arriving early this afternoon to extend their sympathies to the widow and children. Conspicuous among these was Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), for many years one of the most intimate friends of the late financier. Mr. Clemens left his country place near Redding, Conn., this morning, intending to visit the Rogers home, only to be confronted with the news of his old friend's death when he arrived at the Grand Central station. Mr. Clemens was too moved to fully express his feelings.

"It is terrible—terrible," he said, with tears in his eyes. "I am inexpressibly shocked."

Henry C. Phipps was one of the first callers, and he was followed shortly by John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper company. They, with other well known men, including the heads of departments of the Standard Oil company, left their cards or spoke a word of sympathy to the bereaved.

In the meantime telegrams were pouring into the house, among the early ones being a message from John D. Rockefeller at Hot Springs, Va. Mr. Rockefeller repeatedly had warned Mr. Rogers to cease his hard work in view of his failing health.

Thomas F. Ryan was notified of Mr. Rogers' death as he was about to sail for Europe. He said the financial world had lost one of its greatest men.

The directors of the Standard Oil company held a meeting this morning, but took no formal action with regard to Mr. Rogers' demise. Standard Oil stock opened unchanged on the curb, and it is understood that the condition of the Virginia railway, which Mr. Rogers opened recently, is such that its prosperity will not be affected. John D. Ryan probably will succeed Mr. Rogers in the presidency of the Amalgamated Copper company.

It is variously estimated that Mr. Rogers left a fortune of from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000.

Power in Shaping Oil Destiny.

Henry Huttleston Rogers, as well known as any man in the financial world, was credited with being as much responsible for the development of the Standard Oil company as John D. Rockefeller himself or any man among those who built up that great corporation. For the activities in the general stock and investment market ascribed to the "Standard Oil group" the street largely held responsible Mr. Rogers and William Rockefeller. It was even said by some men downtown, supposedly well informed, when the great outcry against John D. Rockefeller and the Standard and the "system" began a few years ago, that many of the stories published of "the group's" activities actually were news to Mr. Rockefeller, the activities having been directed by Mr. Rogers.

From youth up and almost to the end Mr. Rogers had been a man of many activities. When the Standard Oil company was formed he naturally was chosen chairman of the manufacturing committee for the reason that he already knew intimately many sides of the business and of allied businesses which the Standard proceeded to take under its wing.

He was a worker all his life and he worked to the end. He also played with abandon on his vacations at his country estate, with his family about him, or on his yachting trips with friends. He spent money freely in charity, but mainly for the development and embellishment of his birthplace, Fairhaven, on Buzzards bay. He was a many sided man as well as an able one, and his personality reflected his multiple characteristics, his eyes alone flashing the most charming geniality at one moment and at another striking some people with terror—especially Thomas W. Lawson.

He began life as a newsboy, grocery worker, and train hand. Then he turned to the oil business and stuck to it, although constantly branching out in investments as soon as he was supplied with capital. He went particularly into gas and copper, and later into railroads and railroad building.

Came of Plymouth Rock Ancestry.

Mr. Rogers was born on Jan. 29, 1840, at Fairhaven, Mass. His ancestors were New Englanders from the Plymouth Rock days. His father, Roland Rogers, died in 1861, when only 52 years old, and about that time the son went into the oil business. His mother, who was Mary Eldredge Huttleston, died only recently, in her 90th year, and in her memory Mr. Rogers erected a beautiful church at Fairhaven. She had three children, the eldest, Eliza S., dying in childhood. Henry H. was the second child. He has a brother, Rufus A., of Chicago.

Of Mr. Rogers' four great-grandfathers it is said that three were soldiers of the revolution, the two on the paternal side being Lot Rogers of Tilbury and Deacon Cephas Cushman of Mattapoisett. Early in the civil war H. H. Rogers was tempted to enlist, but his business interests already were diverse and he compromised by contributing largely to the funds for the amelioration of the soldiers' lot. He and his young wife were then in the oil regions and she used to tell of the conditions under which they worked there at first, she even doing the washing on the banks of a brook.

Schooling Ended in 16th Year.

Mr. Rogers' schooling ended in his sixteenth year, when he was graduated from the Fairhaven High school. He used to complain in school that the benches cramped his long legs, and he told the teacher that if he ever got rich he would build a school there where boys could be comfortable. He kept his word. It was his first of many gifts to the town, and the school cost him $75,000.

When he left school he undertook to sell papers, but the town was so small he had to go over to New Bedford to make the business pay. Then he went into his father's grocery store as a clerk at $3 a week and board, and staid there five years. After that for a short time he worked on the Fairhaven branch railway at $1.10 a day as brakeman and signalman, and then with his bride, who was Miss Abbie T. Gifford of Fairhaven, he went into the Pennsylvania oil regions to make his fortune, knowing no more of the business or the region than he had read in the newspapers.

He settled at McClintock's Wells, staid there for five or six years, and mastered the business as opportunity offered. Bartholomew Taber, proprietor of a paint shop at Fairhaven, who was a customer of Charles Pratt of Brooklyn, then practically in control of the retail oil trade in the metropolitan district, recommended Rogers as just the bright New Englander for whom Mr. Pratt was looking to develop his business further, and Rogers came to New York. Before coming here he had formed a connection with the Pennsylvania Salt company of Natrona, operating one of the largest refineries on the Alleghany river, besides its chemical works.

Becomes Factor in Pratt Concern.

Mr. Rogers soon became a considerable factor in the Pratt concern, and when, in 1874, that union of the principal refineries of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, and Cleveland was effected which became the Standard Oil company Mr. Rogers and Mr. Pratt became trustees of the Standard.

Until his death Mr. Rogers was one of the controlling factors of that great organization. In the early '90's he was president of the corporation, and later he was vice president. He interested himself not only in the allied industries of the Standard but in various independent ventures. He invested heavily in mining companies, and came into control of such important companies as Amalgamated Copper, Boston and Montana, and Butte and Montana, which in 1901 were consolidated.

Mr. Rogers was an officer or director of twenty-five or more corporations, among them the Amalgamated Copper company, the Anaconda Mining company, the Atlantic Coast Electric railway company, the Brooklyn Gas company, the National Fuel Gas company, the National Transit company, the Richmond Light and railroad company, the Standard Oil company, the United Metals Selling company, the United States Steel corporation, the Union Pacific railroad company, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad company, the Tennessee Copper company, the Guaranty Trust company, the Atlas Tack company, the New Jersey and Staten Island Ferry company, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad company, the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, the Mutual Life Insurance company, the Staten Island Midland railway, and the Rogers Tidewater road, a railroad which he built out of his own capital from Norfolk, Va., to Deepwater, W. Va., a distance of 442 miles.

Virginia Railway Costs Millions.

This was formally opened as the Virginia railway on April 3 last. It cost him many millions of dollars. It was not until long after the "silent panic" of March, 1907, that Wall street learned that huge blocks of investment securities, which at that time were thrown on the market for what they would bring, were sacrificed by Mr. Rogers in order to save his investment on the Tidewater road. It was a little later that Mr. Rogers' friends heard of his first apoplectic stroke.

Mr. Rogers was by force a prominent figure in financial battles which concerned the properties in which he was interested. The history of the gas companies was one of perpetual warfare; so was the history of his copper companies and in later years he was a big figure in several other battles that have thrilled the world of finance. In 1905, when the Equitable Life scandal hardly had begun, Attorney General Hadley of Missouri came here with a suit to oust the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and the Waters-Pierce Oil company of Texas from that state.

Rogers forthwith became a central figure in the battle. He was called to the witness stand an subjected to a line of questioning tending to show the existence of a monopoly. The first of these questions produced Rogers' retort:

"I refuse to answer on the advice of counsel."

Out of Frying Pan Into Fire.

He was hardly out of this Missouri case when he was drawn into the insurance warfare. He long had been a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance company; he was a director of the Union Pacific railroad. There was internal warfare in the Mutual between Stuyvesant Fish and a group of the old trustees. There was warfare in the Illinois Central, where Fish was president and Harriman was trying to unseat him.

The two battles came into an inevitable relation on account of the personnel of the opposing army. Rogers, in the Mutual, retired himself as a trustee when the ticket was named which went into the campaign against the policyholders' committee, but he was largely instrumental in selecting that ticket, and had a large share in the struggle itself.

In the Illinois Central fight it was at his office that the agreement was brought about whereby the Harriman forces gained a year's time, and eventually were enabled to displace Fish.

Mr. Rogers' gifts to Fairhaven have been estimated at about $3,000,000. Besides the memorial church to his mother and the schoolhouse already mentioned, he built there a Masonic hall which is one of the largest in the country. He also built the town hall. The Millicent library he built as a memorial to his daughter at a cost of $200,000. He gave to the Unitarian church a group of buildings valued at about $1,000,000. The gift was in memory of his first wife.

In 1896 he married Emelie Augusta Randel, daughter of the head of the great diamond house of Randel, Baremore & Billings. She had been Mrs. Lucius R. Hart, but upon divorcing her first husband had obtained permission to resume her maiden name.

DEWEY DECLARES NAVY IS PEERLESS.

Admiral Says the Ships, Officers, and Men Are the Best of Any Nation.

NO FIGHT AMONG LEADERS

Even Britons Admit Our New Battleships Surpass Their Dreadnoughts.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—[Special.]—"It is my firm conviction that the navy is in better condition today than it has been for fifty years."

The admiral of the navy made this statement with an emphasis that left no doubt in my mind as to the strength of his belief. No one deplores the agitation which has been casting doubts as to the efficiency of the service more than he.

"In ships, and officers, and men," the admiral continued, "we are justified in expressing national satisfaction. So far as our men are concerned, we beat the world. Thousands of these young fellows come from the great middle west. We have a relief organization and whenever a man dies we institute an investigation with a view of giving help to any needy persons dependent upon him. It is rarely that we find it necessary to extend aid. The men for the most part come from well to do families, who have the American characteristics of industry and independence. The enlisted men are as fine a body as could be assembled under any flag in the world.

"It is hardly necessary for me to describe the high character of the officers. I do not know any of them who are not inspired by a sincere and patriotic purpose to do their work to the best of their ability and to make the service as efficient as they possibly can. You will see from this that I do not believe anything is the matter with the navy. Any one familiar with the conditions will realize this to be true.

Officers Not at Outs.

"The talk about the line and staff officers being at odds is newspaper comment. Time has demonstrated the value of the plan of amalgamating the line and old engineer corps. This plan has worked with the best results and it has been adopted abroad. It might be well to go a step farther and to amalgamate the constructors with the line. They are graduates of the naval academy, and the honor men of each class are selected for service in the construction corps.

"Chief Naval Constructor Capps served with me in the Philippines and I have no doubt was greatly benefited by the experience he received in repairing our vessels and in floating those of the Spaniards which were sunk in the battle at Manila bay and since have served as patrol ships among the islands.

"The talk about the line and staff controversy has grown out of the execution of the Newberry plan, under which the chief constructor was placed in charge of the bureau of steam engineering. This dispute has been settled by the appointment of Lieut. Commander Cone, who formerly was an officer of the engineer corps and whose latest service was as chief engineer of the Atlantic fleet on its tour around the world."

Big Navy Peace Move.

I called Admiral Dewey's attention to the numerous conferences which are being held for the purpose of promoting international peace.

"If we want peace with the rest of the world," he said, "we must keep on with the development of our navy.

"Of course, I realize that this is a year when economy must be practiced and perhaps congress may not be able to give as generous an appropriation for the service as it would like. But it must not be forgotten that ships deteriorate. These should be replaced and others built. Germany has arbitrarily decreed that a battleship is obsolete after twenty years' service. We have announced no such policy. We say a ship is obsolete when it is obsolete. Some old ships are better than the new ones. But in case of the vessels appropriated for last year we will unquestionably have two of the finest men of war in the world. This also is the opinion of foreign experts."

English Praise American Ships.

The admiral picked up an English service paper and read the following comment from a high class English naval journal:

"The Dreadnought and all of its successors in the British service—the Bellerophon, Temeraire, Superb, St. Vincent, Collingwood, Vanguard, and Neptune—are the most weakly armed of all modern battleships now under construction in the world. In offensive power they are outclassed by battleships now being built for Germany, Brazil, Japan, Italy, and the United States.

"The last named power has pursued a consistent course in the development of its Dreadnought policy. It laid down the first all-big-gun ships in 1906, and they will be completed this summer. They are the South Carolina and Michigan, each of 16,000 tons, and although they carry only eight 12 inch guns, they can fire the whole of them on either broadside, and may thus be reckoned as almost equal to the Dreadnought, which, with ten guns, can obtain no more effective broadside fire.

America Makes Fast Progress.

"In the following years, while Great Britain stuck to the Dreadnought design, the United States went one better than its 1906 ships and produced designs for two vessels—the Delaware and North Dakota—of 20,000 tons each, armed with ten 12 inch guns. The whole of the five turrets, however, are placed on the center line of the ships, so that here again the full armament of 12 inch guns can be brought to bear on either broadside. This is two more than any British Dreadnought.

"In 1908 the Utah and Florida, which are similar to the Delaware, were laid down; but this year a further step has been taken. Two ships are to be laid down, their names being Wyoming and Oklahoma. They are not only to be the largest in the world—their displacement being no less than 26,000 tons—but will carry an armament at least 50 per cent more effective than that of the Dreadnought.

"Their twelve guns will be arranged in six turrets, all disposed on the center line, and the full battery will be available on either broadside. The weight of the Wyoming's broadside will be 10,200 pounds with these guns alone to the 6,800 pounds of the British Dreadnought and its successors down to date."

The same article showed that the American ships were superior in defense against torpedo attack and in protection.

"That article," continued the admiral, "was written without any desire to be considerate of American feelings and shows exactly the foreign opinion of our development. Doesn't it indicate, in spite of what has been printed alleging that our ships are defective or not of advanced designs, that we have built both wisely and well? The navy welcomes an investigation with the clearest conscience, although, as I have said, there is no need of it. The people have every reason to be satisfied not only with the ships but with the personnel."

Admiral Dewey is coöperating earnestly with the wishes of the administration to introduce economy in the operation of the sea branch of the government. The advice of the general board, of which he is the president, is being taken in this and other connections by Secretary of the Navy Meyer. It is understood the navy department will not press for more than two battleships at the next session of congress, though the necessity for such an addition and even a larger one to the service is thoroughly recognized by those who have studied the problem of the defense of American interests in all parts of the world.

Congress Expected to Act.

It is believed congress will not hesitate to make this authorization, since two years ago an agreement was reached whereby the senate practically bound itself to make this addition to the navy annually. The Navy league, which has branches in practically every section of the country, has issued a pamphlet in which it shows, to quote an epigram therein made, that "battleships are cheaper than battle."

It calls attention to the fact that peace programs have accomplished nothing as to the limitation of armaments, and gives an extract from a message of President Roosevelt in which it is stated:

"Actual experience shows not merely that it was impossible (at the last Hague peace conference) to obtain an agreement for the limitation of armaments among the various leading powers, and that there was no likelihood whatever of obtaining it within any reasonable time."

The war with Spain cost our government over $4,000,000 per day. It is estimated that a war with a great power would prove many times more costly, and the pamphlet asserts that the cost of a war between two first rate European powers would be $10,000,000 daily, or the cost of one Dreadnought. Consequently a navy offers cheaper insurance against the mere material cost of war.

BROKER SMITH FREE ON BOND, BUT NEW ACCUSER APPEARS.

Man Charged with Check Juggling Is Called Victim of Error—Wisconsin Man Complains of Loss.

Clarence Edward Smith, president of the National Investment and Agency company, arrested on a fugitive warrant Tuesday night, was released yesterday on his own recognizance pending the final disposition of habeas corpus proceedings this morning.

His arrest on that charge appears to have been a mistake. But Smith's troubles will not be over, it is said, even with the favorable disposition of that case, because R. L. Whitehill, representing his father-in-law, E. B. Garton, president of a toy manufacturing concern at Sheboygan, Wis., has filed complaint with the police and declared his intention of swearing out a warrant for Smith today. Attorney Robert E. Cantwell, representing Smith, says Smith is not criminally involved in any transaction with the Sheboygan man, and is sure that charge will fall flat.

Smith is said to have sold Garton fifty shares of the Old Colony Life Insurance company at $21 a share, which aggregated $1,050, which, Whitehill declares, was given back into Smith's hands to sell to other parties. Whitehill avers the stock was transferred to two other men some time ago and Smith failed to account for the money.

Miss Emma M. Lencock, cashier for the defunct investment company, now in the hands of Receiver John S. Chenneour, its former second vice president, declared Garton turned the stock back to the investment company to help it out of its financial muddle and was now in the general bankruptcy fund.

Smith, it was said, got into financial difficulties with the Marshall & Ilsley bank, the German American and the Germania National banks, and the Republican hotel, where he and his wife stopped in Milwaukee. Marshall & Ilsley swore out a warrant alleging Smith gave them a check on a Chicago bank in which he had no funds.

The police had Smith arraigned before Judge Hume, and secured a continuance until Tuesday. The court fixed the bond at $3,000, and in default the prisoner was sent to jail. Subsequently, the Chicago police received this telegram from the Milwaukee chief:

"Request that charge be withdrawn. Chief of Police Sheck of Sheboygan advises he is having extradition papers prepared."

PATTEN ADVISES LOCAL FLOUR MEN

Tells Millers That High Prices Will Continue in Wheat Market for a Year.

ADDRESS KEPT SECRET.

Guests Leave Room During Grain Leader's Talk and Members Seal Their Lips.

No matter how his corner in wheat turns out James A. Patten succeeded in running a corner last night that was eminently successful. He cornered the Flour Men's club of Chicago, and made them bar out invited guests while he told "something" to thirty-seven members.

He was asked afterward what he had said. "I just told them a few incidents about my early life, which I would not like to have published," he said.

Then he proceeded to a small private room and dictated to the representative of a news bureau what he said was the substance of his talk.

J. T. Lenfesty, the president, had issued several invitations to others than members of the club to attend this monthly dinner, announcing that Mr. Patten would be present and make an address.

The invited guests were allowed to remain through the dinner. Then Mr. Lenfesty requested all who were not members to leave the room, whereupon the doors were locked.

Guests Barred on Request.

Afterward Mr. Lenfesty explained that on Saturday he had a note from Mr. Patten saying he would not speak if outsiders were present.

"Rather than forego the pleasure of hearing him and learning something of possible interest to the members of the trade we were obliged to exclude our guests," he said.

Whether or not the millers took Mr. Patten's remarks as gospel they would not say. D. D. Vaughn, secretary of the club, stated that it was interesting, but that was as far as he would go. Two other members declared after the talk that they had decided it was about time to sell some of their flour, if they could. They admitted, however, that such was not the advice which Mr. Patten gave them.

Other speakers were Frank B. Rice, a miller, and Charles B. Pierce, manager of the cash grain business for Bartlett, Patten & Co.

Patten's Statement of Talk.

According to the statement which he gave out for publication Mr. Patten said:

"Wheat is bound to sell at higher prices. I call your attention to the statement recently made by James J. Hill, in which he said that we are rapidly reaching the point where consumption is overtaking production."

He recited various causes for the probable shortage of this year's crop, and the dearth of wheat all over the world, and continued:

"These causes led me to believe that if we didn't put the prices above an export business we would run short of the supply in this country. Further than that, the farmers in a large part of the country, especially in the spring wheat section, have found that they can get $25 an acre by raising barley and other similar cereals, against $12 to $14 from wheat, and have therefore abandoned wheat as unprofitable.

"I predict that higher prices will prevail for wheat all over the world for a year to come, and red winter wheat will sell as high in America a year from now as it does today."

'SHRUB SHOWER' BACKDOOR FAD

Guests of the Ingwersons Bring Evergreens in Autos and Help Plant Them Afterwards.

The latest thing in showers is the "shrub" shower.

And if the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy H. Ingwerson, 9816 Longwood avenue, the recipients of the latest "fad," and their friends who planned and executed the unique idea, is any criterion, "shrub showers" will be popular ere long.

The Ingwersons, who have recently moved, were surprised when the first "culprits" arrived in an auto and knocked at the rear door. This breach of etiquette was explained when it was learned that the visitors had deposited a "bunch" of shrubs in the rear yard.

Other visitors to the number of a dozen followed this example. The fun came when the entire company, men and women, helped to plant the shrubs.

PHYSICIAN QUITS TRAINING VESSEL.

Refusal of Captain to Purchase Aspirin Cause of the Resignation.

HIT SUNDAY BLUE LAWS.

Speakers at New York Massmeeting Protest Against Lid Enforcement.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, May 19.

Surgeon Quits Ship in a Tiff.

Dr. Keran O'Brien, a well known Brooklyn physician, with offices at 190 State street, arrived in New York tonight from New London, Conn., where a few hours before he had suddenly resigned his commission as surgeon of the New York state training ship Newport, just as it was about to leave that port on the annual foreign cruise. The doctor's action held up the ship, and it may be several days before it can sail.

Dr. O'Brien's resignation was handed to the officer of the deck after he and Capt. Everhart of the Newport had had a fierce war of words over the purchase of $5 worth of aspirin, a remedy for rheumatism, which the physician declared to be absolutely essential, and which the commander repeatedly refused to buy.

The row, it is said, lasted nearly a whole day, and at the end of that time, when Dr. O'Brien saw that he could not swerve Capt. Everhart, he told the commander that he could not sail with him.

Protest Against Sunday Blue Laws.

At Cooper Union tonight a massmeeting was held to "protest against the enforcement of Sunday blue laws." The meeting was under the auspices of the Liberal Sunday league, a non-partisan organization.

Antonio Zucca, a municipal officer, presided. He referred to New York as the most over-governed city in the country.

"What we need," he said, "is not more laws, but more freedom. New York should have the same liberty on Sunday, the poor man's day, which other cities, Cincinnati, Chicago, and the European capitals enjoy."

Safe Cracking Code Not for Modern Safes.

Owners of really modern safes need not be disturbed by the revelations contained in "Deafy" Hunt's safe cracking code, according to makers of up to date safes and bank vaults in this city. Safes to which the burglar's cipher manuscript applies, according to safe makers, belong to the old style of the last generation type. Practically every make of safe mentioned in "Deafy's" cipher was manufactured twenty-five years ago, when chrome steel, with its differently treated variety of welded steel plates, was only beginning to be experimented with.

"Fourteen hours is the time, according to tests, which it would take a burglar or yeggman to bore his way through the chrome steel door of the modern burglarproof chest," one of these safe manufacturers said today.

Powder Hearing Resumed; Prices Not Cut.

Hearings in the government's suit against the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder company, brought under the anti-trust law, were resumed here today. The government rested its case early in April and the first witness for the defense was examined this afternoon. Counsel for the powder company said the presentation of their testimony would occupy several weeks.

Edward C. Ferriday, for several years a director of sales for the company, was the only witness heard today. He testified that the price of explosives was fixed by a sales board and that branch managers and salesmen had no authority to modify the prices.

Keiran Refused Examination of Company's Books.

Permission to examine the books of the defunct Fidelity Funding company, the failure of which involved a number of Roman Catholic institutions in various parts of the country, was today refused to Patrick J. Kieran, former head of the concern. Kieran asked that the court direct the receiver to give him access to the books on the ground that this would enable him to ascertain the amount of his liability on notes indorsed by him and would assist him in the settlement of his affairs.

Morse Mansion to Be Sold at Auction.

The announcement was made today that the Charles W. Morse mansion at 728 Fifth avenue is to be sold under the auctioneer's hammer on June 10. Creditors having more than $400,000 in claims against the residence have obtained a court order authorizing the disposal of the property to the highest bidder. This means that Mrs. Morse, wife of the former ice king, will be dispossessed unless friends of the imprisoned capitalist come to her aid and raise more than half a million dollars to save this remnant of what was five years ago one of the greatest fortunes in America.

Announcement was made during the day that Emperor William, in recognition of their good offices in connection with the exhibition of German contemporary art recently held at the Metropolitan museum, has presented to J. HEATED FIGHT IN ASSEMBLY OVER CHOICE OF MODERATOR.

Three Candidates Withdraw, Throwing Strength to Dr. Hill for Leader of Presbyterians.

Denver, Colo., May 19.—[Special.]—Electioneering for the moderatorship of the Presbyterian general assembly, which will open in this city tomorrow morning, is running warmer than in any previous assembly. The Pittsburg men opened headquarters early this morning in a large hotel, and if the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburg, is not elected it will not be their fault.

The annual foreign missionary conference was held all day, closing with a massmeeting at night.

After a caucus tonight of the supporters of Dr. Edgar P. Hill of Chicago, Dr. Howard Agnew Johnston of Colorado Springs and Dr. Robert MacKenzie of New York, it was announced that the two latter had withdrawn as candidate for moderator of the Presbyterian assembly, and would throw their strength to Dr. Hill.

WIN G. A. R. AUXILIARY FIGHT

Supporters of Mrs. Palmer Control Woman's Relief Corps.

HAYES AS NEXT COMMANDER

General Grant Attends Great Parade at the Aurora Encampment.

Hundreds of women screamed hysterically and cried, while two mounting the pulpit waived their arms at the First Methodist church in Aurora when it was announced last evening that Mrs. Ida E. Palmer, 3224 Prairie avenue, had been elected department president of the Woman's Relief corps, senior body of the G. A. R. associate organizations.

It was the second day of the forty-third annual encampment of the G. A. R., department of Illinois, now in three day session at Aurora. Mrs. Palmer triumphed over Mrs. Ella V. Work, 6914 Chauncey avenue, by a vote of 335 to 318, after a heartbreaking day for feminine political leaders and workers.

The fight for the office had been spectacular in the extreme. Many of the delegates had been so wrought up they had neglected to eat at noon or evening though meals were served in the basement of the church.

The women went into convention in the noon hour and impassioned oratorical efforts, pleadings and arguments continued until after 6 o'clock in the evening. Sympathy was the great factor in Mrs. Palmer's election. A woman of exceptional presence and magnetism, she had striven four times unsuccessfully for the honor she finally was given.

Gen. Hayes Next Commander.

Gen. P. C. Hayes of Joliet was agreed upon during the day as the next department commander of the Illinois G. A. R. at an informal meeting of the delegates. Gen. Hayes' only opponent, John S. Walker of Aurora, announced his withdrawal, and he will second Gen. Hayes' nomination today.

Gen. Hayes was born in Connecticut in 1833 and came to Illinois in 1834. He served through the civil war in the One Hundred and Third Ohio Volunteers infantry, and was breveted a brigadier general at the close of the conflict by President Lincoln. He received notice of President Lincoln's action in a letter from Gen. U. S. Grant.

Freeport will entertain the Illinois G. A. R. and associate societies in the forty-fourth annual encampment, May, 1910. That was definitely decided in the afternoon. Springfield put up a mild fight for the honor, but Freeport carried too many guns.

The most intensely fought battle of the present encampment at Aurora is yet to come. The Ladies of the G. A. R. are having a struggle for department commander that teems with promises of further sensations when the delegates get together for the election this afternoon. Mrs. Harriet Hudson, 5323 Indiana avenue, the candidate of the faction led by the Illinois department commander, Mrs. Adelaide V. Reed of Chicago, was believed a sure winner on Tuesday, but during the day Mrs. Lillie Stewart, 10 Frances place, candidate of Mrs. Genevieve Hager Lane, national department commander, had gained much strength and was considered at least on an even footing with Mrs. Hudson.

The fight on Mrs. Stewart is a fight on the "Hagar" control of the Ladies of the G. A. R., according to the opponents of Mrs. Stewart.

National Department Commander Mrs. Genevieve Hager Lane, who is directing Mrs. Stewart's campaign, is one of the "Hagar" family, and she and her mother and sister have held the highest offices in the gift of the Ladies of the G. A. R. for twelve years. "They have tried to get our scalp for a dozen years, and they are to fail again," said Mrs. Hager Lane in the evening.

Retiring Department Commander Joseph Rosenbaum of Chicago was presented with a beautiful past commander's badge at the opening session of the encampment proper in the Grand opera house. Benson Wood presented the gift. The emblem is set with six diamonds.

Gen. Grant in the Parade.

With his aid, Capt. Bowley, Gen. Frederick D. Grant and Mrs. Grant occupied a carriage in the parade of 6,000 G. A. R. veterans through Aurora's streets in the afternoon.

The oldest man in the parade was Phillip J. Wintz of the E. T. Dow post of Anawan, Ill. He marched as briskly after the tramp of several miles as he did when the parade started. Mr. Wintz said he never missed a state or national encampment and always marched in the parades.

The streets swarmed with people long before noon, special trains bringing 23,000 or more veterans and visitors, principally from Chicago.

DECIDES PET DOG'S FATE TODAY

Court Will Determine Whether Mrs. Goulding's Copper Shall Die for Biting Boy.

The fate of Copper, a bulldog belonging to Mrs. Alice Goulding and her daughter, Peggy, who live at 745 Wells street, will be determined today in the Municipal court. Sentence of death was imposed on May 12, but the court granted a stay of execution, which has resulted in a new hearing. Copper is charged with biting a boy.

Members of the Humane socety and friends of Mrs. Goulding will offer evidence to show that the statements of Copper's accusers are conflicting and unfounded.

"Copper is a splendid watch dog," said Mrs. Goulding yesterday. "My daughter and I dread to part with him. We live alone and it is necessary that we protect ourselves in some way."

MADDEN WITNESS TELLS OF BRIBERY

Klicka & Co. Agent Swears He Put $1,000 Where "Skinny" Could Get It.

AND CASH DISAPPEARED.

First Witness Testifies He Was Forced to Double Peace Offer of $500.

Skinny Tolerant; Chews Gum.

While the state was questioning witnesses Madden assumed a demeanor of sarcastic tolerance, seldom interfered with the progress of testimony, and every few minutes added a fresh stick of gum to a wad in his mouth. His hair was wet and brushed close down against his head. He wore an olive green suit of clothes with a flashy vest and a good sized diamond in his shirt front.

Pouchot professed entire indifference to the whole proceedings, tipped back his chair and closed his eyes as if asleep. Boyle alone seemed conscious of the fact that the case might have a finish contrary to the hopes of the defendants. He took in every word of argument and testimony, seldom taking his eyes from the witness.

At the opening of the trial bailiffs guarded both the door to the hallway and the entrance to Judge McSurely's court room and would allow none to enter at either morning or afternoon sessions, unless they could show they were connected with the case as witnesses, newspaper men, or attorneys. Only half the seats in the court room were occupied and at adjournment complaint was made to Judge McSurely.

"The public was not kept out by my instructions and I did not know it was being done," he said. "This is a public trial and as long as there are empty seats the public may enter. I only insist that men be prohibited from standing in the court and I do like to reserve a portion of the seats within the rail for the convenience of the newspaper men."

Wayman Opens Fire.

When the case was called in the morning, State's Attorney Wayman, with his first assistant, B. J. Short, appeared for the state, and in addition to Attorney Brady the defendants were represented by Attorney Everett Jennings of Madisonville, Ky. Mr. Wayman read to the jury the law governing conspiracy cases, and then began his opening address.

"The indictment in this case charges these men with having conspired to extort money," the prosecutor began, "from the Joseph Klicka company. It is charged that Martin B. Madden, Fred A. Pouchot, and M. J. Boyle conspired to call what is commonly called a strike on Nov. 18, and that they, without any right and in furtherance of the common design, extorted $1,000 from the Klicka company and its officers.

"It is charged the officers of the Klicka company did yield to the demand of these men and that they were paid the money, after which the so-called strike was discontinued.

"Now, having read you the indictment and law, I will direct myself to what the state expects to prove in substantiating that bill. First I wish to say that the state does not contend there is an illegality in a strike.

"In these modern times men have the right to organize and strike. There are two kinds of strikes. One is when men combine and agree to strike to better themselves. The other is when a corporation violates some injunction of the union.

"This strike was neither of these. This is a case where the three defendants got the benefit of this strike, at the cost of the laborer. We will show that a representative of Madden and others drove up to the Klicka Company building at Twentieth street and California avenue, in an automobile and ordered the men to quit work.

"Told to See Madden."

"When the officials protested, the evidence will show, one of them was handed a card bearing Madden's name and was told to see Madden. We also will show the workmen refused at first to strike because they did not know why they were being called out.

"The evidence then will show that in an effort to settle the strike one D. L. Frazer, a superintendent for Post & Maehler, architects, who were in charge of the work, called on Boyle in a downtown saloon. We will show that he was informed that Emil Klicka would have to see Madden.

"We will show that Klicka and Fraser did call on the men in the saloon. We will show that Klicka was told he would have to pay $1,500 for settlement money, and that he refused to do so, saying to Madden, 'I won't pay it. It's an outrage.'

"Later we will show that one George S. Andres, an engineer, went to Klicka and told him he thought he could settle the strike for $1,000.

"We will show that later Andres, after getting the money from Klicka, went to Madden and Boyle. We will show that Andres offered Madden ten $100 bills, and that he refused to take it, saying, 'You can't touch me that way,' and threw it on the floor.

"The evidence will show that Andres then threw the money on a table, covered it with a blotter, and Madden picked it up. Proving these things, I will ask you to return a verdict of guilty."

Attorney Brady said he would reserve his opening argument until the state rests its case and the taking of testimony is begun.

Visits Saloon as Peace Envoy.

D. L. Frazer, contracting superintendent, who had charge of the construction work of the Klicka plant, was the first witness called.

Frazer testified he had visited a Clark street saloon in company with Klicka in an effort to settle the strike at the Klicka factory. It was brought out in the taking of testimony during the day that the Klicka picture frame factory on California avenue, in which the strike in question was called during last November, was nearly completed, and that the steam fitting, electrical work, and plumbing alone remained to be done.

Fraser testified he went to the saloon where a meeting had been planned, and asked for Madden.

"We asked where Madden was, and Boyle said he would be there in a few minutes," said the witness. "In a little while he came in, and the three of them went into a little office at the end of the bar.

Says Madden Called Pouchot.

"I staid outside. Then Madden came out and called Pouchot, who also was in the saloon. Boyle came out and the three of them talked for a little while. Klicka then emerged and I went to the bank with him and he drew out $200. We returned to the saloon.

"Klicka again went into the little office with Boyle and Madden, and when he came out I heard him say, 'This is a d—d outrage. I won't pay it.'

"Madden said something about knowing Klicka's business and walked away."

"How long did the strike last?"

"About seven weeks."

"Was there any complaint on the part of the workmen?"

"None whatever."

Madden's Name All Powerful.

Emil Klicka, president and manager of the Joseph Klicka company, was called to the stand.

"Do you remember the time that the work on your new plant at Twentieth street and California avenue was stopped?"

"Yes, sir."

"How were you informed of the strike?"

"I was looking over the place, and a couple of men drove up in an automobile and handed me a card with the name of Madden on it. They then ordered the men to discontinue their work."

"What did the men say to you?"

"They told me to go and see Madden."

Admits Check Was Pacifier.

"Did you ever try to settle the strike or go to see Madden?"

"Yes, sir. I sent Supt. Fraser to see Boyle and later I visited him myself. I told him I was anxious to have the strike settled and offered him $200 to cover all of his expenses—expenses he had incurred in calling the strike. He told me he could not accept this, but that if I would return in the afternoon he would tell me what the union wished to do about it. In the afternoon I came back and he said I would have to pay $1,500. I told Boyle I would not stand for it and that it was a little bit high. I then went back to the office of Post & Maehler."

"Did you later give a man of the name of Andres a check for $1,000 to settle the strike?"

"Yes, sir."

"How long after that was the strike settled?"

"The next day."

Would Refer to Other Cases.

At the conclusion of the cross examination of Andres, State's Attorney Wayman asked that the jury be dismissed and an argument on the character of testimony to be introduced at this point in the case was taken up. The prosecutor told the court that he wished to bring to the stand witnesses who would testify as to other cases in which Madden, Pouchot, and Boyle were involved and which would have a direct bearing in proving conspiracy in the present case.

"It is the old problem that we learned among the first in arithmetic, your honor," said Mr. Wayman. "That it takes two points to establish a line. One point will not do. Now it already has been intimated in this case that the defense will be lack of knowledge to extort. It will be argued that Pouchot went around doing these things at the bidding of Madden, but that he had no idea that Madden was to receive money for wrong purposes.

"Now I want to introduce evidence bearing on other cases which will prove that Pouchot in one instance pocketed money himself. Therefore, from that the deduction will be plain that he knew what was going on in this case. And in order to show conspiracy we must prove that all the parties to it had guilty knowledge that an illegal act was contemplated."

Court was adjourned following the prosecutor's argument and without reply from the defense or decision by the court. The trail will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

RAILROADS PLAN DOCK TERMINAL.

Three Western Lines Want Others to Join in Scheme to Cut Cost of Transfers.

SITE ON CHICAGO RIVER.

President Ripley Denies Santa Fe Intends to Build New Depot on State Street.

Western railroads are planning to eliminate much of the inconvenience and expense involved in transferring freight between the lake and rail lines by establishing general dock and terminal facilities on the Chicago river.

While the plans are tentative, the terminals and docks of the Chicago river and Indiana river have been selected for the experiment and three roads, the Santa Fé, St. Paul, and the Burlington, are using them exclusively for their lake business. This switching road, a subsidiary of the Chicago Junction railway, recently acquired additional property from the Santa Fé and has eighteen acres of land at Fortieth and Ash streets. This is sufficient for a storage yard with a capacity for 3,000 cars.

The roads that are using these terminals are trying to persuade the other roads to do likewise, and several conferences have been held to consider the subject.

Storekeepers End Convention.

The convention of the Railway Storekeepers' association at the Auditorium closed yesterday after the election of these officers: President, D. A. Williams, Baltimore, Baltimore and Ohio railroad; first vice president, J. H. Waterman, Lincoln, Neb., Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway; second vice president, W. F. Jones, New York, New York Central railroad; secretary-treasurer, J. P. Murphy, Lake Shore railway, Collinwood, O.

In a paper on railroad ties, W. F. Goltra, tie agent of the Lake Shore and Michigan Central roads at Cleveland, said there was no danger of exhausting the timber supply in the United States if proper care were taken.

"I am not one of those who believe that the forest resources of the country will be exhausted in thirty, forty, or fifty years," he said. "With economical lumbering, intelligent manufacturing, preservation of timber by treatment, and reforestation, with state and federal regulation, the supply will last perhaps as long as the nation endures."

Uniform organization for a railway stores department was adopted.

Denies Santa Fe Plans Depot.

President Ripley of the Santa Fé declared in the afternoon that there was absolutely no foundation for the report that the Santa Fé had purchased property for a new passenger terminal in State street.

"Our contract to use the Polk street depot runs for eighteen years more," he said, "and we have not the slightest intention of building a station."

At the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Western Railway club, W. E. Sharp, master car builder of the Armour car lines, was elected president. The other officers are: First vice president, J. F. De Voy, mechanical engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway; second vice president, C. B. Young, mechanical engineer of the Burlington; secretary, J. W. Taylor; treasurer, Peter H. Peck.

E. C. Nettels has resigned as assistant general freight agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, effective on June 1. He will become traffic manager of the Postum Cereal company at Battle Creek, Mich.

T. M. Johnson has been appointed paymaster of the Chicago Great Western railway in place of K. F. Dreher, resigned.

The last rail to connect Chicago with Tacoma and Seattle on the St. Paul railway's Puget sound extension was laid in the afternoon near Hell Gate station, about 100 miles east of Butte, Mont.

HASTENS HEARING OF VAN VLISSINGEN

Referee Gives Witness Another Week, but Demands Next Session Be Last.

EAGER TO BE IN JOLIET.

Forger Testifies to Dealings with Rosenfeld and Rosenberg as Shown by Books.

Peter Van Vlissingen has another week's respite before he must return to the penitentiary to serve the rest of his indeterminate sentence. He has been in Chicago a month, living at the residence of his guard, Deputy United States Marshal Wainwright, and yet he says he is anxious to go back to Joliet's strict discipline and plainer fare.

At yesterday's hearing Van Vlissingen replied to questions put to him in writing by Lessing Rosenthal, attorney for Maurice Rosenfeld and Bernhard Rosenberg, the answers to which he has been ten days preparing from books and papers taken from his office. At the close of the hearing Referee Wean expressed a desire to have the case ended at the earliest possible moment, so that Van Vlissingen might be returned to the safekeeping of the state of Illinois.

"Are we to go on with this hearing all summer?" he asked, when Attorney Rigby, representing the estate of Valentine Blatz and heirs, asked that sufficient time be given to Van Vlissingen in which to prepare answers to questions he wished to put.

"I want the next hearing to be the last. How soon can you prepare answers to the rest of Mr. Rosenthal's questions and those Mr. Rigby wants to ask?" he asked, turning to Van Vlissingen.

"It will take me three days to get ready for Mr. Rosenthal, and perhaps two days longer to prepare answers for Mr. Rigby."

Gives Testimony from Notes.

Van Vlissingen's testimony was given "by the book." He had the list of questions before him and had his own memoranda from which to read his answers.

"Did you examine the paper contained in the box you formerly said was in your vault and labaled 'Maurice Rosenfeld'? I think you said that, after you had confessed to him, you put all papers relating to your transactions with him in that box," asked Mr. Rosenthal.

"I have had some of those papers in my hands," replied the witness. "Among them were forged mortgages and notes returned by Mr. Rosenfeld, checks bearing his indorsements, coupons, forged principal notes, bearing Mr. Rosenfeld's indorsement, and memoranda showing the distribution made by him of the moneys I paid him, that is, the dividends he paid to members of the family."

"Have you these papers with you?" asked Mr. Rosenthal.

"No, but I have photographs of some of them."

A dozen photographs were handed to Mr. Rosenthal, who examined them with his associate counsel, Frank Smith.

"Were photographs made of the other papers in that box?" asked Mr. Rosenthal.

Van Vlissingen explained that they were in the custody of the Chicago Title and Trust company, the attorney of which, George H. Peaks, was asked by Referee Wean whether he would show them to Mr. Rosenthal.

"I cannot answer until I have conferred with the officers of the trust company," replied Mr. Peaks.

Shows Debts on Dec. 10, 1904.

The witness testified his books showed that Rosenfeld and Rosenberg and their family connections had the following amounts of forged paper, or his personal notes, secured by forged paper, on Dec. 10, 1904, the day he confessed:

Maurice Rosenfeld, forged mortgages, $86,600, and two notes, one for $42,000 and the other for $10,000, both secured by forged papers. It was explained that these mortgages were bought by Mr. Rosenfeld, but that some of them were held by either Mattie Rosenfeld or Harry Rosenfeld.

Charles Stettauer, $29,500 forged mortgages.

Carrie Stettauer, $68,100 forged mortgages.

Frances Schaffner, $32,200 forged mortgages.

Bernhard Rosenberg, $24,000 forged mortgages and notes for $6,500, secured by forged papers as collateral.

Hannah Frank, $42,900 forged mortgages.

Augusta Mannheimer, $22,800 forged mortgages and a note for $3,000, secured by forged collateral.

Of the forged papers held as collateral, Mr. Rosenthal held what purported to be $104,800 worth, and Mr. Rosenberg held $9,800 worth, while Augusta Mannheimer held forged mortgages having a face value of $4,000. Mr.

Amounts Due Defendants.

Van Vlissingen said his books showed the following figures to be due Rosenfeld and Rosenberg and the members of their families when the crash came on Nov. 16, 1908:

Augusta Mannheimer, $17,860.

Bernhard Rosenberg, a note for $2,000 and $20,750 in forged mortgages.

Hannah Frank, $30,050 forged mortgages.

Charles Stettauer, $20,650 forged mortgages.

Carrie Stettauer, $47,700 forged mortgages.

Frances Schaffner, $22,500 forged mortgages.

Maurice Rosenfeld, $62,000 forged mortgages and his notes aggregating $35,800.

Further testimony showed the following had been received back from Mr. Rosenthal after Van Vlissingen's confession and had been used in other transactions:

Clark loan, $3,000, reissued to Lefens and Seipp as collateral for his note.

Francoeur loan, $2,300, reissued to Lefens and Seipp as collateral on a note.

Moore loan, $3,500, reissued to Rudolph Brandt as collateral on a note.

Maher loan, $4,000, returned by Hannah Frank and reissued to Lefens and Seipp as collateral on a note.

Divane loan, $2,500, returned by Hannah Frank and reissued to Rudolph Brandt as collateral.

Goodman loan, returned by Frances Schaffner, $3,200, and reissued to Lefens and Seipp as collateral.

Grabowski loan, $2,400, returned by Hannah Frank and sold again to John A. Orb.

Continuance until next Thursday at 10 o'clock was taken. Meanwhile Van Vlissingen will continue the examination of his books.

TELLS OF LARGE LOANS MADE BY NATIONAL LIFE COMPANY.

Edward A. Shedd Admits Money Was Advanced to Other Corporations in Which He Was Interested.

Excessive loans made by the National Life Insurance company when the controlling interest was owned by Edward A. Shedd, C. B. Shedd, and A. M. Johnson were inquired into yesterday at the resumed hearing of the injunction suit of the insurance company against Gustav Myers and J. Edson McEldowney before Master in Chancery Zeisler.

E. A. Shedd occupied the witness stand throughout the day. Attorney Charles H. Aldrich, counsel for the defendants, asked:

"Did the finance committee of the National Life company report to the board of directors from time to time regarding loans made by the company?"

"I don't remember, but I suppose it did," replied Mr. Shedd.

"The National Life company loaned $250,000 to the North American Cold Storage company, didn't it?" asked Mr. Aldrich.

"It is admitted that in the year 1904 the North American Cold Storage company borrowed of the National Life company, secured by a first lien of the property, $250,000," intervened Attorney Stebbins, representing the insurance company. "E. A. and C. B. Shedd and A. M. Johnson owned the controlling interest in the storage company and were its chief officers at the time the loan was made."

The hearing will be resumed today.

A. M. Adams of Patten de Luxe Book Case Accused of Attack.

KICKED OUT BY BOARDER.

Woman Tells How Defendant Answered Her "Room to Rent" Ad.

Mrs. Myrtle Hingston appeared as plaintiff yesterday in Judge Wells' court against Albert Miller Adams. She asks $1,000 damages for an attempt at assault which, she says, Adams made when he called at her flat, 4317 Greenwood avenue, in response to an advertisement of rooms to let.

Adams, who had been living at the Illinois Athletic club, is a publisher with offices at 208 Dearborn street. He is under indictment with John M. McFarland and Samuel Rosenfield on a charge of conspiracy to obtain $8,000 from Mrs. James A. Patten in the de luxe book case.

One of Mrs. Hingston's witnesses is W. E. Ser Vis, who recently was divorced, and who says he is anxious to testify regarding Adams, his brother-in-law.

While securing a jury, P. J. McArdle, representing Adams, and A. L. Gettys, representing Mrs. Hingston, asked the talesmen many questions.

The jurors all denied having any opinions upon the subject of widows and the trial began.

Tells Her Story to Jury.

Mrs. Hingston was the first witness. She said she moved to 1606 Pemberton street from 4317 Greenwood avenue in January.

"I put an ad in a paper in January," she testified, "and among the answers was one from Mr. Adams, written upon paper of the Illinois Athletic club. His letter read:

"'I am desirous of securing a home with an up to date, congenial widow, preferably of about 40. I would prefer that there were no other roomers and will pay exceedingly well for the right place.'

"He came to my flat about 9:30 in the evening of Jan. 20," she said. "He said he liked the rooms, but he was sorry I had other boarders. He asked if I would like to be a companion to him, and I asked him what he meant.

Asks for Glass of Beer.

"He asked if he could keep liquor in his room. I said I had no objection, as I kept beer myself in the ice box. He asked for a glass, and I went to get it. He followed me to the kitchen, and I made an excuse and went back to the parlor without getting the beer.

"He was telling me how his wife died and how lonely he was, when suddenly he sprang at me and knocked me down. I screamed and one of my boarders, a man by the name of Johnson, came running in. He took Adams by the collar and kicked him down the stairway."

COURT AND ATTORNEY WALKER FIGURE IN VERBAL CLASH.

Judge Barnes Indicates He May Order Fine for Contempt, but Lawyer Denies Disrespect.

After a brief verbal encounter in the Superior court yesterday, in which Judge Albert C. Barnes indicated he might order Attorney Emery S. Walker to pay a fine of $50 for contempt, the court continued the matter until next Monday.

Attorney Walker is counsel for Edwin C. Day, trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of Alexander Stephens. A motion involving payment of taxes was set for argument before the court.

"How long will this matter take?" Judge Barnes asked Attorney Walker.

"The court is not treating me fairly in this matter," said Attorney Walker. "I cannot say that it is fair to me to make a statement as to how long it will take."

Judge Barnes, after ordering the clerk to enter an order for Mr. Walker to pay a fine for contempt of court, continued the case.

Later in the day Attorney Walker issued the following statement:

"I do not understand that any order has been entered assessing a fine of $50 against me for contempt of court for telling Judge Barnes that I thought he was not treating me fairly in continuing the motion because I could not tell him how long it would take to hear it. The evening papers erroneously stated that I had been fined for contempt.

"If it is contempt of court to argue or call attention to such matters, it is high time lawyers and litigants were advised in the premises. I was amazed at the attitude of the court.

"If a judge persists as an advocate and is met by the arguments of an advocate, it would appear quite unnecessary to resort to the power vested in the court to punish for contempt. My position is simply this: Any lawyer who would go out of his way to insult or humiliate a judge is a cheap shyster.

"Any judge who would knowingly humiliate a lawyer on a trivial issue, where no question of the court's honor or dignity is involved, may be best discussed when his term expires."

VISION OF MATERNITY WARD

Novel Exhibit of Place in Future Lying-In Hospital.

"MOTHERS' AID" IS FOR IT.

Society at Annual Luncheon Indorses Proposed Institution.

The prospect for the future lying-in hospital is bright indeed if the prophet who foretold of it yesterday at the annual luncheon of the Mothers' Aid society is a reliable seer.

Miss Tresa E. Brede, dressed in a Greek costume and carrying a conjurer's wand, appeared before the hundred women at the board, recited a verse, and with a flourish of her staff caused a curtain to be drawn aside, behind which stood a row of immaculate beds, "done up" in best hospital style, with all of the accessories in miniature, which Dr. J. B. De Lees and the others of the board hope to have in full size when the new hospital becomes a fact.

Comes from Land of Future.

The words of the verses are as follows:

I come from the Land of the Future;
I know of the good it portends.
On all such auspicious occasions
Our Ruler a messenger sends.

The King of the Future esteems you;
He says you reap as you sow.
Your beautiful work and endeavors
Help him many blessings bestow.

The man whose life work has prompted
This organization of aid,
By the King of the Land of the Future
A world's benefactor is made.

I come from the Land of the Future,
My Ruler bade me bring
This thought of love and prophecy,
And now I take to wing.

Speaks of the Great Need.

Dr. De Lee spoke on the plans for the hospital and on the great need for such an institution here. Less attention is paid to maternity cases in the hospitals, according to this specialist, than to appendicitis. Six hundred and sixty-six of the cases of blindness among children out of the total 2,000 now existing in this state might have been prevented if the children had been brought properly into the world. Many doctors are graduated who have never attended a case of the kind until they are in practice and are engaged to do so.

The ground for the new hospital lies at Fifty-first street overlooking the park. The institution will be an enlargement of the present inadequate one on Ashland boulevard, which is the only one of the kind in Chicago at present.

CAREY IS 'MASTER' OF HAWTHORNE.

Corrigan Loses Control of Track When He Hits Financial Shoals.

TAKES UP $24,000 NOTE.

Once Millionaire, Kentuckian Yields to Man Who'd Rather 'Go Racing than Fishing.'

There is a new "master of Hawthorne" and his name is Tom Carey. Ed Corrigan, who built the old race track in 1890, is out of it.

The official transfer happened yesterday in a quitclaim deed filed for record by Corrigan and his wife, Winifred Corrigan, of Kentucky, which conveyed to Carey their equity in a three-quarter interest in the Hawthorne property for $25,000.

As a matter of fact, Corrigan received only $2,000 for his interest, as Carey agreed to take up a note of $24,000 given by Corrigan to Foreman Bros. Banking company and indorsed by Carey, who gave Corrigan $2,000 in addition.

The property comprises 160 acres between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-ninth streets and South Forty-eighth and Fifty-second avenues. The other one-quarter interest is owned by Richard Fitzgerald. A. S. Trude held a mortgage of $86,000 on the property at Mr. Carey a second mortgage for $40,000.

In Bad Financial Straits.

When Mr. Carey received notice from the bank a few days ago that the note fell due May 24 he telegraphed Corrigan, asking him what he was going to do about it. Corrigan replied that he could not meet it and asked Carey to take care of the note and he would convey to him his interest in the property.

This Carey agreed to, and it is said Corrigan is so reduced financially that he had to borrow money to come to Chicago to carry through the transaction.

Corrigan is said to have sold his stock farm near Lexington March 3 last, and while he has some property in New Orleans and Kansas City, it is said to be encumbered so heavily that this equity is of little value.

This real estate transaction winds up the career of one of the most picturesque persons Chicago has ever known. Corrigan built the Hawthorne track even before the drainage canal was projected. He previously had occupied the old West Side Driving park, with Dave Waldo of Kansas City as a partner.

Pools Woke Gamblers Up.

It was possible in those day to conduct a poolroom in connection with a racetrack, and the old west side establishment was doing a thriving business until the gambling interests of Chicago, which had never thought about horse racing or its attachments as a gambling medium, woke up.

Opposing race meetings were conducted, with Corrigan getting the worst of it, until the killing of Capt. Brown and the maiming of several policemen. Corrigan afterwards admitted, in a sardonic way, that he had something to do with the instigation of that riot, because he was doing business outside of the city limits in a place to which the jurisdiction of Chief McClaughry did not extend.

Corrigan conducted the Hawthorne racetrack for several years and was reputed to be a millionaire at one time.

Money Tied Up in Racing.

He built the Ingleside track in San Francisco, the Elm Ridge track at Kansas City, and helped to finance the City Park track in New Orleans. In the meantime he conducted breeding establishments in California and Kentucky and sent racing strings to England.

Every dollar he had was invested in horses and things pertaining to them.

With a fortune invested in horses, he could race nowhere except on his own race tracks. He was interested in three of these, Hawthorne, Elm Ridge, and City Park, but the law came along and stopped them.

Thomas Carey, who succeeded Corrigan as the new "master of Hawthorne," is a racing man, or was before he became rich. He owned Hi Henry, Duke of Milpitas, and "all those horses," and was keen in pursuit of the game for many years.

He says now that he would rather "go racing than go fishing" and would "rather own one race track than two brickyards."

When a reporter asked him yesterday what he meant to do with Hawthorne, he said: "Leave it as it is and wait until the public gets a little sense."

LIKE LABOR EXCHANGE PLAN

British Leaders Hear Winston Churchill's Explanation.

COST FIRST YEAR $1,000,000.

System Follows Features of That in Force in Germany.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 19.—In the house of commons today Winston Churchill, president of the board of trade, outlined the government's scheme for establishing labor exchanges and state insurance against unemployment. The exchanges will be designed to furnish seekers after work information as to where it can be obtained. There will be about 220 exchanges throughout the country, with advisory committees representing employers and employes. It is estimated the cost of working this scheme will be $1,000,000 yearly the first ten years and thereafter $750,000. A bill establishing exchanges will be introduced in the house tomorrow.

The insurance scheme will be dealt with at the next session. It will involve compulsory contributions from employers and employes in addition to a state grant as regards seven specified trades.

Mr. Churchill's plans appear to be well received by both parties. The Conservative Post describes them as "the most satisfactory and coherent piece of work that has yet found a place in the government program."

Following the German plan, insurance books will be issued, to which stamps will be affixed each week. The worker on losing his employment will take the book to the nearest labor exchange, which will either find him work or pay him an allowance.

BRITISH INVESTORS RUSH TO BUY AMERICAN STOCKS.

Fear of French Political Trouble and Exactions of English Budget Part Cause for the Purchases.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 19.—It is asserted on the highest financial authority that owing to the political disturbances in France and the uncertainties of the budget exactions in England large purchases of American securities are being made for high class investment account.

These purchases are not being made through the London stock exchange houses, but through the large New York financial institutions, hence they do not figure on what is termed the daily balances.

The rapid recovery in the railroad earnings and the value of securities so soon after one of the most drastic panics in the nation's history has inspired much confidence in American investments here.

The situation in France is arousing much anxiety here. No attention is paid to the present abortive strike, but the whole political sky seems overcast and gloomy and, as one distinguished observer put it: "The people are sour towards everything, hopeless as to the present and anxious for any change which would give them the confidence which, unfortunately, is not in sight."

ENGLAND SCARED BY AIRSHIP.

Mysterious Sky Vessel Reported as Soaring Over All Parts of Little Island at Night.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 19.—The mysterious aeroplane or airship, the alleged performances of which have been mentioned, is becoming a perpetual nightmare. The newspapers for some time past have recorded the testimony of various persons, who declare they have heard or seen it flying over the eastern counties and the North sea.

Now this latest Flying Dutchman has turned up in the neighborhood of Cardiff, where a wayfarer, according to his own account, saw a cigar-shaped airship aground on the summit of Caerphilly mountain at about midnight this morning. He tells a circumstantial story. He relates how he watched the two men forming the crew apparently repairing the machine until they saw the watcher, when they hastily embarked and soared away.

A newspaper reporter went to the scene and found the ground had been torn as if by a plowshare and various printed papers, one in French, containing technical directions, and numerous newspaper cuttings dealing with aeronautics. While some newspapers profess skepticism, all printed the details. A large proportion of the public, possessed of the anti-German mania, are convinced their archenemy is among them.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

All is not lost, despite the fact the White Sox lost the opening game of the Boston series yesterday, also the active services of their manager and of their leading pitcher for an indefinite period. Something of hope was saved from the wreck, for the Sullivans moved out of Goose Egg row, in which they have been imprisoned ever since last Saturday, and made the score 5 to 2 (in Boston's favor) instead of the baleful 0, which was getting too familiar as a symbol of Sox deeds.

Manager Sullivan gave his team a thorough shaking up in an effort to shake the runless hoodoo, and it was a successful ruse, although it did not work four innings. Not until the middle of the scrap and after the Red Sox had it practically won, did the locals break the string of thirty-eight straight ciphers which was trailing along behind them.

Then it was Doc White, the new and dandy regular little center fielder, who broke the spell, after starting the circuit on a pass, and it was Lee Tannehill who drove the dentist home with the only hit made off Steele until just before the curtain fell. White was assigned to center, vice Altizer, in the new hand which Sullivan dealt, but a little thing like that couldn't keep Davy out of the scrap, for he bravely volunteered to play first base when Umpire Perrine continued the shaking up process by chasing Isbell out of the game in the ninth. And it was Altizer who drove home the second Sox tally in the only chance he had with the stick.

Davis Guards Second Base.

George Davis made his bow as a defender, being assigned to second base so that Bill Purtell could revert to third, his original domicile, and this shoved Tannehill into short field and Parent to the bench. With this new lineup Manager Billy thought it a good spot to try out his recent acquisition, Bill Burns, on the slab. But the result was not altogether an unqualified success. The Red Sox had discovered in previous sessions with Burns an animosity, not to say mortal antipathy, to bunt hits, and they made quick and telling use of their knowledge, putting themselves well in the lead with a buntfest in the third inning which strongly resembled the same kind of a performance staged by the Athletics here the day before, except that it netted only two tallies instead of four.

Then, as if to demonstrate their versatility, the Red Sox attacked Burns with real hits later in the game and scored another pair of runs in that fashion. Their fifth run was donated in the meantime by one of George Davis' fumbles, following a safe hit and a couple of outs.

The White Sox manager was put out of commission in the midst of the buntfest by being spiked in his throwing hand in a heroic effort by which a visitor was killed off at the plate. Lord was the lobster who robbed our boys of their boss, and he may have considered it merely meting out justice for the injury he received to one of his own fingers when he started that circuit of the bases by getting said finger mashed by one of Burns' fast shoots.

Lord Sticks; Sullivan Out.

After copious application of court and porous plaster by Doc Gessler, Lord managed to stick in the game until the seventh, but Sullivan was so badly injured he had to retire forthwith and expert advice is to the effect it will be at least ten days before his finger will be healed sufficiently to permit taking a chance with it. With Walsh gone home to the bedside of his injured brother, the Sox are a bit frayed at the heel, but remember they scored a run yesterday, and also the old proverb about the long worm that has no turning.

Steele proved ironclad against all assaults except in the fifth, when he himself perforated the hole in his armor through which the home team shot its first run. Until two were out in the ninth inning, however, he allowed only one hit and only three men to reach first base off him. With only one more man to get out, Dougherty soaked him for a single and was allowed to steal second unmolested, then came home on Altizer's screamer past first.

That second run was not a marker, however, to the Sox's first one, which was greeted with prolonged and vociferous applause. White worked Steele for a pass in the fifth and Purtell sacrificed him to second. Tannehill responded with a hard smash to center. At that, Doc was so astonished that he stuttered an instant before starting for home, and a better throw by Speaker would have nailed him easily. Lee made second on the throw but Owens grounded and Burns whiffed.

Red Sox Switch Tactics.

The Red Sox tried "hitting 'er out" in the first chapter and did not get far, not even to first base. In the second they switched their attack. Hooper started with a bunt toward first. It was out of Burns' reach, but when Davis came up with the ball he found Bill squarely between him and first base, so couldn't make the throw, giving Hooper a scratch hit. Stahl bunted and Burns got this one, throwing out Jake. Niles also bunted and Burns failed to get to it in time. But when Hooper tried to go home from third on the play by which Tannehill retired Wagner at first, Isbell relayed the ball to Sullivan for a double killing.

Undeterred by this failure the Red Sox resumed their bunting tactics after Carrigan blew open the third with a single to center. But Steele's bunt popped into Isbell's hands. McConnell's bunt went to Burns, and Bill fumbled it, which so embarrassed him that he pitched a wide one and smashed Lord's finger, filling the bases. Speaker justified his renown by rapping a single to right, scoring Carrigan and McConnell and driving Lord to third. When Lord tried to score on Hooper's bounder to Tannehill he was thrown out, but slid in feet first and chopped a hole in Sullivan's middle finger with one of his spikes. Owens took the manager's burden and, after Speaker and Hooper pulled off a double steal, Stahl was passed, filling the bases again. But when Niles tried to bunt Bill Purtell pounced on it and retired the side.

Burns Stops Bunters.

Burns stopped the bunters for a couple of rounds. Niles opened the sixth with a single, but was forced at second on Wagner's bunt to Purtell. Wagner made second on Carrigan's out and scored when Davis missed Steele's bounder. In the seventh there were two out before Hooper singled and stole, scoring on Stahl's drive to right. Jake reached second on the throw home and scored when Niles followed with his third single of the day.

Sutor warmed up, pitched the ninth, and retired the side after Speaker's scratch hit along first base line which was so doubtful that Isbell was put out of the game for kicking about it. Score:

ANOTHER JIG SAW PUZZLE.

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

Boston again today, tomorrow, and Saturday.

That run in the fifth made as much noise as a victory.

The bugs gave George Davis a warm welcome for a cold day on his appearance at bat.

The Sox made enough tallies yesterday to have won two out of the four games with the Athletics.

Manager Lake did some shaking up when Lord finally had to retire, sending Gessler to right, Hooper to left, and Niles to third base.

Sullivan's injury puts it up to Owens and Payne to carry the burden for ten days or two weeks. Usually there is a congestion of darkness in close proximity to the beginning of daylight.

With Fielder Jones 2,000 miles away, the umpires this year seem to have selected Isbell for the goat. The bald eagle of Wichita has been chased twice already this year, which is more times than in several previous seasons.

Fred Lake's outfit is a fast one on basis and in the field. After the battle a rooter remarked to President Comiskey that Boston had seven fast men in the game. "Which two looked slow to you?" was the Sox magnate's response.

Wagner threw out the first four White Sox at bat in the first and second innings. Not one of the four throws was good, however, and Jake Stahl had to do a lot of plain and fancy stabbing around the first corner all day.

Ed Walsh received word his brother, who was injured some time ago in a mining accident, had not recovered consciousness since the accident, and probably would not live. He decided to go home and assist in caring for him if posible rather than await sadder news here.

There was a long delay between halves of the third round while Doc Gessler patched up Lord's finger so that he could continue in the game, and the third sacker demonstrated the patchwork was O. K. by grabbing two foul flies in succession at the start of the Sox third.

Spencer's scratch hit in the ninth popped on to foul ground first, but jumped fair just before it got to Isbell. Speaker clearly ran out of line to avoid being touched, as Isbell had the ball in his hand before the runner got to him, but at that it looked as if Issy hit Speaker as he passed. Umpire Perrine didn't think so and objected to listening to Isbell's argument.

"JIGGS" DONAHUE A SENATOR.

Former Sox as First Sacker and Captain Plays Game for Washington—Cravath in Lineup.

Cleveland, O., May 19.—"Jiggs" Donahue, new first baseman and captain of the Washington American league team, obtained recently from the White Sox, arrived today and donned a practice uniform. He played his first game under new colors in the contest with the Cleveland team today.

Cravath, also obtained from Chicago, was in the lineup and played center field for Washington.

Manager Lajoie of the Cleveland team learned of more hard luck today when it was discovered that Birmingham, outfielder, had developed a growth on the elbow of his throwing arm which must be operated upon.

Two Senators Get Bounced.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Pitcher Keeley and Third Baseman Shipke of Washington have been released to Omaha in the Western league, according to a telegram received here today from Manager Cantillon of the local team.

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—[Special.]—The Cubs left on the evening train for Boston.

Knabe ran right into Osborne in pursuing Moran's fly in the second, but hung on to the ball.

Manager Chance has wired his wife to join him at Boston. He wants some one to cut his roast beef for him.

Red Dooin was reckless in his pursuit of foul balls. He ran into the stand twice, but held on to the sphere in each case.

Knabe had only one time at bat during the game. He walked, sacrificed, was hit by a pitched ball, and fanned in the four attempts.

Hofman almost made a circus catch off Dooin in the sixth. He came off fast, dived, but the ball escaped him after he had fallen on it.

President Murphy, thinking he would help the champs to continue their winning streak, came in on the morning train from Chicago. He was sent home tonight, but refused to go.

Almost any child could have played first base for Philadelphia today. Only three putouts were made by Shean and only six assists by the whole Philadelphia team, four of these being on one play, the decease of Hofman in the first inning.

Ed Reulbach was slated for home tonight with orders to get control, but Manager Chance later decided to take him to Bean Town. The P. L. was peeved at his showing and said big Ed's salary next year would start after he had located the plate.

Johnstone called a balk on Kroh in the fourth. Caw had thrown to first repeatedly to catch Dooin napping. Kid Gleason protested Floyd's motion and was rewarded on the next peg, Johnstone motioning the red head to second. If it was a balk Kroh made 100 during the game.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 19.—Bell stopped the winning streak of Pittsburg today, shutting them out, 2 to 0, with two hits. Phillippe also pitched a great game. Brooklyn's only two runs coming in the sixth, when Hummel singled, Jordan walked, and Lennox brought them both home with a long double to left. Score:

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—[Special.]—In the presence of their alleged mascot, President Charles Webb Murphy, the Cubs dropped the final game of the series with the Phillies, 4 to 2, and lost a golden opportunity to gain a lap on the Pirates.

A big reason for today's defeat was Ed Reulbach. Ed worked less than ten minutes, but it was long enough to put the game on the bum. Five men faced him, two of them were given bases on balls, one sacrificed, the fourth singled, and the fifth was wounded by a pitched ball. Whereupon the fractured leader gave Floyd Kroh the high sign and Ed went to the clubhouse to change his clothes.

Reulbach warmed up as only he can. He had everything, including perfect control. The minute the gong sounded, however, the stuff was off and the plate began to diminish in size until finally it disappeared altogether. Edward pitched nine times before he got one over. When he did it was bunted for a sacrifice. Then he got another one within striking distance of the pan and Sherwood Magee spanked it safely to left, scoring a pair of Phillies. Pat was busy digging them out of the ground one moment and next jumping sidewise and up to save the lives of the people in the grand stand. Dave Shean thought Moran was working too hard, so he got in front of one wild pitch himself. It hurt him badly, but he was injured in a good cause.

Kroh Pulls Out of Hole.

Kroh got out of the hole dug by the tall brunette as well as could be expected. Then he pitched nicely the rest of the long afternoon, being scored on once more by virtue of some hard luck.

Our enemy, George McQuillen, made his first appearance of the season. He was backed up superbly and got away with it for six innings. In the seventh, however, he showed signs of weakness and gave way to Lew Moren, who stopped the champions in their tracks just as a rally was budding.

Kroh's support was only fair. H. Steinfeldt had an off day and slipped up at least three times, although he was charged with only one mistake. In the first round his failure to touch Magee at third base cost a tally and later, in the sixth round, he allowed McQuillen to be credited with a two bagger by touching a puny hit before it had time to roll foul. Steiny's behavior seemed to have a demoralizing effect on Umpire Johnstone, who missed strikes and balls without fear or favor. However, we are not blaming him for defeat, as that would be robbing Reulbach of his dues.

Phillies Make Three.

The Schulte-Hofman combination managed to score in the first inning after two were out. F. Wildfire nonchalantly poked a single to left and Artie brought him around with a terrific drive between Titus and Osborne. The wallop netted Arthur two bases, but he got cute when Knabe relayed the ball home and was caught betwen second and third.

Reulbach then started some wildfiring of his own. Grant and Knabe didn't have a chance to strike at anything served to them. Titus took one ball and then bunted himself out, advancing his mates. Magee found one to his liking and shot it between Tinker and Steinfeldt, Grant and Knabe scoring. Shean was hit in the slats and waddled to first. Exit Reulbach, enter Kroh. Shean and Magee started the double steal and went through with it because Steinfeldt didn't tag Sherwood, although Moran's throw was there fifteen feet ahead of the runner. Osborne singled to the left meadow, bringing home Magee and sending Shean to third. Doolan hopped one to Tinker and was tossed out at first, Shean being doubled at the plate because he was fresh enough to try to tally.

Cubs Tag Along.

Thereafter the Cubs were attempting to catch up, and the Phillies naturally were trying not to let them. Howard singled with one out in the second inning, but Tinker, forced to use a brand new bat by breakage of his old one, fanned, and Pat Moran flied to Knabe.

Pat lifted a high fly after two were gone in the fifth. Knabe started after it, but the wind blew the ball almost back to the plate, and the piano couldn't quite make connections, Pat getting an undeserved single. It helped not at all, as Kroh fanned immediately. Evers and Sheckard were unfortunate in the sixth, both of them meeting the ball squarely, but sending it right at somebody.

Hofman singled to start the seventh. Steinfeldt took two strikes, and then slapped one to the left field wall for two bases, Artie scoring. McQuillen then hoisted a signal of distress and was rescued, Moren coming in to face the crisis. With a man on second and none out, Cub chances looked a little rosier, but Lew retired the next three in order without allowing a tally, Howard flying to Grant, Tinker lifting to Knabe, and Moran being Dooin's victim on a high foul. Titus' great catch near the fence robbed Evers of a triple in the eighth, but otherwise the champs were pie in Moren's hands.

Kroh kidded the Phillies along until the sixth, when they counted their superfluous run. Shean opened with a single to center, and Osborne's bunt, too hard, forcing him. Evers went out into center and took in Doolan's fly, but Dooin singled to center, sending Wilfrid to third. McQuillen dribbled a slow one down the third base line. It looked as if it were going foul, but Steinfeldt touched it with the tips of his fingers on fair ground, so Johnstone had to call it fair. It rolled out into the area back of third base, and before any one could recover it Osborne had scored, Dooin was at third, and McQuillen at second. Grant was a victim on strikes, looking foolish before Kroh's curve.

Knabe was punctured in the seventh, but Titus hit into a double play. Shean opened the eighth with a safe smash over second. Osborne sacrificed, and Doolan walked, but Hofman nipped Dooin's fly, and Moren fanned. Score:

WANTS RECEIVER FOR THE YANKEES

Former Figurehead Gordon Sues Farrell for Stock and Accounting.

"DOUBLE CROSS" ALLEGED

Plaintiff Claims He Saw New York Before Ban Johnson; Asks Half of Club.

New York, May 19.—[Special.]—The suit of Joseph Gordon, former president of the Greater New York Baseball association, against that association and Frank J. Farrell, present owner of the New York American league team, asking for a receiver during litigation arising out of Gordon's removal as president in 1907, came before the Appellate division of the Supreme court today on motion by Gordon to sustain the verdict of the Supreme court overruling Farrell's demurrer to the complaint against himself and the association.

Gordon's complaint alleges that he conceived the idea of having a team represent New York in the American league, and he entered into negotiations with various persons to undertake the venture, among them Frank Farrell. Gordon says the agreement was that he should get suitable grounds, procure membership in the league, and continue as managing head of the club.

Gordon says Farrell was to advance the money for all expenses of the business, the profits of the enterprise to be divided between them after the money Farrell had invested had been repaid to him. The association was incorporated at $200,000, and Gordon claims he was to receive half the stock. He says that after managing the team from 1903 to 1907 Farrell stated to him and his lawyer advised it would be better for Gordon to be vice president and Farrell president, and that immediately thereafter his name was removed as president from the baseball grounds and the stationery.

Gordon declares Farrell has concealed from him all the facts regarding the distribution of the stock and secretly issued it to himself. He says Farrell told him he put $140,000 into the business and states that as long ago as 1906 Farrell expressed a willingness to have a settlement and accounting, but has failed to keep his appointments looking to that end.

Johnson and O'Brien Fight Draw. Turf. Alex. Smith Wins Golf Title.

O'BRIEN IS TARTAR FOR BLACK CHAMP

Johnson Unable to Land the Right Blow to Finish Philadelphian.

FIGHT DECLARED A DRAW

White Man Too Fast for Big Negro, Who Has 40 Pounds Advantage in Weight.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion, failed to win over Jack O'Brien, the Philadelphia light heavyweight, tonight in a six round bout.

The fight was even and the consensus of opinion was that it should have been a draw had a decision been permissible. O'Brien's marvelously fast footwork and his superior blocking saved him from damage in several close mixes, and three times he was forced to his knees by the great strength and weight of Johnson in the clinches.

It was a fast fight, O'Brien doing the greater part of the leading. Johnson was slow on his feet and appeared not to be in the best condition. Repeatedly the champion rushed his smaller antagonist, but seldom landed effectively. A right hand counter in the fifth round cut O'Brien's right eye, and this was the sum total of the damage done in the six pounds.

Blows Don't Hurt Black.

O'Brien was in and out like a flash in nearly every round, stabbing Johnson on the face, but the blows lacked force and had no effect other than to make the big black man grin and wave his hand at the crowd. The spectators shouted wildly every time O'Brien landed and booted Johnson for his apparent rough work in the clinches.

Referee McGuigan said after the fight that O'Brien did remarkably well under the circumstances. He weighed 162 pounds, while Johnson's acknowledged weight was 205 and it was probably more.

"Johnson looked tired and anxious in the fourth round and O'Brien appeared confident throughout the bout. He certainly fought a game fight," said McGuigan.

Johnson had nothing to say after the bout except that he thought he had the better of it. O'Brien was enthusiastic over his showing. He said he today accepted a proposal to meet Al Kaufmann in San Francisco in the near future.

Three tiresome six round preliminaries prolonged the wait until 10:20 before Johnson, the first to appear, shouldered his way through the crowded aisles and climbed into the ring. His reception was cordial but not enthusiastic and there was even some booting by the galleries.

O'Brien Cheered to the Echo.

O'Brien came on a minute later and sprang nimbly upon the platform. The crowd cheered him frantically. He grasped Johnson's hand perfunctorily and took his corner. Johnson quickly came over, looked over O'Brien's bandaged hands, and appeared satisfied. A telegram was read from Billy Delaney challenging Johnson on behalf of Al Kaufmann for a fight at San Francisco.

Johnson had as seconds Yank Kenny, George Cole, and Frank Nadoll, while O'Brien's were Abe Attell, Joe Riley, Jack Havlon, and Jack Hagan. Mr. A. J. Drexel Biddle, O'Brien's society friend, who seconded him in his recent fight with Ketchel, did not appear in the role of adviser tonight, but came into the ring in his street clothes and cordially grasped O'Brien's hand.

"I weigh 162 pounds," said O'Brien, as he sat in his corner while the gloves were being drawn on. Johnson looked forty pounds heavier as he stood up and dropped his big bath robe.

Stanley Ketchel came forward to be introduced. He shook O'Brien's hand and wished him success, then crossed and greeted Johnson. The big black fellow sized Ketchel up carefully, smiling broadly as he acknowledged the greeting.

O'Brien looked to be in splendid shape as he took off his bath robe. Johnson appeared bulky about the waist line, but his splendid muscles stood out in the arms and shoulders.

Fight by Rounds.

FIRST ROUND—It was 10:35 when the gong sounded and Johnson rushed O'Brien to the ropes. O'Brien put left to the face lightly, but Johnson only grinned and forced O'Brien to the ropes, shoving him to his knees. They feinted and fiddled carefully. O'Brien trying to draw Johnson on. Johnson put left on O'Brien's face without damage and O'Brien landed left to face in return. O'Brien was in and out like a flash and Johnson set himself for a counter, but it was smothered. O'Brien's quickness of foot stood him in good stead against Johnson. The round was even.

SECOND ROUND—O'Brien led for the face, but was blocked and Johnson lifted him off his feet in the clinch that followed. The crowd hooted Johnson, but he only smiled and rushed O'Brien to the ropes. Marvelous ducking saved O'Brien from damage and they sparred cautiously. O'Brien caught Johnson with a stiff left on the face three times and the crowd cheered frantically. Johnson rushed him to the ropes, landing left on the body lightly. Both appeared winded and Johnson waited for O'Brien to lead. Johnson went after O'Brien like a whirlwind, but quick footwork took the Philadelphia man out of harm's way. O'Brien did the cleaner work in this round.

O'Brien's Work Is Clean.

THIRD ROUND—Johnson missed left and took a light stab in the face in return. O'Brien was in and out like a flash, landing left on the face but took a stiff left to the stomach at close range. Johnson forced O'Brien, shambling after him slowly and awkwardly, missed two lefts and a right for the head. Johnson set himself for O'Brien's lead but was slow in countering and took a left stab on the nose. Johnson went after him viciously and a left had O'Brien's mouth bleeding. Johnson appeared winded at the end of the round, which was about even, with O'Brien's work showing cleaner.

FOURTH ROUND—O'Brien put left to the face and took right on body and they sparred cautiously. O'Brien caught Johnson a jarring smash on the face with his left and Johnson's mouth showed the effects. Johnson slowed up and waited for O'Brien to lead. The crowd yelled for O'Brien to "come and show him up," but Johnson only grinned and walked in. He caught O'Brien a glancing right on the head and a left on the body but O'Brien was doing away and the blows lacked steam. O'Brien feinted and missed a left swing, going to his knees from the impetus of the blow. Johnson appeared slow and had no advantage in the round. If anything it was to O'Brien's advantage.

FIFTH ROUND—Johnson caught O'Brien a left on the face and O'Brien went down, but was up like a flash and fighting strong. Johnson tried to send in his right uppercut that proved so effective with Tommy Burns, but was blocked. A right to the face cut O'Brien's right eye badly, but he came back with a left flush on Johnson's mouth. Johnson rushed viciously, pinning O'Brien to the ropes and wrestling him down. O'Brien did most of the leading at this stage and as the gong sounded sent a hard left to Johnson's face.

SIXTH ROUND—They shook hands gingerly for the windup and sparred cautiously. O'Brien led a left which landed on the body good and hard. Johnson only smiled and held up his hand to indicate that he had blocked it. O'Brien rushed in again and tried hard to land on the face and body, but was blocked in his efforts. Finally he sent a stiff left to the face and took a hard right counter on the head in return. Johnson met O'Brien with a left to the face as he stepped in and the round ended in a clinch.

Eastern Fighter Who Earns Draw with Champion Jack Johnson.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

"O'BRIEN DESERVES CREDIT"

Jeffries Keenly Disappointed at Johnson's Showing.

IRE IS AROUSED BY CROWD.

Hammers Berger All Over Stage to Show What Black May Get.

James J. Jeffries, the undefeated champion, was a keenly disappointed man when he heard the result of the Johnson-O'Brien fight at Philadelphia last night. Jeff entertained the opinion that Johnson, with his superior weight, strength, and height, would have little difficulty in winning over a man so much smaller in every way.

Jeffries and Sam Berger had just finished the second round of their boxing exhibition at the local theater at which they are playing when the result came over the wire. There was not a cheer to be heard in the house when it was announced that the bout was a draw. There were hisses and questions asked Jeffries from every corner as to what he would do to the negro when they met. These remarks stirred Jeff's blood and in the final round of the bout he tore into Berger and hammered him all over the stage.

Jeff's Opinion of Fight.

The Californian read the returns of the fight carefully and could not figure why Johnson could not knock O'Brien out. In speaking of the fight Jeff said: "From what I gather from the reports I have received Johnson appeared to have a slight shade. This was not a surprise to me, as I expected Johnson would put O'Brien away. I have contended always that superior weight and strength must tell when all other things are equal. But from results last night it looks as though O'Brien is a good deal more clever than the big negro. As for Johnson, his reputed hard punch has proven a great disappointment to me. He landed enough punches to score a knockout over a man so much smaller than himself. O'Brien deserves a lot of credit and my only regret is that he was not the winner."

Black Must Be Careful.

Sam Berger was of the same opinion as Jeffries and said: "In his new role as the pretender for the heavyweight championship Johnson proved a great disappointment to me. With every possible advantage that one boxer could hold over another, he stayed on the defensive during the entire contest. I, of course, cannot take Johnson's championship claims seriously, but it looks to me like one of two things—either he is being carried away by a certain degree of success as to not condition himself or he absolutely lacks class. And I sincerely hope he will be more careful about his matchmaking in the future so as not to deprive Jeffries of the pleasure of defeating him. Johnson's fight with O'Brien will make no difference in our future plans. We are under contract for nine weeks more, and if some white fighter whips Johnson before we sign with him Jeffries will not reenter the ring."

Yesterday was a day of rest for the Jeffries party. The "boilermaker" felt stiff and sore and refrained from taking his workout with the White Sox. Last night after the performance he was given a good rubdown by Buckner, the Sox trainer, and will be on hand early today to work with the Sox and endeavor to break their hoodoo.

OLAMBALA BREAKS LOUISVILLE MARK

Canters Home in the Preliminary Derby Trial in 1:45 Flat.

FAVORITE FOR BIG RACE.

Sempro Tumbles in Last Event and Jockey Rice Is Badly Hurt Internally.

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—Olambala, a 3 year old colt by Ornus, belonging to J. G. Greener of Nashville, beat Wintergreen, the winner of this year's Kentucky Derby, and Miami, at a mile and a sixteenth, in the preliminary Derby trial this afternoon.

Olambala's victory was an easy one, so easy in fact that he will be the hot favorite in the Latonia Derby, which will be run next Tuesday. He broke the track record today, simply galloping the distance in 1:45 flat, which is a fifth of a second under the local mark.

In the last race Sempro stumbled in a jam, throwing Jockey Rice, who was badly shaken up internally, suffering hemorrhages. King's Daughter was the only favorite to win. Weather was cloudy and the track fast. Summaries:

First race, ¾ mile—Bosserian, 105 [Heidel], won; straight $38.05, place $20.40, show $16.50; Deuce, 103 [Robinson], second; place $31.65, show $21.45; Sorrel Top, 103 [Glasner], third; show $28.05. SANTA ANITA TRACK TO RACE.

Rose Says Gates Will Be Opened Next Season and Betting Must Take Care of Itself.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19.—[Special.]—Racing circles were delighted and surprised today by the announcement made on the authority of George Rose that Santa Anita racetrack would be open next season and that the meet would be a big one.

"Something will be doing," Rose is quoted as saying. "The ponies will run as usual. As long as the new law does not prohibit racing, only betting, races will be run and betting will have to look out for itself."

Beyond this there seems to be a great deal of guessing, although close friends of Rose intimated today that the bookies will conduct their business without boards and by means of signs.

Coincident with this report is the statement that the proposed track at Tia Juana has been given up because of the high percentage demanded by the Mexican government. Gamblers have deserted the little Mexican town and no work is contemplated there.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

SOME FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.

An expatriate in Rio Janeiro who loves his little Tribune very much and listens to the voice from home swings upon us with the verses which, with the indulgence of the copy reader, the linotype operator, the makeup man, and the foreman of the pressroom, we shall append after we have explained that albeit the meter and mechanics are a bit on the blink the sentiment is fair and goodly:

GIVE US DOPE! GIVE US DOPE!

Why all this talk so scrappy,
What's wrong with little Jappy?
Has he caused another earthquake in dear old Frisco town?
Or has the honorable scholar
Let out another holler
Because his breed is yellow and we have to turn him down?

Shall we dream almost nightly
Of that yellow peril unsightly
And hordes of wooden faces and the dread Jige Junbun?
O, please, Hek, tell us pronto
It's what we're coming onto—
Will they take away those pennants the Cubs so nobly won?

Say, what's become of Teddy?
Is he on the job already,
Or has he said he'd linger on our good old Yankee soil?
Is business home resuming?
Is our foreign trade a-booming?
Or has Big Bill collected yet from the Standard Oil?

Will the Cubs prove a failure—
The pennant, shall we nail her
To the mast once more as in happy days agone?
Or shall the fresh New Yorker
Triumph o'er the "porker"
And celebrate his victory with that awful Bowery song?

Is the "Hd" in old Chi. lifted?
Where have the fighters drifted?
They say that Battling Nelson is now an alderman.
This guinea Pete Dorandi—
Is he still the candy?
Or did the Hayes boy put him in the class that also ran?

Are there still those phony places
Where you can play the races
If you give the guy your number and he tips you back the wink?
Or is the lid on tightly?
Are the saloons closed nightly,
Or is the side door handy when a fellow wants a drink?

Here in Rio Janeiro
The only news we hearo
Is printed in a lingo—they call it Portugoese.
It's all about Lisboa,
Napoli or Genoa,
Or some old dago country that isn't any use.

No one to us is writing,
It seems our friends are slighting,
So we're writing to you this, Hek, you are our only hope.
Tell us stuff that's newsy,
Although a trifle woozy;
We'll thank you just the same, Hek, for just a little dope.

Chicago Branch of the Tropical Tramps, Hotel Avenida, Rio Janeiro, April the 29th.

It was a clever little wheeze that Nick Altrock sprung just before he took the train for parts unknown. We feel like a rotter for not remembering it. But you'll take our word and lawf, won't you? That's a dear.

We are V. S. to hear that the P. L. is afflicted with a B. S. and that the C. can't have U. of his S. for P. T. W.

In other words it is distressing to note that Capt. Frank Chance, the peerless leader of the world's champions, is beset with a lesion of the clavicle and that we can't have use of his services for possibly three weeks. For further particulars see the X ray photograph, which is slang for X. R. F.

Clark Griffith and Joe Cantillon offered Jim Callahan a fabulous amount to get back into it again, but Callahan answered in the negative, leaving us to infer that he would rather be an electric light in Logan Square than a tallow dip in Vine street or Pennsylvania avenue. Callahan is getting along nicely where he's at. He has had everything that can be handed to him in the way of abuse from umpires, managers, league presidents, national commissions, and the rest. He is now unfettered of contracts, waivers, and all that tiddy-fol-la stuff that crabs liberty and makes fools of them all. They have given him his liberty and he'd be a sucker if he bent on the shackles again, even if they gave him half the receipts.

We would like to be a sturdy athlete and allow Herrmann, Johnson, and Heydler (pro tem.) tip us the black spot if the train was late and we could not report for duty on April 14.

We don't think we are on a bad lay when we continue to doubt the cohesiveness of this organized thing.

Capt. Frank Chance's trouble has jumped from his foot to his shoulder, and that, in the vernacular, is some jump.

Tom Prior is now engaged in the promotion of an ice skating rink. He has been playing the frost open so long that he thinks he will switch his luck by putting the copper on.

We learn from the real estate department that the down-and-outness of Ed Corrigan has been made official.

PACER VELOX, 2:09 1-4, DIES AFTER MYSTERIOUS ILLNESS.

Horse Purchased by W. H. McDoel for $28,000 Passes Away at Libertyville After Short Sickness.

Barrington, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—The pacer, Velox, 2:09¼, purchased in California last winter for $28,000 and the star of Dick McMahon's stable at Libertyville track, died today after a mysterious illness of twenty-four hours. The horse suffered intense pain during that time and the veterinarians were wholly unable to diagnose the trouble.

A post-mortem will be held tomorrow morning. Velox worked three easy heats Tuesday, being driven by his owner, W. H. McDoel, president of the Monon railroad. The fastest mile was 2:25¼ and the best quarter :35. It was intended to drive the horse one more mile, but while he was being hitched he became restless and soon was in great pain. Remedies for colic and other acute troubles failed to relieve him.

Velox had paced miles in 2:05 and was a fine race horse. He was bought for grand circuit races and had been entered whenever possible.

HUESTON AND DE ORO TO PLAY FOR THREE CUSHION EMBLEM.

Rival Billiard Players to Fight for the Championship and Purse, Starting Tonight.

The match for the three cushion billiard championship of America which will start tonight between Alfredo de Oro of New York and Thomas A. Hueston of St. Louis at Weeghman's Annex is the first game of its kind ever played in the city of Chicago.

The championship emblem, which is held by Alfredo de Oro, was donated by a St. Louis sportsman and was won in the 1907 tournament by Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia.

Cline in turn was defeated by Daly of Chicago in February, 1908, who, after defeating John Horgan, was beaten by Thomas Hueston. He, however, lost to De Oro, and the present match is his attempt to regain his lost laurels.

The men compete for a side stake of $500 and an added purse of $500 more, all of which goes to the winner. The match will be played in three nights, fifty points each night, three consecutive nights. Edward Semple of the Chicago Athletic club has been selected as referee. The games will begin at 8 o'clock.

Donohue Recovers from Operation.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 19.—[Special.]—Second Baseman Frank Donohue will report to Fort Wayne tomorrow at Zanesville after recovering from an operation for appendicitis. The locals have released Pitcher Jack Neuer.

Sets Record of 78, Which Mark Is Equaled by Nicholls, the Second Man.

Hartsdale, N. Y., May 19.—[Special.]—Alex. Smith of the Wykagyl Country club of New Rochelle, N. Y., regained the title of eastern open golf champion on the Scarsdale links today with a total of 147, leading his nearest competitor, Gilbert Nicholls of the Wilmington Country club of Delaware, by five strokes.

Smith set a new professional record for the course in the morning of 73 and took one stroke more in the afternoon. Nicholls, who took 79 in the morning, equaled Smith's record of 73 in the afternoon.

Smith, who won the national open championship at the Onwentsia club of Chicago in 1906, held the eastern open title in 1908. Isaac Mackie of Fox Hills, Staten Island, was the winner last year.

Mackie tied for third place with H. H. Barker, a former amateur champion of Ireland, who is now professional at the Garden City club.

Thomas Anderson Jr., young brother of Willie Anderson, four times national open champion, gave general surprise by a fine 75 in the morning, which brought him fifth place.

The weather was fine and the gallery large. The greens were in poor condition. Leading scores:

CARTER HARRISON—always called him Carter—is grateful to the boys for their kind attentions, but he is not quite ready to give out any formal statement.

CHICAGO feels under deep obligations to Brooklyn for what it did to Pittsburg yesterday.

ANOTHER bloody and terrible Fourth of July, with its appalling list of deaths and injuries, is only forty-five days away.

HAVE the asylum attendants who let Pyromaniac Hanson escape been suitably reprimanded yet?

TO BE sure, it is not commanded in so many words, "Thou shalt not kill a female rhinoceros on Sunday, but——"

IS IT too late to ask if the legislature will agree to arbitrate?

WINDSOR PARK'S PROTEST.

Windsor Park people are fighting hard against the location of an amusement park in their suburb. It is a place of homes. There are no crowded apartment buildings. There are no teeming multitudes of tired workmen who need opportunities for outing. It is a community in which there is abundance of light, plenty of fresh air, and the comfort that comes when each individual has breathing space and a little plot of ground.

The citizens of the suburb have been paying their taxes without getting much return. Paved streets are almost unknown. Sewers have been provided only within a year or two. Policemen are seldom seen. The demands upon the city have been few. But the demand for protection of the neighborhood against the coming of a noisy amusement park is one that ought to be heard by the authorities. The people who live there are practically unanimous in opposition to the project.

South Chicago wants the amusement park, so the promoters declare. The toilers in the mills down there must have entertainment. They should have it. But the "east side" of that suburb has available sites on the lake front, where the beach is good, where there is abundance of land, and where no street car fare would be required of patrons in order to reach the roller coasters and scenic railways and other "thrillers." Incidentally, Windsor Park is prohibition territory, while in South Chicago there is little restriction in the matter of liquor selling.

There is no good reason for the invasion of Windsor Park against the wishes of its home loving people. No constituency anywhere will be wronged if the amusement ground is kept out. The protests of the people of the suburb should be effective with those who have the authority to decide.

CHICAGO AND THE STATE.

No citizen of Chicago, THE TRIBUNE is confident, need take the defeat of the consolidation bill as an expression of the will of the people of Illinois.

Charter relief was slain by the hand of practical politics. The people were not accomplices in the act, save as we are all more or less accomplices through the election of men who do not represent the public will or serve the public weal.

THE TRIBUNE believes in the intelligence of the people of Illinois, and with good reason, and we are very certain, as we have said repeatedly during the charter debate, that if Chicago's needs could be placed directly before the people they would be promptly recognized and relieved. It remains, therefore, now that legislation is denied us for two years, to bring home to communities without Cook county, and especially to the people of northern and central Illinois, the grave importance of proper enabling legislation in order that the city may perform to the full its foreordained function as the metropolis of the middle west.

The advantages, direct and indirect, which will accrue to the people of this region must be realized by them. The city's interests sought in the principal charter bills are not incompatible, they are entirely in harmony with the welfare of the state. This must be brought home to the people or when the next session comes along we shall be at the mercy of political manipulation as we have been at this session.

In this work Chicago has a right to look to the public spirited press of the state. Journals, for example, like the Springfield State Journal, the Peoria Herald-Transcript, the Quincy Whig, the Bloomington Pantagraph, the Galesburg Republican-Register, the Rockford Register-Gazette, and other leading newspapers upon whose shoulders falls the responsibility of informing and leading public opinion throughout the state, we believe will recognize the whole state's substantial stake in Chicago's welfare and legitimate development in the line of her destiny as a world metropolis.

Chicago looks to this press and to all leaders of public opinion in the state to aid it in preventing another failure of its just demands. It is a question affecting the prosperity of the whole region of which Chicago is the natural business center. Politicians selfishly playing their game, regardless of the public interest, should not be permitted to foment prejudice against the city or make a mark for themselves out of a trumped up and unreal antagonism.

JEWISH CHARITIES.

The friends of the Associated Jewish Charities have good reason for pride in the record of a year. At the ninth annual meeting just held in Sinai temple reports were presented showing that $250,000 had been raised by subscription and spent for charitable purposes during the twelve months period reviewed. Not content with that notable achievement, the organization indicated its determination to make the figures for the coming year $300,000.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the president's address, in which the work of several coöperating bodies was praised. The young men's charity organization came in for particular mention, its members having raised a fund of $20,000 for charitable purposes. The Aid society, the bureau of personal service, free dispensaries, and similar branches were discussed, in each instance the intention to go forward to greater things being emphasized.

The Jewish people have kept in the front rank in the army of friends of humanity. They have given their money liberally. They have managed their institutions wisely. Those who belong to the Chicago organization or who contribute toward its success year after year are to be congratulated on the showing that has been made. The definite plan by which the younger generation is encouraged to follow the lead of the elders in generous provision for the poor and needy is worthy of special commendation.

GRAFT AT ITS WORST.

The meanest man in the world is the one who takes advantage of another's misfortune. When an act of this nature is seen by the individual there is instant recognition of its inherent baseness. Even people whose sensibilities are somewhat dulled in other respects scorn to gain benefit from the helpless. So far as the single unfortunate is concerned there is abundant evidence of sympathetic interest on the part of humanity.

It is this prevalent feeling that makes the surprise and astonishment so great when the treatment of unfortunates in groups is observed. Under such conditions the grafter finds his opportunity. He may be a politician who exploits the state institutions for his own purposes, using them to pay his political debts without regard to the welfare of the inmates. He may be a subordinate politician who uses the public opportunities to advance his own interests. It makes no difference whether the politician be high or low. The principle is the same. The unfortunate in groups are exploited for personal ends in a way that would bring just opprobrium if the individual unfortunate were so treated by another individual.

The appeal to the physicians of the state to help end the reign of obnoxious politics in state charitable institutions is a timely one. The legislature is not interested in placing Illinois in the proper rank among the states, so far as wise provision for the welfare of its unfortunates is concerned. The significant characterization of the law making body as one that "has no intention of accomplishing anything for the public good or for the advancement of humanity except by accident" indicates the hopelessness of appeal in that direction. The thing to do now is to educate the people of the state so that they will force action. The members of the Illinois State Medical society can help mightily if they are so inclined.

A QUEER AMENDMENT.

Chicago is to a certain extent interested in the lacemaking industry. Of the two large American plants, one is at Zion City, a Chicago suburb, and is owned by Marshall Field & Co. The other is at Pawtucket, R. I. A curious amendment to the paragraph of the house bill relating to lacemaking machines has been offered by the finance committee. It is openly opposed by most of the American lacemaking concerns, but as far as is known it has not been objected to by the Pawtucket company. The inference might be drawn from its quiescent attitude that the amendment will benefit it.

The house bill, after putting a duty of 45 per cent on lacemaking machines, provides "that all embroidery machines and lacemaking machines imported prior to July 1, 1911, shall be imported free of duty." The finance committee amendment reads, "all Lever or Goughrough machines." The question is why embroidery machines and all lacemaking machines except two kinds should be denied the benefit of the two years' exemption from duty. A story is going the rounds among men who handle laces that a French factory whose owner is interested in the Pawtucket concern is equipped with Lever machines, that the factory has been idle for some time and is likely to remain so, and that the intention is to transfer the machines to the United States. It is said that it would be impossible for other American lacemakers to import machines of these favorite makes within two years. If they preferred other machines they would have to pay duty on them.

The house bill seems to deal fairly by everybody. The finance committee amendment has a suspicious air of special legislation. It needs explanation. An equal opportunity should be given all the lace manufacturers of the country, large or small, to import duty free the lacemaking machinery they wish to install. Senator Cullom should endeavor to secure fair play for the Illinois plant.

IN A MINOR KEY.

About Like This?

"Is the senator from Rhode Island in his seat?"

"He is."

"The senate will come to order."

For Example.

"Woman may be uncertain and coy," remarked the boarding house philosopher, "but she isn't hard to please. That's where the poet is wrong."

"What new light have you had on that subject, Mr. McGinnis?" asked the landlady.

"She'll put up with almost any kind of stick for a husband and wear any old thing on her head for a hat."

His Little Kick.

"In this matter of quick thinking," said the baseball umpire, "all the bouquets go to the players; and yet we fellows have to think as quick as they do, if not a little quicker. If a player works his thinker too slow all he gets is an error. If I do it I get a pop bottle."

In His Honor.

Reporter—"I suppose there's no lack of babies that have been named after you?"

Distinguished Pedestrian—"Er—no; it was only a few days ago that a friend of mine named Smithers named his youngest boy Walker."

Nothing There.

Upshaw—"Ever have your pocket picked?"

Bickerdyke—"Not since I began to keep an automobile."

Premature Chuckle.

"Fate cannot harm me," wrote Sydney Smith; "I have dined today."

Even as he wrote, however, he was in the shadow of a coming calamity.

The cook was preparing to leave.

Catches 'Em All.

Hampered by some trifling ailment in the vitals of its motive power, the west side elevated train was crawling slowly out towards the suburbs, twenty minutes behind time.

Every paper in the smoking car had been read and thrown on the floor, and the passengers sat in glum silence.

A tall, smooth faced man in a frock coat tried to start a conversation with the red whiskered man on his left.

No response.

He turned to the fat passenger with the bald head who sat on his right and observed that it was a fine day, but looked like rain.

Dead silence.

Broken only by an occasional grunt that sounded like a muttered oath.

Or by the scratching of a match now and then.

Suddenly everybody on the south side of the car turned and looked out.

All the passengers on the other side rushed over.

Crowding to the windows they gazed with intense interest on something that was going on outside, and a loud clamor of eager voices broke the stillness.

Any curiosity to know what was happening?

Eighteen half grown boys were playing a game of ball in a vacant lot.

That's all.

Which One Owns This Tree?

For sixty years and more a tree has stood on the dividing line between two properties in Germantown, Pa. It is a big tree now, and the base of the trunk extends twenty-two inches on land owned by R. G. Beale and fourteen inches on the property of Charles Spoerl. The latter, making improvements, arranged to have the tree cut down, but Mr. Beale has obtained a preliminary injunction, and the case will be thrashed out in court.—Hartford Courant.

Pity the Poor Bachelors.

There are few people in the community more generous, according to their means, more unselfish, and more self-denying than the much maligned bachelor class. Why, then, should it be taxed? If a tax is required let it be levied on the pampered, petted, overindulged, usually ungrateful married man.—London Graphic.

Copyright: 1909: By the Brentwood company, all rights reserved.

PRINCE PAUL DEMIDOFF, whose demise has just taken place in Paris, and whose funeral was solemnized with a good deal of pomp and ceremony at the Muscovite church of the Rue Daru the other day, was the youngest half-brother of Elim Demidoff, chief of the family, and third prince of San Donato. His death is due to fevers contracted during his hunting expeditions in British East Africa, and is mourned by a number of friends. For he was a brilliant young fellow, and a poet of rare merit. In fact, a volume of his poems, illustrated by the painter Rochegrosse, appeared on the day on which he breathed his last.

The dignity of prince of San Donato is of Tuscan origin, bestowed in 1840 by the then reigning grandduke of Tuscany upon Anatole Demidoff, on the occasion of the latter's marriage to Princess Mathilde Bonaparte, who secured a separation from him six years later. Anatole Demidoff left no children and on his demise his Florentine title of prince passed to his brother's son, Paul, who in turn bequeathed it to his son, its present holder. In January, 1872, it was recognized and registered by the kingdom of Italy, and a few months later Emperor Alexander III. accorded to all of the Demidoffs the permission, until then denied, to make use of the title in Russia. Last year for the first time the Demidoffs achieved the distinction of figuring in the pages of the Almanach de Gotha.

Prince Elim, the head of the family, has won considerable fame as a nimrod, and as an explorer, has written a successful book about his explorations of Kamchatka, and with his beautiful wife spent some time in its capital, where Bering, who gave his name to the Bering straits, lies entombed beneath a handsome monument. He is in the diplomatic service of Russia, has been councilor of the embassy, and charge d'affaires at Copenhagen, London, and at Vienna; and during the last six or eight months has been officiating as chef de cabinet of the foreign minister, Izwolski. In England both he and his wife are extremely popular, and guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra each year at Sandringham. His wealth is colossal. Indeed, it is beyond the power of calculation or estimation, since a portion of his income is derived from inexhaustible quarries of malachite and lapis lazuli, and equally rich mines of gold, and especially of silver. Moreover, more than 60 per cent of the mineral wealth of the prince's vast estates remains as yet undeveloped. In Russia, and, in fact, throughout the greater part of Europe, the name of Demidoff stands for boundless riches in the popular estimation; just in the same way that the name of Rockefeller stands in this country for wealth beyond the dreams of avarice.

Elim Demidoff has strengthened this impression by certain episodes in his career. Thus, when the time came for him to pass his collegiate examinations, he absolutely declined to return to St. Petersburg for the purpose, but caused all the examining members of the faculty of the University of St. Petersburg to come to him at Nice, where he was then staying, in a special train, which he placed at their disposal for the purpose. From the moment that they left St. Petersburg until they returned thither, they were entertained in the most lavish manner as his guests, and under the circumstances it is not astonishing that he should have passed his examinations in the south of France with flying colors.

The founder of the family was a blacksmith of the Ural mountains, named Nikita Demidoff. Peter the Great was traveling in the Ural mountains, when he happened to break one of his most valuable English pistols. The smith mended the pistol so quickly and so well, that the czar was delighted, and asked the man his name, promising to remember him. The smith was beginning to think that Peter had forgotten him, when there came an official paper, with the imperial seal, granting him the freehold of a great tract of imperial land in the district. Demidoff went to work on his new property, began by developing the iron mines which he found there, founded iron works, and started silver mining, and became so useful a citizen that Peter the Great, delighted with his discovery, ennobled him in 1724—that is to say, shortly before his own death. The patent of nobility carried with it no title, but invested the ex-blacksmith with all the privileges and immunities then enjoyed by the Muscovite aristocracy, including that of owning serfs. It was his great-great-grandson who obtained the title of prince of San Donato in 1840 from the grandduke of Tuscany.

Of Prince Elim Demidoff's half-sisters, Marie is married to Prince Simon Abamalek-Lazareff, one of those Russian nobles who claim descent from the biblical house of David, while Helen is the wife of Count Alexander Shouvaloff. Another half-sister, Aurora, who died a few years ago, married, en premieres noces, Prince Arsene Karageorgevitch, the disreputable only brother of King Peter. But he behaved so badly that she was obliged to divorce him, her little boy having since his mother's death been confined to the care of his uncle, King Peter, as in the immediate line of succession to the Servian throne.

Sir Maurice Fitzgerald, better known by his ancient title of the knight of Kerry, which has been borne by his ancestors in the male line direct, without a single break, since the year 1258, has taken advantage of the great fortune inherited by his wife from her father, the late Henry Bischoffsheim, to purchase Buckland, one of the finest country seats in Berkshire, and within easy motoring distance of Windsor castle and of Ascot. It is, therefore, probable that he will spend far less time than heretofore in his Irish home on the island of Valencia, which he is fond of describing as "the nearest parish to America."

The estate of Buckland extends over some 4,000 acres, and comprises a magnificently timbered deer park, bordered by the Thames for a couple of miles, as well as a handsome and stately mansion. It derives its name from a knight of olden days known as de Bocland, who is on documentary record as having been compelled to pay an annual toll of a certain number of fat bucks from his deer park to a neighboring abbey. Afterwards it was in possession for a time of the poet, Chaucer, then it went to the Yateses, and from them it passed through marriage to the Throckmortons, an ancient house, and one of whose members figures in history as chamberlain to Henry VI. Its present representative is Sir Nicholas Throckmorton, who has sold the place at a large figure to the knight of Kerry.

Sir Maurice, who is persona gratissima at court, and who has achieved as much celebrity on the water as on the turf, his yacht, Santanita, having in its day been one of the most famous racing boats afloat, is descended from John Fitzgerald, earl of Decies and of Desmond, who, by virtue of his authority as palatine of Ireland in the middle of the thirteenth century, created his younger sons by his second wife, hereditary knights, under the titles of the white knight, the knight of Glyn, and the knight of Kerry. The line of the white knight has become extinct, but the knights of Glyn and Kerry have each continued without a single break from father to son through all the last 700 years.

Desmond Fitzgerald, the knight of Glyn, has no baronetcy, and though he has an official right to the prefix "sir" to his Christian name, he refrains from using it, lest it should savor too much of ordinary knighthood. He justly realizes, like the knight of Kerry, that no modern title could add prestige to the one which he holds, and which has been borne by twenty ancestors before. He is a son-in-law of Lord Dunraven, and there are many who will recall his wife, now dead, who was in this country with her father, as Lady Rachel Wyndham-Quin, at the time of the Valkyrie race for the America cup.

The knight of Kerry received a baronetcy about thirty years ago, but makes little use thereof. He is an equerry and an old friend of the duke of Connaught and has frequently entertained the king, who is fond of him, at Severals, his place in Newmarket.

Gulls' Eggs Substituted for Plovers'.

One shudders at the idea of eating last year's gulls' eggs, which have cost at least 20s ($4.80) per dozen. No doubt thousands of gulls' eggs are sent to London every spring, and a confiding public buy them as the produce of plovers!—London Sporting News.

Are Public Schools Failures?

Chicago, May 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The "Prominent Business Man" is again in the limelight with the statement that the public school is a failure. This is important if true.

We are spending many millions of dollars in this city every year for public schools. If they are failures they should either be reformed or abolished. It certainly is foolish to continue this enormous expenditure of effort and money if it ends in failure.

I believe the public school was founded primarily to teach coming citizens to read and write the language of the country. Are they doing this?

I hereby extend a cordial invitation to the "Prominent Business Man" and any of his friends who may be in his state of mind concerning the work in the schools to come out to the Andersen school any day next week and sit with my eighth grade class and write with them a lesson in history or geography from dictation. If the children do not make fewer mistakes than he does I will confess that there may be some truth in his criticism. It seems to me some such test as is here suggested would give our citizens some facts that they ought to know, and furnish the "Prominent Business Man" a basis for his after dinner remarks.

Returning to the Bicycle.

Chicago, May 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your "Daily Health Hint" entitled "Auto vs. Bike" is timely. In all my experience there has been no one thing that I enjoyed more or miss as much as the good old cycling days. At the time the first "safety bicycle" was brought out I was "down and out" for lack of outdoor recreation. I rode a wheel for about ten years all told, and myself and wife rode a tandem five years until the last two years, when it appeared that we were the only ones left.

We have endeavored to be satisfied with street car service in visiting the parks and suburbs, but it is as much as one's life is worth to join the "Indians" in boarding a car in order to get a seat, and what can one see en route or after you get there?

We have decided to get our tandem out this year and ride. Who will join us? Would like to meet one or more congenial couples in forming an outing club.

Wrong Swords Used in Play.

Chicago, May 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I witnessed a performance of "My Boy" at Powers' theater this week and noticed that the actors representing dukes, marquises, counts, etc., as well as the king of Italy, had United States army regulation swords, instead of the swords worn by the nobility and the king of Italy.

These United States army swords differ from the ones used in Europe by having the grip made of blackhorn and the sword, including the hilt, nickel plated. The foreign swords, especially those of officers of high rank as well as the kings and princes, have a fish skin grip, gilded or gold plated hilt with a gold plated scabbard.

I should think that anything given on the stage should be represented exactly and realistic, otherwise it detracts from the play. If old King Humbert would hear that he was represented on a stage in Chicago wearing a United States army regulation sword, which, by the way, is made in Germany, he would turn around in his grave. The theaters often are careless in representing certain historical events. The writer remembers seeing a play which was supposed to be at the time of the Roman empire when one of the servants, instead of lighting a candle, turned on the electric light on the table.

DANCING, CARDS, AND THEATER FORBIDDEN IN MOTHER'S WILL.

Preacher's Widow Enjoins Piety on Daughters, Urging Them to Follow in Father's Steps.

"No part or parcel of this property shall be spent for dances or card parties, in games of chance, or theatergoing."

This is one of the provisions in the copy of the will of Elizabeth George Rice Stewart, late of Hillsdale, Mich., which was filed for record here yesterday to establish title to property of the estate in Chicago.

Other provisions of the will, which is dated July 8, 1901, follow:

"I hereby appoint Frances Stewart Mosher (my daughter) executrix, and direct that as soon as may be after my death all my debts and funeral expenses be paid; that my body be taken to Henneker, N. H., and buried beside my husband, the Rev. J. D. Stewart; that a handsome headstone be put in place and proper lettering be put upon the monument, all of which to be paid out of my estate.

"I direct that my executrix take possession of the whole of my property, hoping she will give something of the proceeds of it to benevolent purposes in the Free Will Baptist denomination every year.

"Taking into consideration how and by whom this money was earned and also remembering the moral and religious character of your father, the Rev. J. D. Stewart, may his example influence your life and the life of your children.

"I would also like to have some division made of this property to my children, Alfrieda Marian Mosher and Elizabeth Stewart McDonald, letting them have some share in the money and also my clothing and effects."

ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE RAISES $440,000 FOR HOME.

More Offered by Subscribers to Second Mortgage Bonds on Proposed $1,000,000 Building.

Members of the Chicago Association of Commerce met at luncheon yesterday and learned that $440,000 has been promised toward the $1,000,000 fund for a new home.

The fifteen field captains reported actual signed pledges for $350,000 of the proposed second mortgage bonds upon the new building and promises that would carry the amount to $440,000.

Walter D. Moody, chairman of the building committee, declared the project would go through.

"In many instances," he said, "firms that have subscribed only $5,000 have told our men to return if they need $10,000 more. There is every indication that within two or three days all the money needed will have been pledged."

Frederick Bode, chairman of the special committee, said the second mortgage bonds could not be regarded as a gilt edged investment, but as a subscription which may prove profitable.

Vice President Conway took issue with this statement.

"We will put up a building in the best part of the loop district without graft and without water," he said. "If the bonds covering the actual cost are not good, then it would seem to me that there can be no profit in building any structure within the loop. Such a supposition is nonsense."

RAILWAYS MAY BE REQUIRED TO PAY THE CITY $2,000,000.

Judge Gibbons' Decision, if Not Overruled, Means Reimbursement for Damages Paid Property Owners.

If the Supreme court sustains a decision made yesterday by Judge Gibbons, more than $2,000,000 may be collected by the city from railroads entering Chicago as reimbursement for damages paid to property owners by the city on account of changes in grade of street approaches.

When various viaducts were built by the railroads and the street grades changed, property owners sued the city and collected more than $2,000,000 on claims of damages, some dating back to 1880. The city in turn brought suit against the railroads and in several cases lost out in the federal Supreme court.

Suits begun in a different form against the Panhandle road have been on trial of late. The road contended that the claims had been outlawed by age, but Judge Gibbons sustained the demurrer filed by Assistant Corporation Counsel Haft, and gave the city the decision. Appeals will be taken by the roads.

WILL EXTEND CASINO PIER.

Contract for Work at Jackson Park Is Awarded to Great Lakes Dredge and Docks Company.

South park commissioners yesterday awarded to the Great Lakes Dredge and Docks company a contract to lengthen the Casino pier of Jackson park so as to make possible the landing of large boats at its sides.

Mrs. R. A. Utley, chairman of the Woodlawn Woman's club, presented a petition signed by 1,000 residents in the vicinity of Jackson park asking for a field house in the park near Sixty-third street. The board declared it lacked sufficient funds for the proposed building.

The commissioners decided to improve the ground surrounding the Art institute with flower beds and other decorations.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE IN CHURCH.

Appeals for Divine Intervention Follow Statement by the Rev. Morton Culver Hartzell.

Appeals for divine intervention in smoothing over its religious-political difficulties marked last night's prayer meeting of the congregation of the South Park Avenue Methodist church. The meeting was conducted by the Rev. Morton Culver Hartzell, who declared that if they would get together and talk over their differences in a Christian spirit justice would be done and peace prevail. Prayers were then made for a reunited church.

MISS BOOTH TELLS OF SLUMS

Moves Orchestra Hall Audience to Tears and Applause.

WEARS GARB OF LONDON SAL

Recounts Her Experiences in Dens Even Police Shunned.

Garbed in a much worn calico dress and with a red frayed shawl covering her face and shoulders, Miss Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation army in America, last night spoke to a large audience in Orchestra hall on the subject, "In Rags."

She brought her audience to tears as she described the misery and the suffering in the slums of London, where she lived for some time as the poorest of the poor. When she told of her trips among the dark tenements, alone and unprotected, she was interrupted by applause.

"I don't suppose there is anything in the world to equal the misery and the degradation that are ever present in the London slums," she said.

"Some years ago I wanted to see it all for myself. I dressed in old rags, much the same as I am wearing tonight, and I searched for the darkest, filthiest, most terrible places I could find in the greatest city in the world. I went among the people as one of them. I lived in a little dark tenement room and viewed the wretched conditions all around me.

Visits Dens Police Shun.

"There are places in London where even the police are afraid to go. They shun these places like they would the plague. I visited these dens of crime and iniquity alone. Many times I believed my life to be in danger, but in all my excursions in the slums I was never molested."

Miss Booth told of an incident when one of the women of the neighborhood came to her and informed her that two children were dying in a cellar. Their father, she said, was a notorious criminal, the mother was dead, and the children were starving. Miss Booth went to the dark cellar and rescued them. After several days the father demanded that they be returned to him.

"He came to the tenement where I was living," said the speaker, "and threatened to kill me if I did not give up the children. Before I got through with him, however, he was as docile as a lamb and had promised to reform and get a decent home for his family. I assisted him in getting work and today he is a hardworking man, with a pretty home in one of the London suburbs and his children are well and happy.

Rags Worn to Win Poor.

"I tried to help the people of the poverty stricken districts, and in my rags I could get closer to them than any one else. I went from one place to another, into the basement saloons, the highways and byways of the city, and I found more suffering than I ever want to see again in my life."

Miss Booth told of her visits to the prisons in London and of the work that is being done in them by the Salvation army. That organization, she said, furnished food and lodging for thousands of convicts after they have finished their sentences, and in many cases finds positions for them where they can make an honest living.

Several hundred members of the Salvation army occupied seats on the big stage at Orchestra hall, and two bands played religious airs before and after the lecture. The speaker was introduced by Commissioner Thomas Estill. Col. George French offered the opening prayer.

MACHINE ROOTING DEFENDED BY A UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT.

Head of Cincinnati School Calls Opponents of College Yells a "Lot of Old Maids."

Cincinnati, O., May 19.—"They are a lot of old maids."

President C. W. Debney, of the Cincinnati university made this declaration concerning the action of the conference of nineteen big New England colleges in Boston, where a resolution was passed condemning organized cheering at college contests as "unsportsmanlike and unworthy" on the ground that it was intended to disconcert the players of the opposing teams.

"Next thing they will be passing resolutions condemning whistling and college colors," continued Dr. Dabney. "What are you going to do with the college boy if you bottle up his enthusiasm and refuse to let him 'holler'? This is a first class way to go about trying to kill off the college spirit."

NEED $15,000 TO OPEN RAVINIA.

Mrs. James A. Patten and Others Canvass for Funds to Inaugurate Park Season.

Ravinia park in all probability will be the scene of classical concerts and dramatic performances this summer, as in former years, according to George M. Seward, the receiver in whose hands the resort was placed following its financial difficulties.

Judge Grosscup requires a guarantee of $15,000 before he can justify his permission to allow the park to inaugurate its summer program.

Chicagoans interested in the park, said to be the only one of its kind in the world, have organized committees to canvass the money. Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, Samuel Slade, George J. Pope, Willoughby Walling, Percy Eckhart, and Mrs. James A. Patten are on these committees.

CHICAGO PUBLISHERS TO JOIN.

Will Be Taken Into Illinois Newspaper Publishers' Association as Result of Expansion Policy.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—[Special.]—Chicago newspaper publishers will be taken into the Illinois Daily Newspaper Publishers' association as a result of the expansion policy decided upon at the closing session of the convention today. Harrison M. Parker of Chicago, who addressed the convention, expressed a desire to join the association, and other Chicago publishers are expected to follow his initiative.

The association decided on a set of rules affecting advertising, the code adopted being similar to that of the Iowa Publishers' association. The important point of the code is its insistence upon adherence to published rates.

Censure was given the Peoria Star for printing on its first page a statement that it had double the circulation of any paper in the state outside of Chicago. The resolution adopted brands the statement as false and requests the Star to discontinue publication of the objectionable statement.

The election of an officer was deferred until the October meeting, which is to be held in Chicago.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

F. A. DELANO of Chicago, president of the Wabash railroad company, was reelected president of the American Railway association for another year at a meeting of the association in New York. The meeting adjourned after voting to hold the next session in Chicago on Nov. 17.

CHARLES E. HUGHES JR., son of the governor of New York, who is in a Providence (R. I.) hospital suffering from cerebro-spinal meningitis, is improving. Young Hughes was taken to the hospital from Brown university, where he is a member of the senior class.

CAPT. SAMUEL P. COMLY, a member of the lighthouse board, has been selected to command the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, relieving Rear Admiral William P. Potter, who will haul down his flag June 10 and proceed home for orders.

NORD ALEXIS, deposed president of Hayti, will soon come to Peru, Ind., for a visit. At present he is the guest of James Turner, colored, of Peru. They landed in New York last Saturday.

EX-MAYOR DUNNE of Chicago spent the day at Notre Dame university. He spoke to the students upon the subject of municipal ownership.

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD

Mrs. George M. Pullman Invites Persian Prince to Chicago.

BRIDE WILL GO TO INDIA.

May Pearl Dorr to Wed Young Missionary, School Sweetheart.

Mrs. George M. Pullman has been instrumental in bringing to Chicago an interesting Persian—Ali Kuli Khan, who, with his wife, is expected to arrive within the week. Not only is Ali Kuli Khan a member of Persian royalty, but he is said to be one of the most learned men of the empire. During the last winter he has been much sought as a lecturer in Washington; in fact, he delivered some of his talks at entertainments given by Mrs. Pullman during her stay in that city. Some years ago he married a Boston woman who was a close friend of Mrs. Pullman, and who herself is an interesting lecturer on the Persian women.

Not long ago the prince and princess left Washington for California, where they lectured at the residence of Mrs. Pullman's daughter, Mrs. Francis Carolan, in Burlingame. Mrs. Pullman has planned a luncheon to be given next week during their stay, when the prince will give his address on Persia to the guests. He lectures only on Persian topics and gives a most fascinating picture of his people. The exact date of their arrival is not known as yet.

Tomorrow Mrs. Pullman will have a dozen close friends at luncheon at her residence, 1729 Prairie avenue.

Not many of the brides of the season are to be surrounded by the romance which has fallen to the lot of Miss May Pearl Dorr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dorr of Berwyn. Miss Dorr is to become the bride of William Johnson Longley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Longley of Oak Park, who by his wedding day will have the right to place "the Rev." before his name. After the wedding, which is to take place Tuesday evening, June 1, at the Berwyn Baptist church, he will take his bride to India to live.

The young couple were schoolday sweethearts and were graduated together from Wheaton college four years ago. The following fall Mr. Longley entered the Baptist Theological seminary at Rochester, from which he was graduated on May 12 last. He will be ordained Sunday afternoon, May 23, at the First Baptist church of Oak Park. With his graduation has come the appointment as missionary to South India by the American Baptist Missionary union, and after a honeymoon trip through the western states he will take his bride to Telugu Field, where their cards announce they will be at home after Nov. 1.

The wedding party will be composed of intimate friends of the bride and classmates of the groom. Miss Jennie Dorr will serve her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Gertrude Longley and Miss Georgia Allen will be bridemaids.

P. J. Bolger of Rochester, N. Y., will be the best man, and Robert K. Erskine of Champaign, Edward Greenberg of Wheaton, and William W. Lanterman will usher. L. B. Dorr will be master of ceremonies.

A reception will follow the ceremony in the church parlors. A pretty feature of the wedding will be ten young girls in white, who will lead the procession to the altar singing the "Lohengrin Wedding March."

Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair, who is giving a series of small entertainments before she leaves for Europe late in the month, will give a dinner at the Saddle and Cycle club next Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Margaret Keep.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ludington Barnes have closed the family residence at 297 Ontario street and have gone to Winnetka, where they have taken a house for the summer.

Mrs. J. Griswold Coleman Jr., 188 Lincoln Park boulevard, expects to leave for York Harbor, Me., on June 15, to spend the remainder of the summer. As the town house will be closed during her absence, Mr. Coleman expects to go to the Onwentsia club to remain until Aug. 1, when he will join Mrs. Coleman in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron L. Smith closed their Prairie avenue residence yesterday and went to Lake Forest for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith will take a house at Lake Forest for the summer also.

Judge and Mrs. Arnold Heap, 1401 Washington boulevard, have gone east and expect to sail soon for Europe, where they will spend the summer in travel.

Mrs. John B. Sherwood, 530 West Monroe street, president of the West End Woman's club, will spend the summer in Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. George T. Banzet of Evanston will go to Europe for the summer.

The engagement of Miss Annie Ely, daughter of Mrs. S. M. Taylor of Ewing, Va., and Alonzo W. Haines, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Aaron W. Haines, 2005 Kenmore avenue, has been announced recently. The wedding will take place on June 16.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Freudenberg will be at home on Sunday next at 7037 Sangamon street in honor of the 90th birthday of Mr. Freudenberg's mother, Mrs. Johanna Freudenberg.

SOCIETY AT NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Secretary of State and Mrs. Knox Entertain—Mrs. Taft Is Denying Herself to Any Callers.

Washington, May 19.—[Special.]—One of the largest dinner parties of the season was given tonight by Secretary of State and Mrs. Knox. They entertained about 165 guests at Rauscher's, all of the second floor being given up to the company.

On account of her slight nervous breakdown Mrs. Taft is denying herself to any callers and her informal at homes, which are arranged for over the telephone, have been postponed for about ten days.

Many of the guests bidden to the White house for the garden party Friday afternoon have been apprehensive that the fête might also be postponed, but such is not Mrs. Taft's intention.

Fills Out Century of Busy Life Today

Mrs. Dinah E. Sprague.

GLAD TO BE ALIVE AT 100

Mrs. Dinah E. Sprague, Blind and Deaf, Has Birthday Party.

ASKS FOR WAR NEWS FIRST.

Daughter and Wife of 1812 Veterans Friend of Soldiers.

"Is there any war news in the paper?"

That is the question most often asked concerning current events by Mr. Dinah E. Sprague, who will celebrate the 100th anniversary of her birth today. Mrs. Sprague lives with her niece, Mrs. Julia Wartz, at 6518 Ross avenue. She has been blind and deaf ten years and walks with difficulty with the aid of a cane, but her intellect is as sharp and she shows as lively an interest in things about her as the ordinary woman of half her age.

"I am glad to be alive," she said yesterday. "I like to meet people and I like to talk to them. The greatest historical event in my lifetime, I think, was the war of the rebellion. The scenes of those days are as fresh in my mind as if they had happened today."

Finds Woman's Clubs Dull.

Mrs. Sprague shows little interest in woman's clubs, although she is the oldest member of the Women's Relief corps of Ohio and a member of the D. A. R.

"I believe women should vote," she said, "otherwise it is taxation without representation. But there is a lot of other work for women to do beside voting."

She was born in Copenhagen, Lewis county, N. Y. As she says, she was an old maid before she married at the age of 36 to Ara D. Sprague in Huron, O. Mrs. Sprague's father was Dr. Purley Munger, an army surgeon, who served through the war of 1812. Her husband was a veteran of that war, and she is one of the few of its pensioners left.

Keen Interest in Soldiers.

During the civil war Mrs. Sprague lived in Cleveland and took an active part in the women's work of sending clothing and supplies to the army. Her keen interest in soldiers was reawakened in the Spanish-American war. She made 100 nightcaps to protect them from insects in Cuba.

Mr. Sprague has been dead twenty years. The two children died in infancy. His widow came to Chicago eight years ago.

Mrs. Sprague says her long life is due to plenty of work and simple living. She likes meats, but her evening meal is always bread and milk.

COURT DENIES MRS. TUCKER ALIMONY OR EXPENSE MONEY.

Judge Barnes Grants $150 Fees and Says Plea May Be Renewed if Case Goes Over Till Fall.

Judge Barnes refused yesterday to grant either temporary alimony or expense money to Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Tucker, who is suing Col. William F. Tucker, U. S. A., retired, for separate maintenance. He allowed her $150 counsel fees.

"It is apparent to me," said the court, "that Mrs. Tucker is not in dire want c. anything. But I will not deny the application with prejudice. In the event that this case will not be disposed of before the courts adjourn for the summer she may renew it. Expense money will be disallowed until the matter is adjudicated."

An affidavit signed by Col. Tucker was read to the court. In it the husband declares Mrs. Tucker has property worth $100,000 and a good income. In a counter affidavit Mrs. Tucker declares her income does not amount to more than $1,750.

In her suit Mrs. Tucker accuses her husband of desertion and drunkenness, which he denies.

STRANGER HELPED BY WANT AD.

New York Girl Finds Lodgings and Work Through "The Tribune" on Day of Arrival Here.

The fame of The Tribune "want ad" columns was amply attested yesterday by Miss Grace Braun of New York, who arrived in the city the day before in search of employment. After finding lodgings through The Tribune she perused the "want columns" of the paper and read this:

STENOGRAPHER—I WANT A RAPID OLIVER stenographer—today. I am tired burning up valuable stored-up patience interviewing young ladies that won't do for me. If you are neat in your appearance and in your work, have a good education, write accurate letters that don't have to be edited every time—if you want to work for a concern with lots of real red juice in it and where your work becomes a pleasure and you are always treated fair and square, see me right off.

WEST SIDERS WED; MOVE AWAY.

Dearth of Young People Leads Woman's Club to Plan Social Series to Meet Debt.

The members of the West End Woman's club have arranged a series of assemblies during the next few months with the object of converting the clubhouse in Ashland boulevard into a social center for young people.

"You see," said Mrs. F. K. Tracy, one of the members interested in the movement, "so many of our former west side folk have moved to some other part of the city, or the young people have married and left the family home, that the west side today is not as active socially as it was a few years ago, when it was one of the city's centers."

Some six or eight years ago the women of the club built a house of their own, which cost $32,000. Yearly payments have reduced the indebtedness to $9,000, and it is desired to meet this rapidly. The social series will be inaugurated next Monday evening with a maypole and fancy dancing.

THESE 'CHORUS GIRLS' ARE MEN.

Female Roles in "The Lyrical Liar," Blackfriars' Opera, Handled by U. of C. Stars.

Members of the Blackfriars, the University of Chicago comic opera club, will tonight present "The Lyrical Liar," their annual musical show, in Mandel hall.

This is the biggest dramatic event of the year on the Midway campus, and is featured by the appearance of more than fifty young men as chorus girls.

The leading "female" rôle, Audrey, will be assumed by William Merril. Ralph Benzies plays the soubrette, Walter Steffen of football fame appears as the hero, and other "leads" are in the hands of Winston Henry and Walter Baukhage. George Herbert is coach of the production, which has been written by Herner Kenner, Howard Blackford, Richard Myers, and Charles Willard.

It may surprise you to know that it is located in this city and that you may inspect it at any time.

Of all Chicago tunnels this one is the most useful for the welfare of the city and its inhabitants.

On it depend 25,000 street lamps and 80,000 arc lamps.

650 shops rely on it for power.

1,500 industrial plants depend on this tunnel for fuel.

1,200 restaurants and 250 laundries are also served.

400,000 homes are dependent on this particular tunnel for light and fuel.

Is 2,366 Miles Long

That would be the total length if the tunnel ran in one straight line—a little more than the distance from Chicago to San Francisco.

Nearly every home in Chicago is in touch with one of the branches of this tunnel.

The diameter of this wonderful tunnel varies from 36 inches down to 6 inches, and where it enters the home it is a pipe only 2 inches wide.

Through this pipe you get gas for light and fuel.

Supplies the Cleanest Fuel

The fuel that is delivered in this manner does not require any storage space—use it as you need it and pay afterwards.

When you burn gas it leaves no ashes, dust, smoke, dirt, or soot—its use removes the cause for constant housecleaning.

It lights as easy as a match, gives intense heat instantly and that heat can be regulated without moving a pot or kettle.

It is the fuel that every woman in Chicago likes because it is ready at any time, burns perfectly without "coaxing," and saves time, trouble and work.

Ask any one that has a gas appliance in their home and hear about the cleaner kitchens, cleaner cooking utensils, better cooking and quick meals.

Advantages Are Doubled

In addition to the benefits and improvements secured by using the cleanest fuel (gas), the appliance you select is important.

Cooking hours can be cut in half and kitchen work made much easier by getting the range that does the best cooking and is easiest to keep clean.

A "Double Economy" Cabinet Range will stand more hard usage and give you greater satisfaction than any other range.

It is durably put together of extra good material—based on good knowledge and experience — the specifications could not call for anything better in the manufacture.

The Best Made

All the conveniences and economical features that a housewife could desire to make cooking easy have been added.

Two ovens heated with one flame, a large shelf below for pots and pans, assorted top burners—these are a few of the many good points.

The very liberal terms and reasonable cost prices make it easy for you to get one of these ranges.

They are delivered, installed and connected ready for use FREE.

These facts, backed up by the liberal guarantee, are a safe basis for your confidence in a "Double Economy" Range. You will want one because you know the quality and can rely on it for the future.

P. S.—By writing to the Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company, 155 Michigan avenue, you will receive free a copy of the new art booklet, full of useful information, or you can telephone Central 1076.

An open flame gas burner gives a yellow light equal to 25 candles and uses ½c worth of gas per hour.
A good mantle burner gives a white light equal to 150 candles and uses ½c worth of gas per hour.

Your Face and Hands Need Good Soap

The exposure of the face and hands to dust, sun, wind, is no more injurious to the skin than impure soaps, that clog the pores and make the glands inactive.

The permanently good complexion may be had only by keeping the skin really clean, not only on the surface, but in the pores.

CRADDOCK'S (Medicated) BLUE SOAP

And clear water will improve your complexion and preserve it. Its use is an incentive to complexion care. Its rich, creamy lather cleanses, while its delicate, fragrant, lasting odor enhances its delights.

For tender, rough, red skin—and all skin blemishes—Craddock's (Medicated) Blue Soap is the universal aid. It will improve any complexion.

BEAUTY HINT No. 3—THE COMPLEXION—When the wind and sun seek their victims they usually find them. The evidence is in the harsh, red skins and chapped faces of womankind. "Every time I wash my face it gets worse," is the moan of many a woman who greases herself with creams and lotions till she looks like a Sioux Indian getting ready to put on his war paint. And then she sallies forth to meet more wind and more sun and comes home to find her sensitized skin is just as bad as it was before she began coddling it. And it's all because she doesn't know that washing never hurts her face if she washes it in the right way. It's all in the soap she uses. If she uses poor soap, of course her skin is irritated. Some women would use laundry soap on their faces and wonder why they didn't have the velvety softness and the delicacy of coloring of a peach-blossom. But that's just what they can have if they use clear water and Craddock's (Medicated) Blue Soap.

Death of H. H. Rogers Has Little Effect on Market.

HEAVY BUYING OF STEEL.

Foreign Exchange Is Strong Again; More Gold for Export.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—[Special.]—The news of the death of H. H. Rogers was received in the financial district before the opening of the stock market, and naturally those who had in mind only the magnitude of Rogers' interests in the past and the prominent part with which he was at times credited in market movements were genuinely anxious over the effect of the announcement upon prices of securities, particularly those in which Mr. Rogers' holdings were known to be still large.

Some little unsettlement in these few stocks there was in the early trading, but as a whole the market was unaffected and before the close of the day there had been carried still further the rise in progress at the end of business Tuesday night.

Reason for Market Policy.

The reason for this indifference to the disappearance of a figure which once loomed so large in Wall street lies in the fact that for two years or more following his first serious illness Mr. Rogers had much curtailed his activities. His energy and resources were concentrated upon the railroad which he had just finished from the coal fields of West Virginia to tidewater, and where he did not actually withdraw from participation in business ventures his interests were looked after by those who will continue to act in the same capacity.

It was the exceptionally heavy buying of United States Steel common, transactions which made up one-quarter of the day's total business, which drove the market forward again. Such unmistakable evidence of accumulation on the part of influential financial interests convinced smaller speculators that it was useless for the moment at least to work for lower prices and their covering purchases or genuine buying extended to all parts of the list and lifted prices. Due notice was taken by Wall street of the cheerful surveys of the future by manufacturers from all over the country, who are assembled here in convention, and of similar expressions of optimism on the part of the railroad men who are meeting for the same purpose.

One of the earliest of the April railroad earnings statements to come to hand was that of the Baltimore and Ohio, submitted during the day, showing an increase of $737,000 in gross and of $728,000 in net.

Foreign Exchange Strong Again.

Foreign exchange ruled strong again, quotations being so high as to permit those engaged in the export movement to withdraw coin from the United States subtreasury to the amount of above $2,000,000. Thus far this week, therefore, engagements have called for above $6,000,000 in gold, but in the money market there is to be found not the least reflection of thise heavy withdrawals. One of the reasons is disclosed by the controller's compilation of the reports of the country's national banks under the call of April 28, this having been made public today. It shows a decrease in the percentage of legal reserves of only 1½ per cent, as compared with the after panic reserve level of May 14, 1908, and an actual increase, although slight, in this percentage since Feb. 5 last.

Money on call easy, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾; closing bid, 1¾; offered at 2. Time loans, dull and easier; 60 and 90 days, 2 @2½ per cent; six months, 3@3¼ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent; sterling exchange, steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 486.40@486.50 for 60 day bills and at 487.80 for demand. Commercial bills, 485⅞@486¼; bar silver, 52⅝c; Mexican dollars, 44c; government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, May 19.—Money was quiet and easy on the market today and discounts were firm. Business on the stock exchange continued small and a slight setback occurred in places, small holders realizing, but there was no pronounced weakness. Foreigners appeared to be the firmest section under Paris buying, which also hardened Kaffirs in the late trade. British securities were dull and neglected. American securities were firm in the forenoon at fractions over parity. United States Steel received attention on better trade reports. Prices eased in the afternoon under the lead of Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific on the announcement of the death in New York of H. H. Rogers. The market, however, recovered and closed steady.

NEWS OF FINANCIAL WORLD.

Irregular Deals in Swift & Co. Shares; "L" Stocks Quiet.

AMERICA LAND OF SAVING.

Deposits of Over Five Billion Dollars; Anaconda's Report.

Dealings in Swift & Co. shares on the local exchange were again irregular. At the opening the price sold off freely, but later support was furnished. There has been a great deal of good selling since the quotation was advanced to 100. The upward movement was unexpected, and, inasmuch as it was based on general market conditions, holders of the stock who had good profits did not hesitate to take them, believing there was nothing in the situation to stimulate continued buying.

The elevated shares were relatively quiet. The situation is a waiting one. With the exception of the Northwestern and the Chicago and Oak Park, there is not definite certainty as to what disposition will be made of the proposal of the Central Terminal company. The managements of the South Side Elevated and of the Metropolitan Elevated would like to get a larger rental than that offered, but at the same time do not wish to have the present plan abandoned. It appears to be, therefore, a matter for considerable negotiation.

Commonwealth-Edison shares again advanced to 119. The buying as usual was general and the volume of transactions a few hundred shares.

American Shipbuilding common sold at 60. The impression prevails that some distribution will be made on this stock in the course of the current year. A few shares of Elgin National Watch stock sold at 162.

Street Stable Car common was again taken in hand and the price advanced to 47¼ after selling at 45. There was a moderate business in United Boxboard stock. In the bond department there were a few trades in United Boxboard and Paper general 6s and collateral 6s. The former sold at 73 and the latter at 70⅜.

Huge Savings Deposits.

Statistics compiled by William Hanhart, secretary of the savings bank section of the American Bankers' association, indicate that savings in the banks of the United States total $5,560,837,016, as against the report of the controller of the currency showing $3,660,553,945.

If there be included the savings in building and loan associations and in life insurance companies, Mr. Hanhart places the actual and visible savings of the people of the country at a total of $9,466,411,488, or approximately $118 for every man, woman, and child in the country.

Mr. Hanhart has furnished the following statement showing the classification of the savings accounts:

1,453	savings banks, with 8,705,848 depositors (as per annual report of the controller of the currency) with savings deposits of	$3,660,553,945
5,450	building and loan associations, with 1,876,967 members, and accumulations of	745,993,398
827	life insurance companies, having 33,186,420 policies in force, assuring $22,998,969,881, with assets of	3,159,581,074

Showing the total of...........$9,466,411,488 as the actual and visible savings of 80,000,000 people, or over $118 for every man, woman, and child in the country; this is more than three times the amount of money (gold, silver, bank notes, greenbacks, etc.) in circulation in the United States.

United Boxboard.

One of the directors of the United Boxboard company said during the day that the business was improving and the company making a little money, but that general trade conditions were not right in that a great deal of business was being held back pending the action of congress on the tariff. He added:

"The Strawboard company is still tied up in litigation, and from all we can learn it is intended by the Barber interests that it shall remain so as long as they can keep it there. The injunction suit brought by the minority shareholders will be heard next Monday, but no one can tell what will be the outcome of these proceedings. The Boxboard company would be better off if it were forced to give up the Strawboard company, which is the contention of the Barber faction."

Anaconda Copper's Year.

The annual report of the Anaconda Copper company for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1908, was issued yesterday. The statement of the subsidiary concerns made the following showing:

	1908.	Decrease.
Total receipts	$15,604,482	$3,146,652
Total disbursements	14,658,519	944,842
Balance	945,963	2,201,810
Additions, interest	137,017	93,480
Net for dividends	1,082,980	7,295,240
Dividends	2,400,000	3,600,000
Deficit	1,317,020	1,604,760
Previous surplus	6,261,463	2,921,780
Total surplus	4,944,443	1,317,020

In his report to the shareholders the president of the company, J. D. Ryan, said, among other things:

"The mines of the company were not in operation during the months of January and February. The profits were earned in the last six months of the year. The first six months' period showed an actual loss, as the shutdown expenses and extraordinary expense of reopening the mines absorbed whatever profit there was made in the months of April, May, and June."

Western Electric Business.

Business of the Western Electric company for April makes a better exhibit than for March, which to that date was the best month in the fiscal year. The April returns are 50 per cent better than for the corresponding month last year. An officer of the company says:

"The situation with its gradual and sound ratio of improvement looks promising. Of course, much depends upon the crop situation, but there is no question that we shall run far ahead of last year and, with all things equal and from indications at the present time, we expect to make the best record, with the exception of 1906 and 1907, in our history."

Checks of Trust Companies.

New York clearing house banks are endeavoring to discover a suitable method of handling the checks of trust companies not members of the association. The latest plan discussed is an arrangement whereby checks drawn on trust companies in Manhattan that are not members of the clearing house can be collected by clearing house messengers. It is suggested that all banks that are members of the association should send checks and drafts drawn on the local banks and trust companies that are not members to the clearing house, and that the manager give a receipt for the items delivered, and that these be immediately sorted out and listed for each institution not a member of the association.

CITY OF NEW ORLEANS, LA.

PROPOSALS FOR THE PURCHASE OF "NEW PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT BONDS" OF THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., April 17th, 1909.

The Board of Liquidation of the City Debt, under special authority granted by Acts No. 19 of 1906 and No. 116 of 1908 of the Legislature of Louisiana, which acts have been ratified by Constitutional Amendments and have become part of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, will receive at the office of the Board of Liquidation of the City Debt, City Hall, New Orleans, Louisiana, sealed proposals up to Friday, May 21st, 1909, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purchase of Two Million Dollars [$2,000,000], or any part thereof, of the New Public Improvement Bonds of the City of New Orleans, to be issued under authority of said Acts No. 19 of 1906 and No. 116 of 1908 and the Constitutional Amendments ratifying said acts.

The bonds are payable January 1st, 1942, are callable at the option of the City of New Orleans after January 1st, 1928, bear four per cent [4%] per annum interest, payable semi-annually. They are of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars [$1,000] each, with interest coupons annexed, payable January and July first, and are exempt from all taxation, State, Parish and Municipal.

The bonds will be sold to the best bidder in price for not less than par and accrued interest, coupled with the least commission, and no bid will be considered requiring a commission of more than six per cent [6%].

Bids must be accompanied by a certified check of 3 per cent of the amount of the bids. The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately after adjudication. The check of the successful bidder or bidders will be retained and applied toward payment of the first delivery of bonds. The successful bidder or bidders shall have the option either to pay in full for the amounts which may be adjudicated to him or them or to take and pay for, in cash, twenty-five per cent of the amount of his or their bid and to take and pay for the remainder at such times and in such amounts as the Sewerage and Water Board may request after a notice of thirty days.

Bids must set forth whether or not the bidder will take and pay for in full such bonds as may be adjudicated to him or them, or will take and pay for twenty-five per cent of said bonds and accept delivery at such times and in such amounts as the Sewerage and Water Board may direct upon the giving of thirty days' notice.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

In order to secure the time for the signing and delivery of said bonds, and in the event that the entire $2,000,000 of said bonds are adjudicated for cash and immediate delivery, the same will be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers as follows:

One Million Dollars [$1,000,000] within thirty days, the remaining $1,000,000 within sixty days from the date of the adjudication.

In the event of adjudication subject to the right of the purchaser or purchasers to pay twenty-five per cent and accept the balance subject to the requirements of the Sewerage and Water Board after notice by said Board for a period of thirty days, the said twenty-five per cent will be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers within fifteen days from the date of the adjudication.

In the event that there should be more than one bid accepted the deliveries as above set forth shall be prorated in the proportion that the bids bear to the entire amount adjudicated.

Mark all bids "Proposals for purchase of New Public Improvement Bonds."

Further particulars and detail will be furnished by application to Terence Wolfe, Jr., Secretary of the Board of Liquidation of the City Debt, City Hall, New Orleans, La.

SHORTS FORCED TO COVER.

Lack of Offerings and Firmer Cables Cause Wheat Bulge.

FRENCH ADVICES BULLISH.

Coarse Grains Work Higher, Influenced by Strong Cash Position.

Shorts in wheat paid the penalty for overselling on Tuesday and bid prices up frantically yesterday. Cables came strong when a lower list was expected, and instead of there being a continuation of the selling wave of the previous day no grain was found for sale, while there was much wanted both by commission houses and local bulls, as well as by the shorts. Opening values were substantially higher and worked up further during the first half hour and held the advance to a large extent throughout the session. May wheat did not get up as high as during the previous session, but there were net gains for the day of 1@1¼c. Trade was active early and commission houses as a rule did a large business.

Weather Conditions Favorable.

Weather conditions were fine and improvement is noted in different sections of the winter wheat belt, experts reporting marked improvement in localities which a few weeks ago seemed hopeless. This state of affairs had little effect on the trade owing to the manipulated character of the market, pit conditions being the preponderating influence. Kansas advices are conflicting, and some of the leaders in the trade who have their own means of finding out conditions profess to believe 65,000,000 bu will be a liberal estimate for the state even with rains now. Most of the state has had a good soaking. In Texas and Oklahoma the drought still is a factor. Northwest there are excellent prospects on both sides of the international boundary.

Cash Trade Fairly Active.

Cash trade was fair here, but sales are not large compared to ordinary times. In view of the limited supplies the total—50,000 bu—was considered good. Northwest cash advices indicated a tightening in the situation. Primary receipts were again small at 282,000 bu, compared to 318,000 bu a year ago. Minneapolis stocks decreased 600,000 bu for four days. Local arrivals were none, with four cars expected today.

A late factor in the market was a French cable reporting drought in France, causing a firm tone to the Paris market and causing a bullish sentiment abroad. Heretofore the French reports have been favorable. Advices from Russia and Germany were also bullish. Liverpool closed ⅛@¼d higher; Berlin, ¾c; Buenos Aires, ⅝c; Budapest, ⅞c.

Buying early was headed by Bartlett-Patten, Armour, Clement-Curtis, and Barrell. Later there was liberal profit taking by the Patten house and sales for its account were probably larger than their purchases for the day. Knight-McDougal, Logan-Bryan, Brosseau, Lake, and Barrell sold on the bulge.

Corn Mart Closes Strong.

Closing prices for corn were ¼@⅝c higher than the previous day, buying by shorts on the strength in wheat, light receipts, and firm cables being the main factor. Offerings were comparatively light throughout the session, although the country advices nearly all told of fine crop prospects and free acceptances. In this state it is evident farmers are preparing to market corn to some extent at least. Corn planting is being rapidly completed and farmers will have more time to attend to delivering corn. Liverpool closed ¾d higher. Cash sales were the smallest in some time at 25,000 bu, with prices in the sample market strong and ½@⅝c higher. Primary arrivals were 287,000 bu, against 621,000 bu a year ago. Local arrivals were 119 cars, with 92 expected today.

Firm Undertone in Oats.

Trade in oats was moderately active, with buying by Howe, Rankin, and Comstock the feature. Country houses bought a little and offerings were light. Final quotations were ⅜@⅝c higher. Crop reports from Iowa indicate a decrease of 5 to 10 per cent less than a year ago, while the condition is not so good. The cash market was ¼@1c higher, with sales of 100,000 bu. Primary receipts were 434,000 bu, compared to 617,000 bu a year ago. Local receipts were 118 cars, with 123 cars promised for today.

Rye Trade Restricted.

Trade in rye was slow, owing to the lack of offerings. May closed at 83c bid, July 82c nominal, and September 80c nominal. No. 2 was quoted 86@87c; No. 3, 79@83c, and No. 4 74@78c. Receipts none.

Barley advanced 1c in sympathy with oats. Malting was quoted 71½@73½c; mixing, 70½@73c, and screenings, 50@73c. Receipts were 36 cars.

Flaxseed was unchanged. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.73; No. 1 from the northwest, $1.71½, and No. 1 southwestern, $1.63. Receipts none.

Timothy seed was steady. September closed at $4.00, and country lots $2.75@3.80. Cloverseed was 20@25c higher. May closed at $9.70, October $11.00, and March $11.25; cash lots, $7.25@9.50.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

"The crop reports of the government are not accurate, they are only approximations to the actual, and it is regrettable that they should be held up as infallible and exact," said P. S. Goodman, the local grain statistician, in an address before the Oklahoma Grain Dealers' association at Oklahoma City yesterday afternoon. "They are undoubtedly the best we have obtainable for the country as a whole, and I believe if the average of the reports of the correspondents was given the approximation would be closer to the actual; and I further believe the data as to acreage and final yields would be greatly improved if the local reporters were asked to express themselves in area and yield instead of giving percentages of former years. The gross errors that creep into the government reports originate from people who know less of the general situation than the average opinion of the thousands of reporters who do know something of their locality. Our officials should divest themselves of the idea that the yields of grain they report are exact; they should be sensitive to the errors of the past and fearful of present errors." Mr. Goodman went to point out several glaring examples in recent years where the estimates of the government have not tallied with final returns. In the Leiter years, for example, the commercial balance at the end of the year showed 189,000,000 bu more wheat in the country than the reports had indicated. The arbitrary increases in acreage at different times were condemned. "The department's methods can be and ought to be improved," continued Mr. Goodman. "The assessors' returns should be accepted by the government. Good would also accrue from conferences with state reporting boards. Efforts to agree upon so vital a matter as the production of foodstuffs would be helpful to the trade, to the producer and consumer, and at least be more approved than the denunciation of each other's figures. The Canadian method of requiring returns from thrashers each season might be adopted also. Milling returns should be secured yearly and, if possible, monthly."

An informal dinner will be given for the members of the board of trade by the Chicago Association of Commerce in the gold room of the Congress hotel May 26 at 6 o'clock. Members generally have expressed the intention of accepting the invitation and it is believed that the occasion will be one of the most enjoyable in the history of the institution. Many members of the board also belong to the Association of Commerce, and every effort is being made to have the dinner a rousing success. Members are advised that all who wish to attend should have their acceptances in the office of the secretary of the board not later than Friday morning, May 21. This is in order that the committee in charge may have ample time to complete arrangements.

The Northwestern Miller, in its weekly review, said: "The Minneapolis flour output last week increased 17,855 brls. The quantity turned out (May 15) was 280,025 brls, against 264,225 brls in 1908 and 250,175 brls in 1907. Today one more mill—a small one—was in operation. The week's output should approximate 275,000 brls. For the corresponding week in 1908 it was 265,625 brls. On the whole, the situation as to the wheat crop in the northwest is favorable. Of course, wheat went into the ground one to two weeks late, but with warm, bright weather the crop would make rapid growth.

The cash situation continues to show moderate improvement and sales of hard winter were fair, but the demand for springs continues light. Kansas City and St. Louis reported a strong undertone, with supplies light. Receipts continue small in the northwest and it is claimed country millers will take about the biggest part of the current arrivals from now on. Corn was ¼@⅝c higher here and oats ⅛@1c up, with a moderate demand for both and fair offerings. Cash sales were 50,000 bu wheat, 25,000 bu corn, and 100,000 bu oats.

Corn planting is making rapid progress and in the vicinity of Springfield, Ill., it will be completed this week, and other sections all report the work nearing completion. An enormous acreage is indicated and many traders are looking for the largest crop on record.

Some of the late buying was influenced by a cable from Paris saying conditions were unfavorable owing to drought and that wheat prices were advancing. Paris was ⅝@1¼c higher.

Winnipeg receipts of wheat were 20 cars, compared with 44 cars a week ago and 48 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 92 cars; oats, 123 cars; rye, none; barley, 20 cars; and hogs, 21,000.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 600,000 bu for four days.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Steer values averaged 10@20c lower than on the preceding day. Receipts of 18,000 included a surprisingly large number of choice heavy beeves and they suffered most in value, while the light steers of good quality found an outlet at prices which did not show more than 10c depreciation at the outside. Beeves which could have been disposed of at $7.30 on last Monday topped the day's market at $7.15, while other lots of weighty steers at from $6.25@6.90, according to quality, were correspondingly depressed. Yearlings, weighing around 1,150 lbs, sold at $7.00, which was considered not far from steady, while loads of plain light steers at from $4.75@5.65 were not more than 10c off. The demand came chiefly from local packers and eastern shippers, while the exporters were indifferent buyers.

Butcher stock trade was featured by an energetic demand for heavy beef cows and fat heifers, which sold at practically unchanged prices. After the bulk of the desirable lots had been absorbed the market weakened and closed weak on the common light cows. Bulls came in for an unusually brisk inquiry at a sharp advance in values, choice butcher grades selling in odd lots at up to $6.00. Calves sold at steady to firm prices, with assorted lots of prime vealers to outsiders at up to $6.75@7.00. Stock steers and feeders were sparingly offered, but the outlet for this class of cattle was exceptionally narrow and prices held weak to a shade lower. Quotations:

Beef steers, plain to good	4.75@6.25
Exporters	5.50@6.65
Beef cows, good to choice	4.50@6.00
Beef cows, plain to good	3.50@5.00
Fat heifers, good to choice	5.25@6.75
Canners and cutters	1.85@3.10
Calves, common to choice heavy	1.75@5.00
Good to prime vealers	6.50@7.00
Feeding steers	4.00@5.65
Stock steers	3.00@5.00
Bulls	3.50@5.65

Cattle at six western markets, 36,100, against 29,600 a week ago, 31,000 a year ago, and 43,900 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 2,683,000, against 2,831,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Packers had the market almost entirely to themselves and they insisted upon prices being lowered 10@15c from the preceding day's level. Receipts of 27,000 head were not any larger than the preliminary car report had indicated, but there were nearly 8,000 hogs left over from Tuesday's market, and in the absence of outside competition salesmen had no alternative but to adjust values to packers' liking. A few loads of prime heavy hogs sold early in the day at prices which did not show the full depreciation, and tops for the day were placed at $7.42½, against $7.50 on Tuesday, but sales at this level were not numerous and the average price, at $7.20, compared to an average of $7.28 the day before.

The recession in values induced liberal buying by the smaller killers, but the usual leaders contented themselves with moderate droves and many hogs were left unsold at the finish. Shippers bought all of the heavyweight butcher hogs at from $7.37½@7.42½, taking the bulk of the medium weight lots at from $7.25@7.35 and buying choice light hogs at from $7.10@7.20. Packers bought mixed hogs at from $7.00@7.15, paying up to $7.20@7.35 for heavy packing grades. Pigs sold at a shade lower figures, but they met with a brisk inquiry at the decline. Strong weight pigs made $6.35@6.75, while the lightweights cleared at from $5.40@5.85. Quotations:

Bulk of sales	$7.00@7.25
Selected butchers	7.30@7.42½
Prime heavy shippers	7.30@7.40
Choice light	7.10@7.20
Medium to good light	6.85@7.00

Heavy packing	7.25@7.37½
Heavyweight pigs	6.50@6.80

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $7.20, against $7.28 Tuesday, $7.20 a week ago, $5.52 a year ago, and $6.46 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 87,500 hogs, against 90,100 a week ago, 92,200 a year ago, and 124,100 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 10,351,000, against 12,186,000 the same period in 1908.

Hog purchases for the day follow: Armour & Co., 3,600; Swift & Co., 3,000 Anglo-American, 2,500; Hammond, 2,600; Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, 3,000; Boore & Co., 1,000; Boyd-Lunham, 2,000; Morris & Co., 2,000; Miller & Hart, 500; Roberts & Oake, 550; Western Packing Co., 900; butchers, 1,000; shippers, 6,000; total, 28,550; left over, 6,500.

SHEEP.

Sheep and lambs sold at a decline of 10@15c. Big receipts and declining prices at outside points made local packers exceedingly bearish, and although arrivals here, at 11,000 head, were only about as expected, salesmen found it impossible to get the killers to bid more reasonable prices for the offerings. There was little competition from eastern shippers, but city butchers were on the market for supplies and buying by these operators was the only thing that kept the market from a complete collapse. The quality of the offerings was fairly desirable and a clearance was finally effected, although it was well along after noon before the last loads went over the scales.

City butchers paid from $8.05 to $8.25 for prime clipped lambs, but packers refused to bid more than $8.00 for stock, and when salesmen refused to accept this price they had to find an outsider to take their holdings or carry the stock over for later this week. Prime wool lambs had to be released at $9.05, against $9.15 for less desirable offerings on the preceding day. Sheep and yearlings made up but a small part of the arrivals, but this did not help the price basis any, and the bulk of the sales showed the full 10@15c depreciation. Two year old wethers sold at up to $6.75, but matured muttons had to go at from $6.35 to $6.40, with strings of wethers and ewes mixed at $6.50. Yearlings made $7.35@7.50. Quotations:

Clipped yearlings	6.60@7.50
Clipped ewes	4.75@6.25
Bucks and stags	3.50@5.25

Clipped lambs, choice	7.90@8.25
Clipped lambs, plain to good	6.25@7.75
Spring lambs	6.50@9.00

STOCKYARDS GOSSIP.

"The spring lamb crop is unusually early this year, and the lambs are coming good in weight and quality," said a buyer for a local packer. "This is sure to depress the market for yearling lambs, and I look for prices to go much lower in the next few days. Eastern markets are due for a big drop in prices and that will accelerate the downward course of values here."

There were not many spring lambs included in the day's receipts, but packers were worried, as they were advised of another big run of Tennessee springers at Louisville, some of which will find their way here before the end of the week.

The Farmers and Drovers' Journal's British cablegram quoted American beeves on the Liverpool market at 13½c, or steady with last Monday's figure, and ¼c higher than a week ago and a year ago.

Armour & Co. had 712 hogs in direct from St. Paul, while the Anglo-American company had 1,305 head and Hammond had 1,165 head in direct from Milwaukee.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Selling of September ribs and July lard by the Cudahy interests was again a factor in unsettling the provisions list and caused a sharp decline after a firm opening. On the break there was a fair investment demand, which caused a partial recovery. Prices for the day were 2½c lower to 5c higher for pork; unchanged to 2½c lower for ribs. The best buying was of lard, which is in a strong position from a cash standpoint. The cash trade was reported good. Liverpool closed unchanged to 6c higher for bacon, unchanged for hams, and 6d lower for lard. Western hog receipts were 85,000, against 83,500 a year ago. Local receipts were 28,000, with 21,000 expected today.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Firmness prevailed in the market for canned corn and peas. All of the cheap canned peas were said to have been absorbed and buyers found they had to pay higher prices for the standard brands. The firmness in the market for canned corn was due to the inability of the packers to find farmers who were willing to turn their fields to the growing of sweet corn while such high prices could be secured for the field variety. One packer said that he offered 20 per cent more money than a year ago without meeting with any satisfactory result with the producers.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Refiners who recently announced their willingness to shade prices on refined sugars withdrew their offers and held out for full market quotations. This had a strengthening influence on the general market and all offerings were more firmly held. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.14@5.24; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.17; standard powdered, $5.65; extra C, $4.85; canary, $4.65; chemically pure milk sugar, 19c per lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, May 19.—COFFEE—Spot quiet; Rio No. 7, 7¾@8c; Santos, No. 4, 8⅞@9c; mild quiet; Cordova, 9⅝@12⅝c. Futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points and was absolutely neglected during the early session, the decline being probably in sympathy with the French cables, which were unchanged to ¼c lower. Later there was some business and the partial loss was recovered on support from trade interests and scattered covering, with the market closing quiet, net unchanged. Sales were reported of 12,000 bags, including May at 7.15c, July at 6.60c, June at 5.90c, and March at 6c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, May 19.—High prices of cotton and wool were reflected in stronger values for men's wear lines for fall and more urgent inquiries for cotton yarns and staple cotton goods for immediate delivery. Steadily advancing values were having their effect on the demand for goods for later shipment, however, and retailers showed less willingness to anticipate future wants with a liberal hand. Business in jobbing houses continued of satisfactory volume and jobbers reported all branches of the trade in a healthy condition.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, May 19.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.65c; middling gulf, 11.90c; no sales. The market opened steady at a net advance of 1@7 points in response to higher cables than expected. Then the market became firm and active on covering and rebuying by bulls who had taken profits earlier in the week. Before the upward movement was checked May contracts had sold at 11.40c, July at 11.18c, October at 10.95c, and December at 11c, or 20@27 points net higher. The close was 3@4 points off from the lowest on the old crop months. Futures opened steadily and closed firm. Quotations:

REVIEW OF THE METAL TRADES.

Volume of Business Booked After Advance in Wire Proves to Be Heavy.

NEW YORK, May 19.—[Special.]—"The expected advance in the prices of wire came promptly, the volume of business booked at the cut rates having been heavy. Wire rods were restored to $29.00 for Bessemer, after having been at $27.00 for a brief period. The demand has been broadening in all finished lines, and the market is stiffening, a firmer tendency having developed even in fabricated structural material, in which very close figuring was being done. Cheering news comes from one great industry which has been suffering seriously for a long time.

"A multitude of moderate sized orders for structural material are being placed, and there is some large work still pending. Occasional fair car orders are also cropping up, the latest being 500 cars for the Chesapeake & Ohio road. Chicago mills are getting the bulk of the steel rail business. The latest sales include 10,000 tons for the Soo line and 5,000 tons for the Northern Pacific.

Demand for Products Active.

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—The Iron Trade Review will say tomorrow:

"The demand for finished products continues active, and pig iron is holding its own fairly well. There is not, however, a rush of orders for any kind of material such as to justify rapid advances in prices. A most gratifying feature of the recent improvement is the decision of some of the larger interests which recently reduced wages to reconsider their action and restore the old schedules. It is now regarded as certain that the United States Steel corporation will not reduce the wages of its 200,000 employés.

"Buying or iron ore at the recently affirmed prices has continued in a moderate way. The ore interests feel confident that they will be able to maintain the prices.

"Heavy buying of basic pig iron, especially in the east, where about 75,000 tons were contracted for, has been a prominent feature of the market. The leading malleable interest has also been a heavy buyer, and the leading pump interest, which recently purchased, has sent out new inquiries."

QUICK PROFITS IN REALTY.

Two Sales Show Gains in South Michigan Avenue Deals.

ACQUIRES ST. MARK'S CHURCH

J. T. Farrell Will Build on Site of State Street Landmark.

Evidence of how some operators have been making money in the present movement in south Michigan avenue property was furnished by two transactions, one announced and the other filed for record yesterday.

J. Harry Selz of Selz, Schwab & Co., who a few days ago acquired through Albert L. Strauss the old McVicker homestead, at 1842 Michigan avenue, 55x170 feet, with two story brick dwelling, for $60,500, or at the rate of $1,100 a front foot, has just sold the same through Mr. Strauss to Walter D. Oliver of Oliver & Co and James O. Heyworth for $66,000, or at the rate of $1,200 a front foot, taking a profit of $5,500.

Record was made of the purchase by William R. Linn from John G. Underhill of the property in Michigan avenue, 233 feet south of Eighteenth street, 67x158 feet, west front, for $80,000, at the rate of nearly $1,200 a front foot. Oliver & Co. represented Mr. Linn and Farnham, Willoughby & Co. Mr. Underhill. Only a few days ago Mr. Underhill purchased the property for about $69,000, taking a profit of $11,000.

Oliver Gets Building Site.

Walter D. Oliver acquired from the heirs of Mary T. Mackenzie 25x168 feet in Michigan avenue, 140 feet south of Eighteenth street, for $29,250. Mr. Oliver owns the twenty-five feet adjoining. He will erect a modern business building.

The Illinois Smoked Meat company, which has been occupying 2710 Poplar avenue under a lease, has purchased the same from Robert A. Bower for $50,000. The property is 100 feet southeast of Archer avenue, with ground dimensions of 304¼x82¾ feet, improved with three story building.

An interesting deal in west side property is the purchase by B. Weinstein, a jeweler, from N. Siegan of 538-540 South Halsted street, improved with three story buildings, for $35,000. Waiss & Co. were the brokers.

The old St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal church, a State street landmark, 128 feet north of Forty-seventh street, a frame structure on a lot 50x161 feet, west front, has been purchased by John T. Farrell for $8,000. It is planned to tear it down and put up a business building.

Ald. Merriam Buys House.

Ald. Charles E. Merriam has for a nominal consideration purchased from Robert Herrick the residence property in Lexington avenue, 156 feet north of Sixty-first street, 18x174 feet, west front.

Oliver & Co. purchased from Charles W. Hinkley, treasurer of the Soper Lumber company, the northeast corner of Indiana avenue and Twenty-sixth street, 125x50 feet, with frame improvements, for $20,000.

Further evidence of the cheapening money market was furnished by two 4 per cent loans filed for record. The Scottish Provident association extended a loan of £60,000 sterling to Owen F. Aldis and others, trustees, secured by the south section of the Monadnock building at the northwest corner of Dearborn and Van Buren streets, covering 90x66 feet.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of New York made a loan of $40,000, five years, at 4 per cent, to the estate of Archibald J. McBean and others, secured by 161 Clark street, 25½x90 feet.

BUSINESS PERSONALS.

KNOW THYSELF. THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The great questions of life are quickly solved, failure turned to success, sorrow to joy, and want to affluence by possessing and calling into use the power to know one's self.

Every one should ask one's self, is there a force or power within me which I have not properly developed and which I can and should make use of for my own good? This power or knowledge, whether intuitive or acquired, unfolds, reveals, opens, and illumines the path which, if followed, will surely lead its possessor into happiness, success, and full fruition of life's purpose.

MARGARET GRAHAM

is a well famed teacher of the art of self-inquiry, self-revelation, and self-acquisition of the great purposes and hoped for objects of the twofold world in which we live.

REAL ESTATE—FARM LANDS.

FOR SALE—THE CADILLAC TRACT.
Within and adjoining the City of Cadillac, is the one best buy in Michigan lands. The soil, climate, rainfall, and natural advantages are exceptionally fine for fruit, stock, and diversified farming, but the superior railway facilities, the dependable and high priced home markets, the good hard roads, the fine schools, churches, and up to date benefits of modern civilization, place my proposition quite in a class by itself.
I own upwards of 15,000 acres, distant one-half to six miles from the City of Cadillac, population over 10,000 live ones, the industrial metropolis of central western Michigan. Cadillac has everything you ought to have, from 32 mills and factories to 14 churches of various denominations. There is generally plenty of work for my settlers who wish to turn an honest penny at times when not employed in developing their properties. Another feature in addition to these advantages [offered by no other dealer in Michigan lands, so far as I know] is that I have placed many thousand acres of my lands under contract to have stumps and roots removed. When this is done they are ready for the plow. I will sell you lands under this stump removing contract at just as low a figure and on as easy terms as others are selling you raw lands from which you will have to remove the stumps yourself. Furthermore, if you wish to remove stumps from your own land, the stump removing contract stipulates that you will be paid $4 per cord for same; as the stumps and roots generally run over six cords per acre—sometimes ten cords—you can see the money to be made. This means just what it says. Investigate. The stumps and roots are used for the manufacture of turpentine, resin, and by products in a factory already erected and operating for this purpose.
It will pay you to write for my booklets, which will give you complete and accurate information. Every word of the descriptive matter I send you is from my own pen, which means that I hold myself personally responsible for the integrity of each statement I make. And remember, brother, your money back if not as represented. Write today to

Owner of the Cadillac Tract,
Drawer G1, Cadillac, Mich.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
If you are interested in land LISTEN. We have some propositions in the famous Jim River Valley of South Dakota that cannot be duplicated any place on the map. It will pay you to investigate the rapid developments of that great state. She has for the last twelve years produced more new wealth per capita than any state in the union. Her climate is bright, healthful, and invigorating; the average rainfall east of the Missouri river is 21 inches, 17 inches of this falls in the five growing months. For the last three years the value of her corn crop has exceeded the value of the wheat crop by over three million dollars. Send for our free booklet or call at our office, 1307 Fort Dearborn Bldg.

REAL ESTATE—FRUIT LANDS.

FOR SALE—
COLORADO FRUIT LANDS.
NUTSHELL ARGUMENTS.
XVI.
My fruit lands are situated near Palisade, Colo., where developed orchards have sold up to $3,000 and $4,000 an acre, based on their productive returns.
The main line of the D. & R. G. and the Colorado Midland railroads cross my property and I have arranged to have a station on it. There are ten through passenger trains and about twenty freights in daily service. The journey from Chicago is made in less than 48 hours; round trip rates of $39 are in force two days each month. These are material advantages to nonresident investors, who may wish to visit their orchards while having them developed. There is also an advantage in freight rates of 15 to 25 per cent over points more remote.
The Grand River flows through my front yard. It is the largest river in Colorado and can meet all demands for irrigation for all time. I have made my filing for all the water that my lands can possibly require.
The soil is a rich, sandy loam, ideal for fruit culture. Drainage, slope, and natural protection are also right.
Fruits are peaches, apples, pears, cherries, apricots, grapes, and small fruits.
The climate is mild in winter, without disagreeable winds, and delightful in summer. The cool nights impart flavor and keeping qualities to the fruit and are destructive to insect life. The dry atmosphere also makes spraying effectual.
An orchard increases in value about $200 an acre each year while growing. When it comes into bearing the returns are $500 to $1,000 an acre each season. Peaches begin to bear the third year and apples the fifth year.
The intending purchaser is losing $200 an acre each year that he delays action. One acre of developed orchard will support a child for life; five acres will support a family, beating most salaries; ten acres will afford independence.
I will develop orchards for nonresidents in the most efficient manner. My references will be found conclusive.
I have for sale a first mortgage loan for $1,000, bearing 8%, on lands undergoing improvement, where a cash payment of over 50% was made at purchase. This is the current rate of interest here. It will be found a safe investment and will yield a nice return.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

WILLIAM HALL, BROKER—A STATEMENT.

William Hall, a broker in the Rector Building, has published and is circulating a pamphlet, on the front page of which is a picture of himself and a heading, "Extract from Chicago Sunday Tribune, June 4, 1905," the "extract" being as follows:

"Chicago's most successful broker, Mr. William Hall, President of the William Hall Company, with offices on the fourth floor of the Hartford Building, 140 Dearborn-st., as was generally predicted, has made a wonderful record in investment circles. Mr. Hall commenced business five years ago in a small office at 167 Dearborn-st., and through good financiering, excellent judgment, and close attention to business, has established the largest brokerage firm in Chicago for sale and purchase of any and all legitimate businesses.

"Mr. Hall's success is due largely to the high grade investments and property handled through his office, and by fulfilling every representation made by him to the investing public. As a rule, the advertiser, or the one seeking to dispose of their property, almost invariably exaggerate their offers, and it is for these reasons the services of a strictly responsible and experienced investment broker is essential. The success which Mr. Hall has achieved in this field proves the necessity of a medium between the prospective investor and the party who wishes to secure a partner or dispose of their business or invest their money in any legitimate enterprise.

"Mr. Hall is in constant communication with investors seeking to purchase any and all kinds of legitimate business, and is thus able to render the most valuable services to both in the capacity of a medium.

"The William Hall Co. are the heaviest advertisers in the U. S. Their advertisements appear regularly in all the leading papers throughout the country. Consequently their facilities for disposing of any and all legitimate businesses is practically unlimited.

"Mr. Hall's integrity and method of operation are indorsed by the highest commercial authorities. The testimony of hundreds of gratified investors proves the valuable services rendered by him through his office and entitles him to the implicit confidence of the investing public."

This "extract," which a reader might naturally suppose from the circular to have been taken from the news or editorial columns of "The Tribune," as a matter of fact is the substance of a paid advertisement which appeared in "The Tribune." The advertisement itself is so worded and its heading is so framed as to lead a reader to the almost inevitable belief that the words of the advertisement are those of "The Tribune."

Of course, nothing is farther from the fact. "The Tribune" of its own volition never has printed a word eulogistic of Mr. Hall and his business methods. His attention has been called to the circular and the erroneous impression it seeks to convey. Mr. Hall has replied that no reason has been given him why he should not conduct his own business as he sees fit.

Mr. Hall's attitude being thus, "The Tribune" takes this method of informing the public of the facts in the case and to disclaim any desire or intention or in any way vouching for Mr. Hall's "integrity or method of operation."

"The Tribune" will be pleased to hear from any clients or customers of Mr. Hall who were led to believe the extract from "The Tribune" was an editorial expression by "The Tribune" of the character and business standing of Mr Hall.

PAYMENTS TO SUIT.
We do a straight, legitimate loan business, dealing only with the BETTER CLASS OF MEN and WOMEN, and can afford to make the LOWEST and BEST TERMS. No "banking," "merchandising," "insurance" or other scheme tacked on to swell the cost to borrowers.
We state from the start just what a loan will cost and there are no notary's fees, charges for papers, or investigating, interest added or deducted, or other extras twisted in on customers when they come to the point of getting their money. They get the full amount they ask for, too.
While we prefer the large loans, we treat the applicant for a small loan with the same courtesy and consideration accorded those who borrow $500 or more.
Our facilities for dealing with the class we cater to are ideal. Our money is no better than that of others, but there's a difference; you'll see it. Others can imitate our "ads," but that is as far as they go. Private waiting and "talk" rooms.

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE—
YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and women employed—Business Men, too—we will give you the fairest rate in Chicago. LADIES of reputable family may easily borrow on their own name and promise. We will give any new patron the same consideration we have given a host of honorable borrowers of quick and emergency money in our eleven years of the people's banking business, which has culminated in our now occupying new quarters, not only the most commodious but considerately convenient for those desiring to transact a personal business. Close to State-st. stores—heart of business district. We have no "insurance" or "Mercantile connection" or other device or deceit. But straightforward and courteously we offer our services and just terms to any honorable person, with or without security. Tel. Central 7054, or call, private offices [also ladies' room], in connection with banking room, at Seventh Floor, 122 Monroe-st., cor. Clark. WEST & COMPANY.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or incomes from other sources], who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from Loop district] and my being the president of a large manufacturing, wholesale, vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that an exorbitant interest for any time is burdensome. My average rate, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care The Englewood Co., 538-540 E. 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAVE A CHANCE.

Bishop McDowell at Terre Haute Conference Shows Importance of Work.

EX-GOV. HANLY HONORED.

Former Indiana Executive Tells of Spread of Prohibition in the Nation.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Terre Haute, Ind., May 19.—[Special.]—"The battleship is not the symbol of modern civilization. It is a mistake to say that Theodore Roosevelt made it so. He did not do it, and could not do it if he would. It is the child that is the symbol of modern civilization."

With these words Bishop W. F. McDowell, president of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church, opened a five day session of the national organization in the Centenary Methodist church of this city.

"The child is not only the church's greatest opportunity, but it is the church's greatest task," he said. "Anybody can preach to adults. The power I covet is the power to hold a thousand boys under 15 years of age and lead them to right living."

Ex-Gov. Hanly Is Given Salute.

J. Frank Hanly, ex-governor of Indiana, gave the address of welcome in behalf of the state. He was introduced as the most hated and best loved man in Indiana. The delegates stood and gave him a Chautauqua salute.

"When I became governor of Indiana," he said, "there were only 20,000 people living in prohibition territory; now there are two and one-fourth millions. Today there are sixty-seven counties in this state without saloons, and tomorrow there will be more."

Mr. Hanly declared that the trained child is the best defense a nation can have.

Other addresses were made by George W. Faris, who represented the city of Terre Haute; the Rev. Dr. Joshua Stansfield of Indianapolis, who spoke in behalf of Indiana Methodism; and the Rev. Dr. David G. Downey, who spoke for the work of the board of Sunday schools.

The meeting is the first anniversary of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist church. The largest number of delegates are from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, New York, and the New England states. Delegates are also present from the far west and northwest. The board of Sunday schools was organized one year ago by the general conference of the denomination which met in Baltimore.

Chicago Gets National Headquarters.

There was strong competition among various cities, and especially Baltimore and Chicago, to obtain the location of the national headquarters, and Chicago secured the prize.

The Rev. Dr. David G. Downey is corresponding secretary and chief executive officer. Bishop W. F. McDowell is president of the board. Dr. Downey said: "The income of the society for the first year will be $100,000. The board supervises the work of 34,000 Sunday schools in which there are 350,000 Sunday school teachers and 3,500,000 Sunday school scholars.

In the last year the board has sent out nineteen new Sunday school organizers to work in needy fields, and has made grant of $10,000 to assist the missionaries in the orient to publish Sunday school literature in the various native languages.

Sunday School Institutes Planned.

Following the close of the national gathering at Terre Haute, the Rev. Dr. Downey, the Rev. Edgar Blake, Mrs. A. A. Lamereaux of Chicago, and the Rev. Dr. E. S. Lewis of New York will hold a series of local Sunday school institutes. The cities which will be visited are Fargo, Butte, Boise, Cheyenne, Spokane, Seattle, and Portland.

Among the speakers tomorrow will be Prof. D. A. Hayes of Evanston, the Rev. Dr. Luther Freeman, Kansas City, Mo.; the Rev. Dr. M. S. Littlefield, Brooklyn; Prof. S. L. Beiler, Boston; the Rev. Dr. G. P. Eckman, New York, and President F. J. McConnell of De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind.

Bishop Henry Spellmeyer of St. Louis makes the address Saturday evening.

INMATES OF POORHOUSE ELOPE.

Aged Couple Steal Away from Retreat at Waterloo, Ia.—Woman Thinks Herself a Girl.

Waterloo, Ia., May 19.—Mattie Corliss, 54 years old, an inmate of the poorhouse for forty-one years, eloped with Charles Dale, aged 50, an ex-convict who also was an inmate of the poorhouse. The woman has no conception of time, believing she still is a girl.

LA SALLE THEATER WARNED

Must Comply with Building Ordinance or Lose Its License.

ALL OTHERS ARE APPROVED.

City Is Preparing to Enforce Rules Regulating Signboards.

All of Chicago's theaters except the La Salle have complied wtih the building regulations and will be licensed for the current year with the approval of the city building department.

This was the statement made last night by Chief Inspector Kelling of the theater squad at the close of an inspection of all the playhouses in the city. Licenses were approved for the 450 nickel theaters now operating.

Building Commissioner Campbell, upon receiving the reports of his inspectors, ordered the manager of the La Salle theater to remove a considerable amount of inflammable wooden structures behind the proscenium arch and to cut two additional exits from the stage region. Chief Horan condemned some of the provisions of the La Salle for fighting fire. If the changes are not made by June 4 Commissioner Campbell said he would recommend the closing of the theater.

The building department is preparing to enforce the billboard ordinance if the finding of Master in Chancery Rogers, favorable to the city, is sustained by the court. Out of 1,067 signboards owned by the Gunning system permits for only 450 are on record.

Rules Regulating Signboards.

The important provisions of the billboard ordinance are:

The facing on billboards within the fire limits, or close to frame buildings, must be of incombustible material.

Boards must be at least five feet above the ground level, and not more than seventeen feet high.

Boards on roofs must be elevated from one to three feet above the roof level, cannot exceed ten feet in height, and must not occupy the entire width. They are prohibited on buildings more than two stories high.

Owner's name must appear on each board.

License fee shall be $2 for each board, and penalties for violating the ordinance vary from $25 to $100 for each board.

Wooden signboards not larger than twelve square feet which are flat against buildings and along railroad tracks are exempt.

City Sells $1,500,000 Bonds.

City bonds for $1,500,000 bearing 4 per cent interest were sold to the First Trust and Savings bank. The price paid was par and a premium of $11,550, giving the city a rate of 100.77 per cent on the bonds.

Controller Walter H. Wilson in a statement said that the bonds are intended for permanent improvements. Fire engine houses are to be constructed and general contractors' vouchers to be met.

EXTENDING STREET CAR LINE TO CONNECT WITH LAKE PIER.

Part of Harbor Scheme Proposed to the City by James A. Pugh and His Associates.

Construction of an extension of the Indiana street car line from North State street to the lake was begun yesterday by the Chicago Railways company. The extended line will tap the heart of the factory and warehouse district north of the river's mouth. It is intended also to connect with a loop on the upper deck of the north pier of the Pugh Terminal Warehouse company, which will be reserved for lake passenger traffic. In this way passengers will be enabled to step directly from the street car to the gangplank of a steamer.

It became known during the day that the Chicago Lighterage company, which on March 24 last transferred its rights and property to James A. Pugh and his associates, was organized by S. C. Scotten and Joseph G. Snydacker out of the old Howard Transportation company. Ald. Milton J. Foreman, who is attorney for Scotten & Snydacker, incorporated the concern, together with his partner, John W. Beckwith, on July 19, 1907.

It appears, however, that the alderman's only connection with the company was as an attorney handling the incorporation, and he had nothing further to do with the concern, according to Mr. Scotten. The stub end street leases on the lake shore were obtained since the Pugh interests took over the business and more than a year after Ald. Foreman had completed his work for the company.

University Honors Dr. Robinson.

The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Dr. Byron Robinson, 479 Jackson boulevard, the gynecologist, and a bust of him unveiled at the University of Valparaiso, at Valparaiso, Ind., on Tuesday.
